ACT NO XVI OF 1927

[PASSED BY THE INDIAN LEGISLATURE]

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 21st September 1927)

An Act to consolidate the law relating to forests the transit of forest produce and the duty leviable on timber and other forest produce

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate the law relating to forests, the transit of forest produce and the duty leviable on timber and other forest produce It is hereby enacted as follows —

Notes — The Forest Act, 1927, is a consolidation of the law relating to forests, the transit of forest produce and the duty leviable on timber and other forest produce. It is hereby enacted as follows —

CHAPTER I

PRELIMINARY

Short title and extent 1 (1) This Act may be called the Indian Forest Act, 1927

(2) It extends to Bombay, Bengal Bihar and Orissa the United Provinces the Punjab the Central Provinces and the North West-Frontier Province (except the District of Hazara)

(3) The [Provincial Government]* of any other province may by notification in the [official Gazette]* extend this Act to the whole or any specified part of the province

Notes — The only other point which calls for further notice is the extent clause. The original Act extended to the province of Assam but by Regulation VII of 1891 the Indian Forest Act 1878 was repealed as far as it relates to Assam. This section accordingly omits Assam from the extent clause — Table Statement of Objects and Reasons

History of the Forest law in India — The Forest Act, 1927, is a consolidation of the law relating to forests, the transit of forest produce and the duty leviable on timber and other forest produce. It is hereby enacted as follows —

CHAPTER II

OF RESERVED FORESTS

3 The [Provincial Government]* may constitute any forest-land or waste-land which is the property of Government, or over which the Government has proprietary rights or to the whole or any part of the forest-produce of which the Government is entitled a reserved forest in manner hereinafter provided

Reserved forest—Where the land is a part of the permanently settled estate it is a property and not the Government property within the meaning of the Forest Act and therefore cannot legally be the subject of reservation under Chapter II of the Act Secretary of State v Abdul Rahman 1923 Cal 377 76 I C 491

Notes—This Chapter lays down provisions for ascertaining securing and commuting the rights of private persons in any forest which is deemed necessary to reserve—Statement Of Objects and Reasons of Act VIII of 1878 This section does not make the exercise of the power conferred dependent on the opinion or decision of the Local Government but upon a question of fact If the land actually fulfills that condition the Government can exercise the powers but not otherwise 29 B 450

4 (1) Whenever it has been decided to constitute any land a reserved forest, the [Provincial Government]* shall issue a notification in the [official Gazette]*—

(a) declaring that it has been decided to constitute such land a reserved forest

(b) specifying as nearly as possible, the situation and limits of such land and

(c) appointing an officer hereinafter called "the Forest Settlement-officer" to inquire into and determine the existence, nature and extent of any rights alleged to exist in favour of any person in or over any land comprised within such limits, or in or over any forest-produce, and to deal with the same as provided in this Chapter.

Explanation—For the purpose of clause (b), it shall be sufficient to describe the limits of the forest by roads rivers, ridges or other well-known or readily intelligible boundaries

(2) The officer appointed under clause (c) of sub section (1) shall ordinarily be a person not holding any forest-office except that of Forest Settlement-officer

(3) Nothing in this section shall prevent the [Provincial Government]* from appointing any number of officers not exceeding three not more than one of whom shall be a person holding any forest-office except as aforesaid, to perform the duties of a Forest Settlement-officer under this Act

Notes—In order to avoid the delay and expense of an elaborate preliminary demarcation which was objected to in many quarters we have provided (section 4) that the notification of the proposal to constitute a reserved forest may be in general terms but have indicated more clearly (section 12) [now see section 20] that the final demarcation must be precise We have made more clear (section 4) the intention that the Forest Settlement-officer should not except under very exceptional circumstances be a Forest officer

* The words within brackets have been substituted by G I Order of 1937.

the difference to representations from British Burma and North Western Province we have provided an option of entrusting the forest settlement to two or three officers instead of one — Statement of Objects and Reasons to Act VII of 1878 If the land actually fulfils the condition laid down in section 3 the Government can exercise the powers but not otherwise The test is, not what appears to the Local Government but what is the actual fact and as the enabling section gives the Local Government no power to decide that fact it can only be decided by recourse to the Court which have authority finally to decide on question of law and fact wherever their jurisdiction is not expressly barred by the legislation The power in section 4 of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878), to appoint an officer to enquire and determine as to rights is limited to land which it is proposed to constitute reserved forest and 'to constitute reserved forest', is a phrase defined in section 3 And under that definition the constitution of a reserved forest connotes as the object forest or waste land only The specified character of the land is an essential part of the Act defined According to the definition the phrase 'to constitute a reserved forest' means to convert land by notification from forest or waste The land therefore to which a proposal under section 4 relates must be forest or waste land and it is only in respect of such land that an officer appointed has power to enquire and determine Dalrand v Ram Chandra 29 B 480=7 Bom L R 496

5 After the issue of a notification under section 4, no right shall be acquired in or over the land comprised in such notification, except by succession or under a grant or contract in writing made or entered into by or [on behalf of the Crown]* or some person in whom such right was vested when the notification was issued, and no fresh clearings for cultivation or for any other purpose shall be made in such land except in accordance with rules as may be made by the [Provincial Government]* in this behalf

6 When a notification has been issued under section 4, the Forest Settlement-officer shall publish in the local vernacular in every town and village in the neighbourhood of the land comprised therein, a proclamation—

- (a) specifying as nearly as possible, the situation and limits of the proposed forest,
- (b) explaining the consequences which, as hereinafter provided, will ensue on the reservation of such forest, and
- (c) fixing a period of not less than three months from the date of such proclamation, and requiring every person claiming any right mentioned in section 4 or section 5 within such period either to present to the Forest Settlement-officer a written notice specifying or to appear before him and state, the nature of such right and the amount and particulars of the compensation (if any) claimed in respect thereof

Object— In order to meet the case of the wild tribes and illiterate persons who will in many instances be the possessors of rights over forest lands we have allowed in section 6 claims to be preferred orally to the Forest Settlement officer and made it obligatory on him to take such statement down in writing — Statement of Objects and Reasons of Act VII of 1878 This section refers to land which is of the description mentioned in section 3 that is proceedings taken in respect of such land 1923 Cal 377 The accused grazed the cattle in certain waste land which was not reserved within section 20 of the Forest Act in contravention of a notification by Government prohibiting the public from grazing cattle there as it was intended to constitute the lands as forest reserve. The grass in the land was found to have been in the possession of the Government who were in the habit of selling the grass grown on lands at fixed price. It was also found that the accused knew that by so grazing they would cause wrongful loss to Government. Held that the accused was guilty of an offence under section 476 of the Penal Code. In re Gurrani Siddiqui, 1 Weir, 492.

7. The Forest Settlement-officer shall take down in writing all statements made under section 6, and shall at some convenient place inquire into all claims duly preferred under that section, and the existence of any rights mentioned in section 4 or section 5 and not claimed under section 6 so far as the same may be ascertainable from the records of Government and the evidence of any persons likely to be acquainted with the same.

is of the description mentioned in section 3, that is the proceeding taken in respect of such land. Secretary of State v. Abdul Pahaman 1923 Cal 377.

8. For the purpose of such inquiry, the Forest Settlement-officer may exercise the following powers, that is say —

(a) power to enter, by himself or any officer authorised by him for the purpose, upon any land, and to survey, demarcate and make a map of the same, and

(b) the powers of a Civil Court in the trial of suits

9 Rights in respect of which no claim has been preferred under section 6, and of the existence of which no knowledge has been acquired by inquiry under section 7, shall be extinguished, unless, before the notification under section 20 is published, the person claiming them satisfies the Forest Settlement-officer that he had sufficient cause for not preferring such claim within the period fixed under section 6.

10 (1) In the case of a claim relating to the practice of shifting cultivation, the Forest Settlement-officer shall record a statement setting forth the particulars of the claim and of any local rule or order under which the practice is allowed or regulated, and submit the statement to the [Provincial Government],* together with his opinion as to whether the practice should be permitted or prohibited wholly or in part

Treatment of claims relating to practice of shifting cultivation

* The words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

(2) On receipt of the statement and opinion, the [Provincial Government]* may make an order permitting or prohibiting the practice wholly or in part

(3) If such practice is permitted wholly or in part, the Forest Settlement-officer may arrange for its exercise—

(a) by altering the limits of the land under settlement so as to exclude land of sufficient extent of a suitable kind, and in a locality reasonably convenient for the purposes of the claimants, or

(b) by causing certain portions of the land under settlement to be separately demarcated and giving permission to the claimants to practice shifting cultivation therein under such conditions as he may prescribe

(4) All arrangements made under sub-section (3) shall be subject to the previous sanction of the [Provincial Government].*

(5) The practice of shifting cultivation shall in all cases be deemed a privilege subject to control, restriction and abolition by the [Provincial Government]*

N B —This section corresponds to section 9A of the old Act

Notes — In section 10 we have made clear the alternative course which may be pursued in the case of claims to or over land and have also provided for compensation being given wholly or partly in land where the parties prefer land to money"—Report of the Select Committee

11 (1) In the case of a claim to a right in or over any land other than a right of way or right of pasture, or a right to forest-produce or a water-course, the Forest Settlement-officer shall pass an order admitting or rejecting the same in whole or in part.

(2) If such claim is admitted in whole or in part, the Forest Settlement-officer shall either—

(i) exclude such lands from the limits of the proposed forest, or

(ii) come to an agreement with the owner thereof for the surrender of his rights, or

(iii) proceed to acquire such land in the manner provided by the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 †

(3) For the purpose of so acquiring such land—

(a) the Forest Settlement-officer shall be deemed to be a Collector proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, †

(b) the claimant shall be deemed to be a person interested and appearing before him in pursuance of a notice given under section 9 of that Act,

(c) the provisions of the preceding sections of that Act shall be deemed to have been complied with, and

(d) the Collector, with the consent of the claimant, or the Court, with the consent of both parties, may award compensation in land, or partly in land and partly in money

N B —The section corresponds to section 10 of the old Act

Notes — "When the land is forest or waste, the Forest officer, no doubt, has power to enquire into and determine as to rights of way or pasture, forest produce or water courses, and he may admit or reject such claims with finality because he is dealing with land in respect of which he has been duly delegated jurisdiction. It is possible there may be other rights in or over land which may render it desirable for Government to acquire full owner ship and for such case section 10 of the Indian Forest Act, (=this section) provides without, however, extending the application of the section to any land incapable of constituting as reserved forest. Had such officer or Government similar power in respect of all lands whether forest or waste or not, then we think it is evident that section 83 of the Indian Forest Act (=section 84 of this Act) empowering Government to acquire any land whatsoever for the purpose of the Act under Land Acquisition Act would be superfluous. For section 10, (=this section) applies to all lands forest or waste or not the power given by section 83 (=section 84 of this Act) must already have been given. We would add that the provisions of section 9, extinguishing all claims not preferred within 3 months under section 6 or otherwise ascertained, could never have been intended, in our opinion to apply to rights for the ascertaining of which the Limitation Act provides a period of 12 years. 29 B 480-7 Bom L R 497 see also 12 M 105. The provisions of the Indian Forest Act VII of 1878 do not bar the jurisdiction of the Courts to decide whether the land in suit is or is not forest or waste-land. 29 B 480-7 Bom L R 496 see also 11 M 311.

12 In the case of a claim to rights of pasture or to forest-produce, the Forest Settlement-officer shall pass an order admitting or rejecting the same in whole or in part.

Order on claims to rights of pasture or to forest produce

Notes—From section 12 the provisions contained in section 10 of the Bill as introduced for the rejection of rights which were not habitually exercised by the claimants at the time of the notification under section 4 and which were not required for the beneficial use of the land or premises of the person claiming the same, have been omitted. —Report of the Select Committee

Record to be made by Forest Settlement officer

13 The Forest Settlement-officer, when passing any order under section 12, shall record, so far as may be practicable,—

(a) the name, father's name, caste, residence and occupation of the person claiming the right and

(b) the designation, position and area of all fields or groups of fields (if any) and the designation and position of all buildings (if any) in respect of which the exercise of such rights is claimed

Notes—This section corresponds to section 12 of the old Act

14. If the Forest Settlement-officer admits in whole or in part any claim under section 12, he shall also record the extent to which the claim is so admitted, specifying the number and description of the cattle which the claimant is from time to time entitled to graze in the forest, the season during which such pasture is permitted, the quantity of timber and other forest-produce which he is from time to time authorised to take or receive and such other particulars as the case may require. He shall also record whether the timber or other forest-produce obtained by the exercise of the rights claimed may be sold or bartered

Notes—This section corresponds to section 13 of the old Act. 15. (1) After making such record the Forest Settlement-officer shall, to the best of his ability, and having due regard to the maintenance of reserved forest in respect of which the claim is made, pass such order as will ensure the continued exercise of the rights so admitted.

Exercise of rights admitted

(2) For this purpose the Forest Settlement-officer may—

(a) set out some other forest-tract of sufficient extent, and in a locality reasonably convenient, for the purposes of such claimants, and record an order conferring upon them a right of pasture or to forest produce (as the case may be) to the extent so admitted, or

(b) so alter the limits of the proposed forest as to exclude forest-land of sufficient extent, and in a locality reasonably convenient, for the purposes of the claimants, or

(c) record an order, continuing to such claimants a right of pasture or to forest-produce, as the case may be, to the extent so admitted, at such seasons, within such portions of the proposed forest, and under such rules, as may be made in this behalf by the [Provincial Government]*

16 In case the Forest Settlement-officer finds it impossible, having due regard to the maintenance of the reserved forest, to make such settlement under section 15 as shall ensure the continued exercise of the said rights to the extent so admitted, he shall subject to such rules as the [Provincial Government]* may make in this behalf, commute such rights by the payment to such persons of a sum of money in lieu thereof, or by the grant of land, or in such other manner as he thinks fit

Notes—This section corresponds to section 15 of the old Act. This power is given to the Forest Settlement officer for the preservation of the reserved forest

17. Any person who has made a claim under this Act, or any Forest-officer or other person generally or specially empowered by the [Provincial Government]* in this behalf, may, within three months from the date of the order passed on such claim by the Forest Settlement-officer under section 11, section 12 section 15 or section 16 present an appeal from such order to such officer of the Revenue Department, of rank not lower than that of a Collector as the [Provincial Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]*, appoint to hear appeals from such orders :

(2) If the appeal be to an officer appointed under section 17, it shall be heard in the manner prescribed for the time being for the hearing of appeals in matters relating to land-revenue.

(3) If the appeal be to the Forest Court, the Court shall fix a day and a convenient place in the neighbourhood of the proposed forest for hearing the appeal, and shall give notice thereof to the parties, and shall hear such appeal accordingly.

(4) The order passed on the appeal by such officer or Court, or by the majority of the members of such Court, as the case may be, shall, subject only to revision by the [Provincial Government]*, be final.

Notes—This section corresponds to section 17 of the old Act. This section lays down the procedure to be adopted in filing an appeal, hearing it and in delivering the judgment of the appellate Court.

19. The [Provincial Government]*, or any person who has made a claim under this Act, may appoint any person to appear, plead and act on its or his behalf before the Forest Settlement-officer, or the appellate officer or Court, in the course of any inquiry or appeal under this Act.

Notes—This section corresponds to section 18 of the old Act. By this section the claimants may, if they think fit, appoint pleaders to act on their behalf.

Notification declaring forest reserved

20 (1) When the following events have occurred, namely—

(a) the period fixed under section 6 for preferring claims has elapsed, and all claims, if any made under that section or section 9 have been disposed of by the Forest Settlement officer,

(b) if any such claims have been made, the period limited by section 17 for appealing from the orders passed on such claims has elapsed, and all appeals (if any) presented within such period have been disposed of by the appellate officer or Court, and

(c) all lands (if any) to be included in the proposed forest, which the Forest Settlement-officer has, under section 11, elected to acquire under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894† have become vested in the Government under section 16 of that Act, the [Provincial Government]* shall publish a notification in the [official Gazette],* specifying definitely according to boundary-marks erected or otherwise, the limits of the forest which is to be reserved, and declaring the same to be reserved from a date fixed by the notification.

(2) From the date so fixed such forest shall be deemed to be a reserved forest.

OF THE CONTROL OVER FORESTS AND LANDS NOT BEING THE PROPERTY OF GOVERNMENT

Protection of forests for special purposes

35 (1) The [Provincial Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette],* regulate or prohibit in any forest or waste-land—

- (a) the breaking up or clearing of land for cultivation,
- (b) the pasturing of cattle, or
- (c) the firing or clearing of the vegetation, when such regulation or prohibition appears necessary for any of the following purposes —

(i) for protection against storms, winds, rolling stones, floods and avalanches ,

(ii) for the preservation of the soil on the ridges and slopes and in the valleys of hilly tracts, the prevention of landslips or of the formation of ravines and torrents, or the protection of land against erosion, or the deposit thereon of sand, stones or gravel ,

(iii) for the maintenance of a water-supply in springs, rivers and tanks ,

(iv) for the protection of roads, bridges, railways and other lines of communication ,

(v) for the preservation of the public health

(2) The [Provincial Government]* may, for any such purpose, construct at its own expense, in or upon any forest or waste-land, such work as it thinks fit

(3) No notification shall be made under sub-section (1) nor shall any work be begun under sub-section (2), until after the issue of a notice to the owner of such forest or land calling on him to show cause, within a reasonable period to be specified in such notice, why such notification should not be made or work constructed, as the case may be, and until his objections, if any, and any evidence he may produce in support of the same, have been heard by an officer duly appointed in that behalf and have been considered by the [Provincial Government] *

OF THE DUTY ON TIMBER AND OTHER FOREST PRODUCE.

39 (1) The [Central Government]† may levy a duty in such manner at such places and at such rates as it may declare by notification in the [official Gazette]† on all timber or other forest produce —

(a) which is produced in British India, and in respect of which [the Crown]† has any right

(b) which is brought from any place outside British India ‡

* I of 1894

† The words within brackets have been substituted by G I Order of 1937

‡ The proviso after this repealed by G I Order of 1927 has been omitted

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power such rules may—

(a) prescribe the routes by which alone timber or other forest-produce may be imported, exported or moved into, from or within [the Province], *

(b) prohibit the import or export or moving of such timber or other produce without a pass from an officer duly authorised to issue the same, or otherwise than in accordance with the conditions of such pass,

(c) provide for the issue, production and return of such passes and for the payment of fees therefor,

(d) provide for the stoppage, reporting, examination and marking of timber or other forest-produce in transit, in respect of which there is reason to believe that any money is payable to [the Crown]* on account of the price thereof or on account of any duty, fee, royalty or charge due thereon, or, to which it is desirable for the purposes of this Act to affix a mark,

The object of the Act is regulation and not confiscation. The title to collect "drift and stranded timber" given to the Government by the Act is coupled with and dependent upon, the duty of giving notice to the public in order that the true owner, whether he be a person from whom it has escaped or the owner of a julkur, or however he may be entitled, may claim such timber in the manner and within the time prescribed by the Act. In cases where the Government neglects to follow the procedure prescribed by the Act, and treats the timber as its own property, it, in the event of its being found that the property does not belong to it, is in no better position than an off-trespasser. The Act calls for a notice of ownership of the 46 Public notice shall from time to time be given by the Forest-officer of timber collected under section 45. Such notice shall contain a description of the timber, and shall require any person claiming the same to present to such officer, within a period not less than two months from the date of such notice, a written statement of such claim.

47 (1) When any such statement is presented as aforesaid, the Forest-officer may, after making such inquiry as he thinks fit, either reject the claim after recording his reasons for so doing, or deliver the timber to the claimant.

(2) if such timber is claimed by more than one person, the Forest-officer may either deliver the same to any of such persons whom he deemed entitled thereto, or may refer the claimants to the Civil Court, and retain the timber pending the receipt of an order from any such Court for its disposal.

[Crown]* and its officers not liable for damage to such timber

50 No person shall be entitled to recover possession of any timber collected or delivered as aforesaid until he has paid to the Forest officer or other person entitled to receive it such sum on account thereof as may be due under any rule made under section 51

Payment to be made by claimant before timber is delivered to him

Power to make rules and prescribe penalties

51 (1) The [Provincial Government]* may make rules to regulate the following matters namely —

(a) the salving, collection and disposal of all timber mentioned in section 45,

(b) the use and registration of boats used in salving and collecting timber,

(c) the amounts to be paid for salving collecting, moving, storing or disposing of such timber, and

(d) the use and registration of hammers and other instruments to be used for marking such timber

(2) The [Provincial Government]* may prescribe, as penalties for the contravention of any rules made under this section, imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or both

(44 & 45 VICT., C. 69)

An Act to amend the law with respect to Fugitive Offenders in Her Majesty's Dominions, and for other purposes connected with the Trial of Offenders

[27th August, 1881]

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows (that is to say) —

Short title

1 This Act may be cited as the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881

RETURN OF FUGITIVES

2 Where a person accused of having committed an offence (to which this part of this Act applies) in one part of Her Majesty's dominions has left that part, such person (in this Act referred to as a fugitive from that part) if found in another part of Her Majesty's dominions shall be liable to be apprehended and returned in manner provided by this Act to the part from which he is a fugitive

A fugitive may be so apprehended under an endorsed warrant or a provisional warrant

3 Where a warrant has been issued in one part of Her Majesty's dominions for the apprehension of a fugitive from that part, any of the following authorities in another part of Her Majesty's dominions in or on the way to which the fugitive is or is supposed to be, (that is to say) :—

- (1) a Judge of a superior Court in such part,
- (2) in the United Kingdom a Secretary of Magistrates of the metropolitan Police-court in London,
- (3) in a British possession the Governor satisfied that the warrant was issued by some authority to issue the same, may endorse such warrant and the warrant so endorsed may be used by the authority to apprehend the fugitive in the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which it is endorsed, and bring him back to the part from which he is a fugitive

4 A Magistrate of any part of Her Majesty's dominions may issue a provisional warrant for the apprehension of a fugitive from that part, in or on his way to which the fugitive is or is supposed to be, (that is to say) :—

Provisional warrant for apprehension of fugitive mation, and under such circumstances, as may be the issue of a warrant if the offence of which the fugitive is accused had been committed within his jurisdiction, and such warrant may be backed and executed accordingly

A Magistrate issuing a provisional warrant shall forthwith send a report of the issue, together with the information or a certified copy thereof, if he is in the United Kingdom, to a Secretary of State and if he is in a British possession to the Governor of that possession and the Secretary of State or Governor may, if he thinks fit, discharge the person apprehended under such warrant.

5 A fugitive when apprehended shall be brought before a Magistrate (who subject to the provisions of this Act) shall hear the case in the same manner and have the same jurisdiction and powers, as near as may be (including the power to remand and admit to bail), as if the fugitive were charged with an offence committed within his jurisdiction

If the endorsed warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive is duly authenticated, and such evidence is produced as (subject to the provisions of this Act) according to the law ordinarily administered by the Magistrate, raises a strong or probable presumption that the fugitive committed the offence mentioned in the warrant, and that the offence is one to which this part of this Act applies, the Magistrate shall commit the fugitive to prison to await his return, and shall forthwith send a certificate of the committal and such report of the case as he may think fit, if in the United Kingdom to a Secretary of State and if in a British possession to the Governor of that possession

Where the Magistrate commits the fugitive to prison he shall inform the fugitive that he will not be surrendered until after the expiration of fifteen days, and that he has a right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, or other like process

A fugitive apprehended on a provisional warrant may be from time to time remanded for such reasonable time not exceeding seven days at any one time, as under the circumstances seems requisite for the production of an endorsed warrant

6 Upon the expiration of fifteen days after a fugitive has been committed to prison to await his return, or if a writ of habeas corpus or other like process is issued with reference to such fugitive by a superior Court, after the final decision of the Court in the case

(1) if the fugitive is so committed in the United Kingdom a Secretary of State, and

(2) if the fugitive is so committed in a British possession, the Governor of that possession, may, if he thinks it just by warrant under his hand order that fugitive to be returned to the part of His Majesty's dominions, to be dealt with there in due course of law as if he had been there apprehended, and such warrant shall be forthwith executed according to the tenor thereof

The Governor or other chief officer of any prison, on request of any person having the custody of a fugitive under any such warrant and on payment of tender of a reasonable amount for expenses shall receive such fugitive and detain him for such reasonable time as may be requested by the said person for the purposes of the proper execution of the warrant

7 If a fugitive who, in pursuance of this part of this Act, has been committed to prison in any part of Her Majesty's dominions to await his return is not conveyed out of that part within one month, after such committal, a superior Court, upon application by or upon proof that reasonable notice of the committal has been given, if the said part is a British possession to the Secretary of State, and if the said part is a British possession to the Governor of the possession, may, unless sufficient cause is shown to the contrary order the fugitive to be discharged out of custody

8 Where a person accused of an offence and returned in pursuance of this part of this Act or any part of Her Majesty's dominions, either is not prosecuted for the said offence within six months after his arrival in that part, or is acquitted of the said offence then if that part is the United Kingdom a Secretary of State and if that part is a British possession the Governor of that possession may if he thinks fit, on the request of such person cause him to be sent back free of cost and with as little delay as possible to the part of Her Majesty's dominions in or on his way to which he was apprehended

9 This part of this Act shall apply to the following offences, namely, to treason and piracy, and to every offence, whether called felony misdemeanor, crime or by any other name, which is for the time being punishable in the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which it was committed, either on indictment or information, by imprisonment with hard labour for a term of twelve months or more, or by any greater punishment, and for the purposes of this section, rigorous imprisonment and any confinement in a prison combined with labour by whatever name it is called shall be deemed to be imprisonment with hard labour

This part of this Act shall apply to an offence notwithstanding that by the way to which offence, or not all the provisions provisional wa if the offence

10 Where it is made to appear to a superior Court that by reason of the trivial nature of the case or by reason of the application for the return of a fugitive not being made in good faith in the interest of justice or otherwise, it would, having regard to the distances to the facilities for communication and to all the circumstances of the case, be unjust or oppressive or too severe a punishment to return the fugitive either at all or until the expiration of a certain period, such Court may discharge the fugitive, either absolutely or on bail, or order that he shall not be returned until after the expiration of the period named in the order, or may make such other order in the premises as to the Court seems just 11 In Ireland the Lord Lieutenant,* also the Chief Secretary* may as well as a Secretary of State, execute any portion of the powers by this part of this Act vested in a Secretary of State.

Power of superior Court to discharge fugitive when case frivolous or returns unjust

INTER COLONIAL BACKING OF WARRANTS AND OFFENCES

Application of Part of Act

12 This part of this Act shall apply only to those groups of British possessions on which, by reason of their contiguity or otherwise, it may seem expedient to Her Majesty to apply the same

Application of part of Act to group of British possessions

It shall be lawful, for Her Majesty from time to time by order in Council to direct that this part of this Act shall apply to the group of British possessions mentioned in the order, and by the same or any subsequent order to accept certain offences from the application of this part of this Act, and to limit the application of this part of this Act by such conditions, exceptions and qualifications as may be deemed expedient.

Backing of Warrants

13 Where in a British possession of a group to which this part of this Act applies a warrant has been issued for the apprehension of a person accused of an offence punishable by law in that possession, and such person is or is suspected of being in or on the way to another British possession of the same group a Magistrate in the last-mentioned possession, if satisfied that the warrant was issued by a person having lawful authority to issue the same may endorse such warrant in manner provided by this Act, and the warrant so endorsed shall be a sufficient authority to apprehend, within the jurisdiction of the endorsing Magistrate, the person named in the warrant, and bring him

Backing in one British possession of warrant issued in another of same group

* Words repealed in (U.K.) by 57 & 58 Vict. c. 50 (S.L.R.) have been omitted before the endorsing Magistrate or some other Magistrate in the same British possession 14 The Magistrate before whom a person so apprehended is brought, if he is satisfied that the warrant is duly authenticated as directed by this Act and was issued by a person having lawful authority to issue the same and is satisfied on oath that the prisoner is the person named or otherwise described in the warrant may order such prisoner to be returned to the British possession in which the warrant was issued and for that purpose to be delivered into the custody of the persons to whom the warrant is addressed or any one or more of them, and to be held in custody and conveyed by sea or otherwise into the British possession in which the warrant was issued there to be dealt with according to law as if he had been there apprehended. Such order for return may be made by a warrant under the hand of the Magistrate making it and may be executed according to the tenor thereof.

A Magistrate shall, so far as is requisite for the exercise of the powers of this section, have the same power, including the power to remand and admit to bail a prisoner as he has in the case of a person apprehended under a warrant issued by him

15 Where a person required to give evidence on behalf of the prosecutor or defendant of a charge for an offence punishable by law in a British possession of a group to which this part of this Act applies, is or is suspected of being in or on his way to any other British possession of the same group, a Judge, Magistrate or other officer who would have lawful authority to issue a summons requiring the attendance of such witness, if the witness were within his jurisdiction may issue a summons for the attendance of such witness, and a Magistrate in any other British possession of the same group if satisfied that the summons was issued by some Judge, Magistrate, or officer having lawful authority as aforesaid, may endorse the summons with his name, and the witness on and on payment shall obey the summons. The expression "summons" in this section includes any subpoena or other process for requiring the attendance of a witness

16 A Magistrate in a British possession of a group to which this part of this Act applies, before the endorsement in pursuance of this part of this Act of a warrant for the apprehension of any person, may issue a provisional warrant for the apprehension of that person on such information and under such circumstances as would in his opinion justify the issue of a warrant if the offence which such person is accused were an offence punishable by the law of the said possession, and had been committed within his and such warrant may be backed and executed accordingly provided that a person arrested under such provisional warrant shall be discharged unless the original warrant is produced and endorsed within such reasonable time as may under the circumstances seem requisite

17 If a prisoner in a British possession whose return is authorised in pursuance of this part of this Act is not conveyed out of that possession within one month after the date of the warrant ordering his return a Magistrate or a superior Court upon application by or on behalf of the prisoner and upon proof that reasonable notice of the intention to make such application has been given to the person holding the warrant and to the chief officer of the Police of such possession or of the province or town where the prisoner is in custody, may, unless sufficient cause is shown to the contrary, order such prisoner to be discharged out of custody

Any order or refusal to make an order of discharge by a Magistrate under this section shall be subject to appeal to a superior Court

18 Where a prisoner accused of an offence is returned in pursuance of this part of this Act to a British possession and either is not prosecuted for the said offence within six months after his arrival in that possession or is acquitted of the said offence, the Governor of that possession if he thinks fit may, on the requisition of such person, cause him to be sent back, free of cost and with as little delay as possible to the British possession in or on his way to which he was apprehended

19 Where the return of a prisoner is sought or ordered under this part of this Act, and it is made to appear to a Magistrate or to a superior Court that by reason of the trivial nature of the case or by reason of the application for the return of such prisoner not being made in good faith in the interests of justice or otherwise it would, having regard to the distance, to the facilities of communication and to all the circumstances of the case be unjust or oppressive, or too severe a punishment, to return the prisoner either at all or until the expiration of a certain period, the Court or Magistrate may discharge the prisoner either absolutely or on bail or order that he shall not be returned until after the expiration of the period named in the order, or may make such other order in the premises as to the Magistrate or Court seems just

TRIAL ETC OF OFFENDERS

20 Where two British possessions adjoin, a person accused of an offence committed on or within the distance of five hundred yards from the common boundary of such possession may be apprehended, tried, and punished in either of such possessions

21 Where an offence is committed on any person or in respect of any property in or upon any carriage, cart or vehicle whatsoever employed in a journey, or on board any vessel whatsoever employed in a navigable river, lake, canal, or inland navigation, the person accused of such offence may be tried in any British possession through a part of which such carriage, cart, vehicle, or vessel passed in the course of the journey or voyage during which the offence was committed, and where the side, bank, centre, or other part of the road, river, lake, canal, or inland navigation along which the carriage, cart, vehicle, or vessel passed in the course of such journey or voyage is the boundary of any British possession, a person may be tried for such offence in any British possession of which it is the boundary

Provided that nothing in this section shall authorise the trial for such offence of a person who is not a British subject, where it is not shown that the offence was committed in a British possession

22 A person accused of the offence (under whatever name it is known) of swearing or making any false deposition or of giving or fabricating any false evidence for the purposes of this Act, may be tried either in the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which such deposition or evidence is used, or in the part in which the same was sworn, made, given, or fabricated as the justice of the case may require

23 Where any part of this Act provides for the place of trial of a person accused of an offence, that offence shall, for all purposes of and incidental to the trial of such person, and of and preliminary, incidental to incidental to the jurisdiction of any Court, constable, or officer with reference to such offence, and to any person accused of such offence, be deemed to have been committed in any place in which the person accused of the offence can be tried for it, and such may be punished in accordance with the Courts (Colonial) Jurisdiction Act, 1874 *

24 Where a warrant for the apprehension of a person accused of an offence has been endorsed in pursuance of any part of this Act in any part of Her Majesty's dominions, or where any part of the Act provides for the place of trial of a person accused of an offence, every Court and Magistrate of the part in which the warrant is endorsed or the person accused of the offence can be tried shall have the same power of issuing a warrant to search for any property alleged to be stolen or to be otherwise unlawfully taken or obtained by such person or otherwise to be the subject of such offence, as that Court or Magistrate would have if the property had been stolen or otherwise unlawfully taken or obtained or the offence had been committed wholly within the jurisdiction of such Court or Magistrate

25 Where a person is in legal custody in a British possession either in pursuance of this Act or otherwise and such person is required to be removed in custody to another place in or from one place to another belonging to the same British possession, such person if removed by sea in a vessel belonging to Her Majesty or any of Her Majesty's subjects shall be deemed to continue in legal custody until he reaches the place to which he is required to be removed, and the provisions of this Act with respect to the re-taking of a prisoner who has escaped, and with respect to the trial and punishment of a person guilty or the offence of escaping or attempting to escape, or aiding or attempting to aid prisoner to escape, shall apply to the case of a prisoner escaping while being lawfully removed as aforesaid in like manner as if he were being removed in pursuance of a warrant endorsed in pursuance of this Act

PART IV.

Warrants and Escape

26 An endorsement of a warrant in pursuance of this Act shall be signed by the authority endorsing the same and shall authorise all or any of the persons named in the warrant was originally issued to whom the warrant within the place within which such endorsement is by this Act made a sufficient authority, by apprehending the person named in it and bringing him before some Magistrate in the same part or place whether the Magistrate named in the endorsement or some other

thereon shall remain in force notwithstanding that the person signing the warrant or such endorsement dies or ceases to hold office

27 Where a fugitive or prisoner is authorised to be returned to any part of Her Majesty's dominions in pursuance of Part I or Part II of this Act such fugitive or prisoner may be sent either in any ship belonging to Her Majesty or to any of her subjects

For the purpose aforesaid the authority signing the warrant for the return may order the master of any ship belonging to any subject of Her Majesty bound to the said part of Her Majesty's dominions to receive and afford a passage and subsistence during the voyage to such fugitive or prisoner, and to the person having him in custody and to the witnesses so that such master be not required to receive more than one fugitive or prisoner for every hundred tons of his ship's registered tonnage or more than one witness for every fifty tons of such tonnage

The said authority shall endorse or cause to be endorsed upon the agreement of the ship such particulars with respect to any fugitive prisoner or witness sent in her as the Board of Trade from time to time require

Every such master shall on ship's arrival in the said part of Her Majesty's dominions, cause such fugitive or prisoner if he is not in the custody of any person to be given into the custody of some constable, there to be dealt with according to law

Every master who fails on payment or tender of a reasonable amount for expenses to comply with an order made in pursuance of this section, or to cause a fugitive or prisoner committed to his charge to be given into custody as required by this section shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds which may be recovered in any part of Her Majesty's dominions in like manner as a penalty of the same amount under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854,* and the Acts amending the same

28 If a prisoner escapes by breach of prison or otherwise, out of the custody of a person acting under a warrant issued or endorsed in pursuance of this Act, he may be re taken in the same manner as a person accused of a crime against the law of that part of Her Majesty's dominions to which he escapes may be re taken upon an escape

A person guilty of the offence of escaping or of attempting to escape, or of aiding or attempting to aid a prisoner to escape by breach of prison or otherwise from custody under any warrant issued or endorsed in pursuance of this Act may be tried in any of the following parts of Her Majesty's dominions, namely the part to which and the part from which the prisoner is being removed and the part in which the prisoner escapes and the part in which the offender is found

24 Where a warrant for the apprehension of a person accused

Issue of search warrant of an offence has been endorsed in pursuance of any part of this Act in any part of

Her Majesty's dominions, or where any part of the Act provides for the place of trial of a person accused of an offence, every Court and Magistrate of the part in which the warrant is endorsed or the person accused of the offence can be tried shall have the same power of issuing a warrant to search for any property alleged to be stolen or to be otherwise unlawfully taken or obtained by such person or otherwise to be the subject of such offence, as that Court or Magistrate would have if the property had been stolen or otherwise unlawfully taken or obtained, or the offence had been committed wholly within the jurisdiction of such Court or Magistrate

25 Where a person is in legal custody in a British possession

Removal of prisoner by sea either in pursuance of this Act or otherwise, and such person is required to be removed in custody to another place in or from one place to another belonging to the same British possession, such person, if removed by sea in a vessel belonging to Her Majesty or any of Her Majesty's subjects shall be deemed to continue in legal custody until he reaches the place to which he is required to be removed, and the provisions of this Act with respect to the re-taking of a prisoner who has escaped, and with respect to the trial and punishment of a person guilty or the offence of escaping or attempting to escape, or aiding or attempting to aid prisoner to escape, shall apply to the case of a prisoner escaping while being lawfully removed as aforesaid, in like manner as if he were being removed in pursuance of a warrant endorsed in pursuance of this Act

SUPPLEMENTAL

26 An endorsement of a warrant in pursuance of this Act shall

Endorsement of warrant be signed by the authority endorsing the same and shall authorise all or any of the persons named in the endorsement and of the persons to whom the warrant was originally directed, and also every constable to execute the warrant within the part of Her Majesty's dominions or place within which such endorsement is by this Act made a sufficient authority, by apprehending the person named in it, and bringing him before some Magistrate in the same part or place whether the Magistrate named in the endorsement or some other

thereon, shall remain in force notwithstanding that the person signing the warrant or such endorsement dies or ceases to hold office

27 Where a fugitive or prisoner is authorised to be returned to any part of Her Majesty's dominions in pursuance of Part I or Part II of this Act such fugitive or prisoner may be sent either in any ship belonging to Her Majesty or to any of her subjects

For the purpose aforesaid the authority signing the warrant for the return may order the master of any ship belonging to any subject of Her Majesty bound to the said part of Her Majesty's dominions to receive and afford a passage and subsistence during the voyage to such fugitive or prisoner, and to the person having him in custody and to the witness, so that such master be not required to receive more than one fugitive or prisoner for every hundred tons of his ship's registered tonnage or more than one witness for every fifty tons of such tonnage

The said authority shall endorse or cause to be endorsed upon the agreement of the ship such particulars with respect to any fugitive prisoner or witness sent in her as the Board of Trade from time to time require

Every such master shall on ship's arrival in the said part of Her Majesty's dominions, cause such fugitive or prisoner if he is not in the custody of any person, to be given into the custody of some constable, there to be dealt with according to law

Every master who fails on payment or tender of a reasonable amount for expenses to comply with an order made in pursuance of this section, or to cause a fugitive or prisoner committed to his charge to be given into custody as required by this section shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds which may be recovered in any part of Her Majesty's dominions in like manner as a penalty of the same amount under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854,* and the Acts amending the same

28 If a prisoner escapes by breach of prison or otherwise, out of the custody of a person acting under a warrant issued or endorsed in pursuance of this Act, he may be re-taken in the same manner as a person accused of a crime against the law of that part of Her Majesty's dominions to which he escapes may be re-taken upon an escape

A person guilty of the offence of escaping or of attempting to escape, or of aiding or attempting to aid a prisoner to escape by breach of prison or otherwise from custody under any warrant issued or endorsed in pursuance of this Act may be tried in any of the following parts of Her Majesty's dominions, namely the part to which and the part from which the prisoner is being removed and the part in which the prisoner escapes and the part in which the offender is found

* See now the Merchant Shipping Act 1891 (54 & 58 Vict. c. 60)

Evidence

29 A Magistrate may take depositions for the purposes of this Act in the absence of a person accused of an offence in like manner as he might take the same if such person were present and accused of the offence before him

Depositions to be evidence and authentication of depositions and warrants

Depositions (whether taken in the absence of the fugitive or otherwise) and copies thereof, and official certificates of or judicial documents stating fact, may, if duly authenticated, be received in evidence in proceedings under this Act

Provided that nothing in this Act shall authorise the reception of any such depositions, copies, certificates, or documents in evidence against a person upon his trial for an offence

Warrants and depositions, and copies thereof, and official certificates of or judicial documents stating facts, shall be deemed duly authenticated for the purposes of this Act if they are authenticated in manner provided for the time being by law, or if they purport to be signed by or authenticated by the signature of a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which the same are issued, taken, or made, and are authenticated either by the oath of some witness or by being sealed with the official seal of a Secretary of State or with the public seal of a British possession, or with the official seal of a Governor of a British possession, or of a colonial secretary or of some secretary or minister administering a department of the Government of a British possession

And all Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of every such seal as is in this section mentioned, and shall admit in evidence without further proof the documents authenticated by it

Miscellaneous

Provisions as to exercise of jurisdiction by Magistrates

30 The jurisdiction under Part I of this Act to hear a case and commit a fugitive to prison to await his return shall be exercised,—

(1) in England by a chief Magistrate of the metropolitan Police-court, or one of other Magistrates of the metropolitan Police-court at Bow Street, and

(2) in Scotland, by the sheriff or sheriff's substitute of the county of Edinburgh, and

(3) in Ireland, by one of the Police Magistrates of the Dublin metropolitan police district, and

(4) in a British possession, by any Judge, Justice of the Peace, or other officer having the like jurisdiction as one of the Magistrates of the metropolitan Police-court in Bow Street, or by such other Court, Judge, or Magistrate as may, be from time to time, provided by an Act or ordinance passed by the Legislature of that possession

If a fugitive is apprehended and brought before a Magistrate who has no power to exercise the jurisdiction under this Act in respect of that fugitive, that Magistrate shall order the fugitive to be brought before some a Magistrate having that jurisdiction and such order shall be obeyed

31 It shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council from time to time to make orders for the purposes of this Act and to revoke and vary any order so made and every order so made shall, while it is in force have the same effect as if it were enacted in this Act

Power as to making and revocation of orders in Council

An order in Council made for the purposes of this Act shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after it is made, if Parliament is then in session, or if not, as soon as may be after the commencement of the then next session of Parliament

Power of Legislature of British Possession to pass laws for carrying into effect this Act

32 If the Legislature of a British possession pass any Act or ordinance—

(1) for defining the offences committed in that possession to which this Act or any part thereof is to apply, or

(2) for determining the Court Judge Magistrate officer or person by whom and the manner in which any jurisdiction or power under this Act is to be exercised or

(3) for payment of the costs incurred in returning a fugitive or a prisoner or in sending him back if not prosecuted or if acquitted, or otherwise in the execution of this Act, or

(4) in any manner for the carrying of this Act or any part thereof into effect in that possession it shall be lawful for Her Majesty by order in Council to direct if it seems to Her Majesty in Council necessary or proper for carrying into effect the objects of this Act, that such Act or ordinance or any part thereof shall with or without modification or alteration be recognised and given effect to throughout Her Majesty's dominions and on the high seas as if it were part of this Act

Application of Act

33 Where a person accused of an offence can, by reason of the nature of the offence or of the place in which it was committed or otherwise be under this Act or otherwise tried for or in respect of the offence in more than one part of Her Majesty's dominions a warrant for the apprehension of such person may be issued in any part of Her Majesty's dominions in which he can if he happens to be there, be tried and each part of this Act shall apply as if the offence had been committed in the part of Her Majesty's dominions where such warrant is issued, and such person returned in pursuance of this Act which he is

Application of Act to offences at sea or triable in several parts of Her Majesty's dominions

Provided that if such person is apprehended, a Secretary of State and if he is apprehended in any session may regard to the place where the witnesses for the prosecution and for the defence are to be found, and to all the circumstances of the case, it would be conducive to the interests of justice so to do, order such person to be tried in the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which he is apprehended, and in such a case any warrant previously issued for his return shall not be executed

Notes—The word "return" in s 33 is not to be read as implying that the offender is a fugitive from the country to which he is being sent for trial A. I. R 1928 Sind 161, 103 L. T. 473 (477)=1129 C 673

34 Where a person convicted by a Court in any part of Her Majesty's dominions of an offence committed either in Her Majesty's dominions or elsewhere is unlawfully at large before the expiration of his sentence, each part of this Act shall apply to such person, so far as is consistent with the tenor thereof, in like manner as it applies to a person accused of the like offence committed in the part of Her Majesty's dominions in which such person was convicted

35 Where a person accused of an offence is in custody in some part of Her Majesty's dominions, and the offence is one for or in respect of which, by reason of the nature thereof or of the place in which it was committed or otherwise, a person may under this Act or otherwise be tried in some other part of Her Majesty's dominions in such case a superior Court, and also if such person is in the United Kingdom a Secretary of State, and if he is in a British possession, the Governor of that possession, if satisfied that, having regard to the place where the witnesses for the prosecution and for the defence are to be found and to all the circumstances of the case, it would be conducive to the interests of justice so to do, may by warrant direct the removal of such offender to some other part of Her Majesty's dominions in which he can be tried, and the offender may be returned, and, if not prosecuted or acquitted, sent back free of cost in like manner as if he were a fugitive returned in pursuance of Part One of this Act and the warrant were a warrant for the return of such fugitive, and the provisions of this Act shall apply accordingly

36 It shall be lawful for Her Majesty from time to time by order in Council to direct that this Act shall apply as if, subject to the conditions, exceptions and qualifications (if any) contained in the order, any place out of Her Majesty's dominions in which Her Majesty has jurisdiction, and which is named in the order, were a British possession, and to provide for carrying into effect such application

37. This Act shall extend to the Channel Islands and Isle of Man as if they were part of England and of the United Kingdom, and the United Kingdom, and those islands shall be deemed for the purpose of this Act to be one part of Her Majesty's dominions, and a warrant endorsed in pursuance of Part One of this Act may be executed in every place in the United Kingdom and the said islands accordingly

38 This Act shall apply where an offence is committed before the commencement of this Act or, in the case of Part Two of this Act, before the application of that Part to a British possession or to the offence in like manner as if such offence had been committed after such commencement or application

ACT NO. XXXI OF 1934

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 7th September 1934)

An Act [to provide for the modification and continuance of the protection afforded to the iron and steel industry in British India and]* to impose an excise duty for revenue purposes upon certain steel

WHEREAS it is expedient [to provide for the modification and continuance of the protection afforded to the iron and steel industry in British India, and]* to impose an excise duty for revenue purposes upon certain steel It is hereby enacted as follows —

Notes — The protection afforded to the steel industry in India by the Steel Industry (Protection) Act 1927 as subsequently amended will expire on the 31st October of the year 1934. In accordance with the provisions of that Act as amended to any extent by the Tariff Commission, the Tariff Commission has recommended by the Tariff Commission a considerable reduction in the level of import duties in certain important cases with a resultant reduction in the revenue derived from duties of customs. It has therefore been found necessary to impose an excise duty on the production of steel ingots in British India and to impose a duty on steel ingots. This counter duty is recommended by the Board as a measure of protection which has

Publication of rules—

All such rules shall be published in the [official Gazette]†, and shall thereupon have the force of law [Provided that, in the case of rules made by High Court not established by Royal Charter, such rules have been previously approved by the Local Government]*

7 On the admission, under section 6, of any person as a pleader [or mukhtars], the High Court shall cause a certificate signed by such officer as the Court, from time to time, appoints in this behalf, to be issued to such person, authorising him to practise up to the end of the current year in the Courts, and, [in the case of a pleader also] the revenue offices specified therein

At the expiration of such period the holder of the certificate, if he desires to continue to practise, shall, subject to any rules consistent with this Act which may, from time to time, be made by the High Court in this behalf, be entitled to have his certificate renewed by the Judge of the District Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction he then ordinarily practises, or by such officer as the High Court from time to time, appoints in this behalf

On every such renewal, the certificate then in possession of such pleader [or Mukhtar]* shall be cancelled and retained by such Judge or officer

Every certificate so renewed shall be signed by such Judge or officer, and shall continue in force up to the end of the current year

Every Judge or officer so renewing a certificate shall notify such renewal to the High Court

[Provided that on the admission as a pleader of any person who has been previously entered as a Vakil or Attorney on the roll of a High Court established by Royal Charter, the High Court may in its discretion issue to such person a certificate authorising him to practise permanently in the Courts and in the offices specified therein and the certificate so issued shall not require to be renewed under this section]‡

8 Every pleader holding a certificate issued under section 7 may apply to be enrolled in any Court or revenue office mentioned therein [and situate within the local limits of the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court by which he has been admitted]*, and subject to such rules consistent with

(a) who publicly solicits alms or exposes or exhibits any sores, wounds, bodily ailment or deformity with the object of exciting charity or of obtaining alms, or

(b) who is at large without any ostensible means of subsistence

(3) 'leper asylum' means a leper asylum appointed under section 3

(4) Board means a Board constituted under section 5 and [(5) "District Magistrate includes a Chief Presidency Magistrate ‡]

Notes—The definition clause is always to be read subject to context

3 || The [Provincial Government]* may by notification in the [official Gazette]† appoint any place to be a leper asylum if it is satisfied that adequate arrangements have been made or will be made for the accommodation and medical treatment of lepers therein and may by a like notification specify the local areas from which lepers may be sent to such asylum

Notes—This section authorises the Local Government to appoint any place to be a leper asylum

4 Subject to any rules which may be made under section 16 the [Provincial Government]* may appoint any Medical Officer of the Government or other qualified medical man to be an Inspector of Lepers and any person to be a Superintendent of a Leper Asylum with such establishment as may in its opinion be necessary and every Inspector or Superintendent so appointed shall be deemed to be a public servant

5 The [Provincial Government]* shall constitute for every leper asylum appointed under section 3 a Board consisting of not less than three members one of whom at least shall be a Medical Officer of the Government

Notes—The appointment of a medical officer in the Board is compulsory

6 (1) Within any local area which has been specified under section 3 any police officer or any other person specially empowered by the by [Provincial Government]* order in writing in this behalf † may arrest without a warrant any person who appears to him to be a pauper leper

(2) Such police-officer or other person † shall forthwith take or send the person so arrested to the nearest convenient police station

Notes.—For the safety of the public health the power to arrest pauper lepers is given

7 Every person brought to a police station under the last foregoing section shall without unnecessary delay, be taken before an Inspector of Lepers who—

(a) if he finds that such person is not a leper within the meaning of section 2 shall give him a certificate in Form A set forth in the schedule, whereupon such person shall be forthwith released from arrest,

(b) if he finds that such person is a leper within the meaning of section 2 shall give to the police officer, in whose custody the leper is a certificate in Form B set forth in the schedule whereupon the leper shall, without unnecessary delay be taken before a Magistrate having jurisdiction under this Act

8 (1) If it appears to any [Presidency Magistrate or] ‡ Magistrate of the first class or to any other Magistrate authorised in this behalf by the [Provincial Government]* upon the certificate in Form B set forth in the schedule that any person is a leper and if it further appears to the Magistrate that the person is a pauper leper he may after recording the evidence on the above mentioned points, and his order thereon send the pauper leper in charge of a police officer together with an order in Form C set forth in the schedule, to a leper asylum where such leper shall be detained until discharged by order of the Board or the District Magistrate

Provided that if the person denies the allegation of leprosy the Magistrate shall call and examine the Inspector of Lepers, and shall take such further evidence as may be necessary to support or to rebut the allegation that the person is a leper and may for this purpose adjourn the enquiry from time to time, remanding the person for observation or for other reason to such place as may be convenient or admitting him to bail

Provided also that if any friend or relative of any person found to be a pauper leper shall undertake in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that such pauper leper shall be properly taken care of and shall be prevented from publicly begging in any area specified under section 3 the Magistrate instead of sending the leper to an asylum, may make the leper over to the care of such friend or relative, requiring him if he thinks fit to enter into a bond with one or more sureties, to which the provisions of section 514 of the Code of Criminal Procedure shall be applicable.

(2) If the Magistrate finds that such person is not a leper, or that, if a leper, he is not a pauper leper, he shall forthwith discharge him.

Notes.—Under this section power is given only to an experienced Officer.

9. (1) The [Provincial Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]† order that no leper shall, within any area specified under section 3,—

(a) personally prepare for sale or sell any article of food or drink or any drugs or clothing intended for human use ; or

(b) bathe, wash clothes or take water from any public well or tank debarred by any municipal or local bye-law from use by lepers ; or

(c) drive, conduct or ride in any public carriage plying for hire other than a railway carriage , or

(d) exercise any trade or calling which may by such notification be prohibited to lepers.

(2) Any such notification may comprise all or any of the above prohibitions.

(3) Whoever disobeys any order made pursuant to the powers conferred by this section shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees ;

Provided that, when any person is accused of an offence under this section, the Magistrate before whom he is accused shall cause him to be examined by an Inspector of Lepers, and shall not proceed with the case unless such Inspector furnishes a certificate, in Form B set forth in the schedule, in respect of such person.

Notes.—This provision is made to prevent infection.

10. (1) Whenever any leper who has been convicted of an offence punishable under the last foregoing section is again convicted of any offence punishable under that section, the Magistrate may, in addition to, or in lieu of, any punishment to which such leper may be liable, require him to enter into a bond, with one to depart forthwith from the local area which he is, and not to enter that or any until an Inspector of Lepers shall have given him a certificate in Form A set forth in the schedule.

(2) If any such leper fails to furnish any security required under sub-section (1), the Magistrate may send him in charge of a police-officer, with an order in Form D set forth in the schedule, to a leper asylum, where such leper shall be detained until discharged by order of the Board or the District Magistrate.

(3) The powers conferred by this section shall only be exercised by a [Presidency Magistrate or]‡ Magistrate of the first class.

LETTERS PATENT (ALLAHABAD)

Extracts from Letters Patent establishing a High Court in the North Western Provinces of the Bengal Presidency, dated 17th March, 1866

Criminal Jurisdiction

15 And we do further ordain that the said High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces, shall have ordinary original criminal jurisdiction in respect of all such persons within the said Provinces as the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, shall have criminal jurisdiction over at the date of the publication of these presents, and the criminal jurisdiction of the said last mentioned High Court over such persons shall cease at such date. Provided, nevertheless, that criminal proceedings which shall at such date have been commenced in the said last mentioned High Court shall continue as if these presents had not been issued.

16 And We do further ordain that the said High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces, in the exercise of its ordinary original criminal jurisdiction, shall be empowered to try all persons brought before it in due course of law.

17 And We do further ordain that the said High Court of Judicature, for the North-Western Provinces, shall have extraordinary original criminal jurisdiction over all persons residing in places within the jurisdiction of any Court now subject to the superintendence of the Sudder Nizamut Adawlut, and shall have authority to try at its discretion any such persons brought before it on charges preferred by any Magistrate or other officer specially empowered by the Government in that behalf.

18 And We do further ordain that there shall be no appeal to the said High Court, from any sentence or order passed or made in any criminal trial before the Courts of original criminal jurisdiction, which may be constituted by one or more Judges of the said High Court. But it shall be at the discretion of any such Court to reserve any point or points of law for the opinion of the said High Court.

19 And We do further ordain that, on such point or points of law being so reserved as aforesaid, the said High Court shall have full power and authority to review the case, or such part of it as may be necessary, and finally determine such point or points of law, and thereupon to alter the sentence passed by the Court of original jurisdiction, and to pass such judgment and sentence as to the said High Court shall seem right.

20 And We do further ordain that the said High Court of Judicature, for the North-Western Provinces, shall be a Court of Appeal from the Criminal Courts of the said Provinces and from all other Courts from which there is now an appeal to the Court of Sudder Nizamut Adawlut for the said Provinces and shall exercise appellate jurisdiction in such cases as are subject to appeal to the said Court of Sudder Adawlut by virtue of any law now in force

21 And We do further ordain that the said High Court shall be a Court of reference and revision from the Criminal Courts subject to its appellate jurisdiction, and shall have power to hear and determine all such cases referred to it by the Sessions Judges or by any other officers now authorised to refer cases to the Court of Sudder Nizamut Adawlut of the North-Western Provinces, and to revise all such cases tried by any Officer or Court possessing criminal jurisdiction, as are now subject to reference or to revision by the said Court of Sudder Nizamut Adawlut

22 And We do further ordain that the said High Court shall have power to direct the transfer of any criminal case or appeal from any Court to any other Court of equal or superior jurisdiction, and also to direct the preliminary investigation or trial of any criminal case by any officer or Court otherwise competent to investigate or try it, though such case belongs in ordinary course to the jurisdiction of some other officer or Court

Act under which punishments to be inflicted

23 And We do further ordain that all persons brought for trial before the said High Court of Judicature for the North Western Provinces either in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, or in the exercise of its jurisdiction as a Court of Appeal, reference or revision charged with any offence for which provision is made by Act No XLV of 1860, call the 'Indian Penal Code' or by any Act amending or excluding the said Act which may have been passed prior to the publication of these presents shall be liable to punishment under the said Act or Acts, and not otherwise

24 And We do further ordain that whenever it shall appear to the Lieutenant-Governor of the North Western Provinces subject to the control of the Governor General in Council convenient that the jurisdiction and power by these Our Letters Patent, or by the recited Act, vested in the said High Court, should be exercised in any place within the jurisdiction of any Court, now subject to the superintendence of any Sudder Dewany Adawlut or the Sudder Nizamut Adawlut of the North Western Provinces, other than the usual places of sitting of the said High Court, or at several such places by way of circuit, the proceedings cases before the said High Court, at such place or places, sha regulated by any law relating thereto which has been or may be made by competent legislative authority for India

Criminal Procedure

29. And We do further ordain that the proceedings in all criminal cases which shall be brought before the said High Court in the exercise of its ordinary original criminal jurisdiction, shall be regulated by the procedure and practice which was in use in the High Court of Judicature for Fort William in Bengal, immediately before the publication of these presents, subject to any law which has been or may be made in relation thereto by competent legislative authority for India; and that the proceedings in all other criminal cases shall be regulated by the Code of Criminal Procedure, prescribed by an Act passed by the Governor-General in Council, and being Act No XXV of 1861 or by such further or other laws in relation to criminal procedure as may have been or may be made by such authority as aforesaid

Appeals to Privy Council.

32. And We do further ordain that, from any judgment, order or sentence of the said High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces, made in the exercise of original criminal jurisdiction, or in any criminal case where any point or points of law have been reserved for the opinion of the said High Court in manner hereinbefore provided, by any Court which has exercised original jurisdiction, it shall be lawful for the person aggrieved by such judgment, order or sentence to appeal to Us, Our heirs or successors in Council. Provided the said High Court shall declare that the case is a fit one for such appeal and under such conditions as the said High Court may establish or require subject always to such rules and orders as We may, with the advice of Our Privy Council, hereinafter make in that behalf

Definitions

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Customs collector" means an officer of customs exercising the powers of a Customs-collector under the Sea Customs Act, 1878,* and includes any person appointed by the [Central Government]† to discharge the functions of a Customs-collector under this Act.

(b) "district" means an area defined as a district for the purposes of this Act under section 3.

(c) "general lighthouse" means any lighthouse which the [Central Government]‡ may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare to be a general lighthouse for the purposes of this Act.

(d) "lighthouse" includes any light-vessel, fog-signal, buoy, beacon, or any mark, sign or apparatus exhibited or used for the guidance of ships.

(e) "local lighthouse" means any lighthouse which is not a general lighthouse.

(f) "local lighthouse authority" means a [Provincial Government]‡ local authority or other person having the superintendence and management of a local lighthouse.

(g) "owner" includes any part-owner, charterer, or mortgagee in possession and any agent to whom a ship is consigned.

(h) "port" means any port, as defined in the Indian Ports Act, 1908‡ to which that Act extends, and

(i) words and expressions used in this Act and not otherwise defined have the same meanings respectively as in the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923 §

Clause (a) — 'We have amended the definition in sub clause (a) in order to bring it into line with the wording of the Sea Customs Act, 1878'—Report of the Select Committee

Clause (b) — 'The general principles of the Bill are based on part XI of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and the Merchant Shipping (Mercantile Marine Fund) Act, 1894, and parts of the existing Coast Lights Acts are also incorporated. "Lighthouse" is "fog signal buoy beacon, or any mark, sign or apparatus used for the guidance of ships." This definition covers wireless ion giving apparatus used for the guidance Clauses (c) (e) and (f) — All lighthouses will be classified as either—(a) coast or general lighthouses, or (b) port or local lighthouses. The superintendence and management of all general lighthouses will be vested in the Governor General in Council. Local lighthouses will be administered by a local lighthouses authority which will usually be a port authority. Certain powers of inspection and control over local lighthouses are reserved to the Governor General in Council as being the general lighthouse authority. Provision is also made for the management of general lighthouses by a local authority, or of local lighthouses by the Governor General in Council, by arrangement and on payment. This would be a matter of convenience and economy.—Statement of Object and Reasons

7 (1) If, after an inspection under section 6 or such other inquiry as it thinks fit, the [Central Government]* is satisfied that a direction under this sub-section is necessary or expedient for the safety or otherwise in the interests, of shipping, he may direct any local lighthouse authority—

(a) to remove or discontinue or to refrain from moving or discontinuing any lighthouse under its superintendence and management or to make or refrain from making any variation in the character or mode of use of any such lighthouse, or

(b) to erect, place or maintain or to refrain from erecting, placing or maintaining any lighthouse within the local limits within which the local lighthouse authority exercises its powers

(2) A local lighthouse authority shall not erect, place, remove or discontinue any lighthouse or vary the character or mode of use of any lighthouse, unless it has given to the [Central Government]* at least one month's notice in writing of its intention so to do.

Provided that, in cases of emergency, a local lighthouse authority may take such action as it deems necessary and shall give immediate notice of the same to the [Central Government],* and, so far as is possible, to all shipping approaching or in the vicinity of the lighthouse.

(3) If a local lighthouse authority—

(a) fails to comply with any direction made under sub-section (1), or

(b) fails to exercise or perform, or exercises or performs in an improper, inefficient or unsuitable manner, any power or duty relating to the superintendence or management of lighthouses conferred or imposed upon it by or under any law for the time being in force, or

(c) fails to make adequate financial provision for the performance of any such duty, the [Central Government]* may, by order in writing, require the local lighthouse authority to comply with the direction, or to make arrangements to his satisfaction for the proper exercise of the power or performance of the duty, or to make financial provision to his satisfaction for the performance of the duty, as the case may be, within such period as he may specify.

(4) If the local lighthouse authority fails to comply with an order made under sub-section (3) within the specified period or within such further time as the [Central Government]* may allow, the [Central Government]* may exercise the power or perform the duty or make the requisite financial provision, as the case may be, and the local lighthouse authority shall be liable to repay to the [Central Government]* any expenditure incurred by him in so doing.

Notes — 'Provision is also made for the management of general lighthouses by a local authority, or of local lighthouses by the Governor General in Council, by arrangement and on payment. This would be a matter of convenience and economy'—Statement of Objects and Reasons

LIGHT DUES

9 For the purpose of providing or maintaining or of providing and maintaining lighthouses for the benefit of ships voyaging to or from British India or between ports in British India, the [Central Government]* shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, cause light-dues to be levied and collected in respect of every ship arriving at or departing from any port in British India.

Notes — 'The cost of local lighthouses will ordinarily be met, as at present, from port dues levied under the Indian Ports Act, 1909. But clause 9 of the Bill permits receipts from lighthouses for the provision or maintenance of lighthouses for the provision or maintenance of lighthouses'—Statement of Objects and Reasons

10 (1) The [Central Government]* may, by notification in the Rates of light dues leviable [official Gazette]* prescribe rates, not exceeding two annas per ton, at which light-dues shall be payable, and may prescribe different rates for different classes of ships, or for ships of the same class when in use for different purposes or in different circumstances

(2) Light-dues payable in respect of a ship shall be paid by the owner or master of the ship on its arrival at, and on its departure from, any port in British India

Provided that, if light-dues have been paid in accordance with the provisions of this Act in respect of any ship, no further dues shall become payable in respect of that ship for a period of thirty days from the date on which the dues so paid became payable.

Notes—"In sub-clause (2) we have made a small amendment in order to give greater precision to the date from which the period of thirty days shall run in the case of dues paid on departure. We have also added a third sub-clause which will provide that foreign shipping will have notice of any alteration in the scale of light dues.—Report of the Select Committee

11 Light-dues shall be paid to the Customs-collector who shall grant to the person paying the same a receipt in writing specifying—

(a) the port at which the dues have been paid,

(b) the amount of the payment,

(c) the date on which the dues became payable, and

(d) the name, tonnage and other proper description of the ship in respect of which the payment is made

12 (1) For the purpose of the levy of light-dues, a ship's tonnage shall be reckoned as under the Merchant Shipping Acts for dues payable on a ship's tonnage, with the addition required under section 85 of the Merchant Shipping Act 1894* with respect to deck cargo

(2) In order to ascertain the tonnage of any ship for the purpose of levying light-dues, the Customs-collector may—

(a) if the ship is registered under any law for the time being in force in British India or under the law of any foreign country in respect of which an order in Council has been made under section 84 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894,* that ships of that country shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their certificates of registry or other national papers (any such ship being hereafter in this section referred to as a registered ship), require the owner or master or other person having possession of the ship's register or other papers denoting her tonnage to produce the same for inspection and, if such owner, master or other person refuses or neglects to produce the register or papers, as the case may be, or otherwise to satisfy the Customs-collector as to the tonnage of the ship, cause the ship to be measured and the tonnage to be ascertained, or

(b) if the ship is not a registered ship and the owner or master fails to satisfy the Customs-collector as to the true tonnage thereof according to the mode of measurement prescribed by the law for the time being in force for regulating the measurement of registered ships, cause the ship to be measured and the tonnage thereof to be ascertained according to such mode

(3) If any person refuses or neglects to produce any register or other papers or otherwise to satisfy the Customs-collector as to the true tonnage of any ship when required to do so under this section, such person shall be liable to pay the expenses of the measurement of the ship and of the ascertainment of the tonnage, and if the ship is a registered ship shall further on conviction by a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction in the port where the ship lies or in any port to which she may proceed be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees

Notes—The insertion proposed in sub clause (3) is to secure that these mercantile cases shall be tried by experienced Magistrates—Statement of Objects and Reasons

13 (1) If the owner or master of any ship refuses or neglects to pay to the Customs-collector on demand the amount of any light-dues or expenses payable under this Act in respect of the ship the Customs collector may seize the ship and the tackle, apparel and furniture belonging thereto, or any part thereof, and detain the same until the amount of the dues or expenses, together with the costs of the seizure and detention, is paid

(2) If any part of such dues, expenses or costs remains unpaid after the expiry of five days following the date of the seizure, the Customs-collector may cause the ship or other thing seized to be sold, and with the proceeds of the sale may satisfy the dues, expenses or costs remaining unpaid, together with the costs of the sale, and shall repay the surplus, if any, to the person by whom the same were payable

Notes—This section authorises the Customs collector to seize and detain ships etc. for payment of light dues. If the light dues be not paid after the expiry of five days following the date of the seizure the Customs collector may realise the light dues and cost by selling the ship. The purchaser will acquire a good title in the ship

14 The officer whose duty it is to grant a port clearance for any ship shall not grant the port-clearance until the amount of all light-dues, expenses and costs payable in respect of the ship under this Act and of any fines imposed thereunder has been paid, or until security for the payment thereof has been given to his satisfaction

Notes—The right of the Government is safeguarded so far as the collection of the light dues are concerned. A grant of port clearance is forbidden where the ships are trying to evade the payment of light dues

15 If any dispute arises as to whether light dues, expenses or costs are payable in respect of any ship under this Act or as to the amount of such dues, expenses or costs, the dispute shall, on application made in this behalf by either of the disputing parties, be heard and determined by a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction at the place where the dispute arises, and the decision of such Magistrate shall be final

Notes—Such disputes must be decided by experienced Magistrates such as Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class

16 (1) If the master of any ship in respect of which any light dues are payable at any port causes the ship to leave such port without having paid the same, the Customs-collector at that port may by writing require the Customs-collector at any other port in British India to which the ship may proceed or in which she may be to recover the dues remaining unpaid

(2) Any Customs-collector to whom such a requisition is directed shall proceed to levy such sum as if it were payable under this Act at the port at which he is the Customs-collector and a certificate by the Customs collector at the port at which the light-dues first became payable, stating the amount payable shall be sufficient proof in any proceeding under section 13 or section 15 that such amount is payable

Notes—This facility is given for the collection of light dues. The light dues may be recovered at the next port.

17 (1) If the owner or master of a ship evades or attempts to evade the payment of any light dues, expenses or costs payable in respect of the ship under this Act, he shall on conviction by a Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction in any port to which the vessel may proceed or in which she may be found, be punishable with fine which may extend to five times the amount of the sum payable.

(2) In any proceeding before a Magistrate in a prosecution under sub-section (1) any such certificate as is mentioned in sub-section (2) of section 16, stating that the owner or master has evaded such payment, shall be sufficient proof of the evasion unless the owner or master shows to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the departure of the vessel without payment of the sum was caused by stress of weather, or that there was lawful or reasonable grounds for such departure.

Notes—Evasion of payment on the part of the shipowner is made penal under this section. A certificate under sub-section (2) of section 16 will be sufficient proof of such evasion. The burden of proof is cast upon the master or the owner of the ship to show that the vessel was compelled to leave the port before payment of light dues by reason of stress of weather etc.

18 The following ships shall be exempted from the payment of light dues under this Act namely—

(a) any ship belonging to His Majesty* or to a foreign Prince or State and not carrying cargo or passengers for freight or fares, and

(b) any ship of a tonnage of less than fifty tons and the [Central Government]† may by notification in the [official Gazette]‡ exempt any other ships, or classes of ships or ships performing specified voyages from such payment either wholly or to such extent only as may be specified in the notification.

Notes—Originally it was the intention of the Legislature to exempt ships altogether which were less than thirty tons.—State sent of Objects and Reasons. But the Select 19 Where light-dues have been paid in respect of any ship in excess of the amount payable under this Act, no claim to refund of such excess payment shall be admissible, unless it is made within six months from the date of each payment.

Notes—This section lays down the time limit of claiming the refund of any excess payment of light dues. In the original Bill the time-limit was only three months. But the Select Committee increased the period of three months to six months in order to meet the case of long voyages.

* Certain words after this repealed by G. I. Order of 1937 have been omitted.

THE INDIAN LUNACY ACT, 1912

ACT NO IV OF 1912.

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 16th March, 1912)

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to lunacy

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to lunacy. It is hereby enacted as follows —

Notes.—The Lunacy Act contemplates only the question of lunacy or sanity at the time of enquiry. There is no provision in it that the enquiry shall extend to the ascertainment of the period at which the alleged lunatic first became of unsound mind. 19 C W N 45. The provisions of the Lunacy Act as amended by the Amending Acts are not exhaustive. 42 C W N 92.—A I R 1937 Cal 735.

(3) No person shall present a petition unless he has attained the age of majority as determined by the law to which he is subject, and has within fourteen days before the presentation of the petition personally seen the said lunatic

(4) The petition shall be signed and verified by the petitioner, and the statement of prescribed particulars by the person making such statement

Notes—The petitioner should be the husband or wife or a relative of the alleged lunatic or in default the petitioner must explain why the petition is not presented by such person and the connection of the petitioner with the alleged lunatic and the circumstances under which the petition is presented Halsbury Vol 19, p 53, See also 10 Bom L R 772

7 (1) Upon the presentation of the petition the Magistrate shall consider the allegations in the petition and the evidence of lunacy appearing by the medical certificates

(2) If he considers that there are grounds for proceeding further he shall personally examine the alleged lunatic unless for reasons to be recorded in writing he thinks it unnecessary or inexpedient so to do

(3) If he is satisfied that a reception order may properly be made forthwith, he may make the same accordingly

(4) If he is not so satisfied, he shall fix a date (notice whereof shall be given to the petitioner and to any other person to whom in the opinion of the Magistrate notice should be given) for the consideration of the petition, and he may make such further or other enquiries of or concerning the alleged lunatic as he thinks fit

Notes—Upon the presentation of the petition the Magistrate considers it and the evidence in support of it He may (1) personally see and examine the alleged lunatic if dissatisfied with the evidence or if he considers such a course advisable or (2) he may

8 Upon the presentation of the petition, the Magistrate may make such order as he thinks fit for the suitable custody of the alleged lunatic, pending the conclusion of the inquiry

9 The petition shall be considered in private in the presence of the petitioner, the alleged lunatic, (unless the Magistrate in his discretion otherwise directs) any person appointed by the alleged lunatic to represent him and such other persons as the Magistrate thinks fit

10 (1) At the time appointed for the consideration of the petition, the Magistrate may either make a Order reception order or dismiss the petition, or may adjourn the same for further evidence or inquiry, and may make such order as to the payment of the costs of the inquiry by the person upon whose application it was made, or out of the estate of the alleged lunatic if found to be of unsound mind, or otherwise, as he thinks fit

(2) If the petition is dismissed the Magistrate shall record in writing his reasons for dismissing the same, and shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the petitioner a copy of such order

Notes—When a petition is dismissed the judicial authority delivers to the petitioner a statement of his reasons for dismissing the same Halsbury Vol 19 p 503

11 No reception order shall be made under section 7 or section 10 save in the case of a lunatic who is dangerous and unfit to be at large, unless—Further provisions as to reception orders on petition

(a) the Magistrate is satisfied that the person in charge of an asylum is willing to receive the lunatic, and

(b) the petitioner or some other person engages in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to pay the cost of maintenance of the lunatic.

11A* (1) The Magistrate may, subject to the provisions of this section, by order in writing (hereinafter referred to as an order of substitution), transfer the duties and responsibilities under this Act of the person on whose petition a reception order has been made to any other person who is willing to undertake the same and such other person shall thereupon be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be the person on whose petition the reception order was made, and all references in this Act to such last mentioned person shall be construed accordingly

Provided that no such order of substitution shall release the person upon whose petition the reception order was made or, if he is dead, his legal representative from any liability incurred before the order of substitution was made

(2) Before making any order of substitution, the Magistrate shall send a notice to the person upon whose petition the reception order was made, if he is alive and to any relative of the lunatic to whom, in the opinion of the Magistrate, notice should be given the notice shall specify the name of the person in whose favour it is proposed to make such order and the date, which shall be not less than twenty days from the sending of the notice, upon which any objection to the making of the order will be considered

(3) On such date or any subsequent date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the Magistrate shall consider any objection made by any person to whom notice has been sent, or by any other relative of the lunatic, and shall receive all such evidence as may be produced by or on behalf of any of such persons and such further evidence, if any, as the Magistrate thinks necessary, and may thereafter make or refrain from making an order of substitution

Provided that, if the person on whose petition the reception order was made is dead and any other person is willing and, in the opinion of the Magistrate, fitted to undertake the duties and responsibilities under this Act of such first-mentioned person, the Magistrate shall make such an order

(4) If in proceedings under this section any question arises as to the person to whom the duties and responsibilities under this Act of a person upon whose petition a reception order has been made shall be entrusted, the Magistrate shall give a preference to the person who is the nearest relative of the lunatic, unless, for reasons to be recorded in writing, the Magistrate considers that such preference would not be in the interests of the lunatic

(5) The Magistrate may make such order for the payment of the costs of an enquiry under this section by any person who is a party thereto or out of the estate of the lunatic, as he thinks fit

(6) Any notice under sub-section (2) may be sent by post to the last known address of the person for whom it is intended

11B* (1) When an arrangement has been made with any foreign European State with respect to the reception of lunatics in asylums in British India, [Central Government]† may, by notification in the [official Gazette]† direct that reception orders may be made under this Act in the case of any lunatic or class of lunatics residing in the territories in India of such foreign European State, and shall in such notification specify the province or provinces within which such reception orders may be made

(2) On publication of a notification under sub-section (1) the provisions of this Act as to the making of reception orders on petition and for temporary detention in suitable custody shall apply in the case of such lunatics, with the following modifications, namely —

(a) an application for a reception order may be made by petition presented by such officer or agent of the foreign State in which the alleged lunatic ordinarily resides, as may by general or special order be approved by the [Provincial Government]† in this behalf,

(b) the functions of the Magistrate shall be performed by such officer as the [Provincial Government]† may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf, and such officer shall be deemed to be the Magistrate having the jurisdiction over the alleged lunatic for all the purposes of the said provisions,

(c) for the purposes of sections 5 and 18 (1), the expressions "medical officer" and "medical practitioner" shall include such person or class of persons as the [Provincial Government]† may specify in this behalf;

(d) the Magistrate may in his discretion extend the period

Notes —This section authorises the administrative medical officer to make a reception order in cases of lunatic soldiers

13 (1) Every officer in charge of a police station may arrest or cause to be arrested all persons found wandering at large within the limits of his station whom he has reason to believe to be lunatics and shall arrest or cause to be arrested all persons within the limits of his station whom he has reason to believe to be dangerous by reason of lunacy Any person so arrested shall be taken forthwith before the Magistrate

(2) Every officer in charge of a police-station who has reason to believe that any person within the limits of his station is deemed to be a lunatic and is not under proper care and control or is cruelly treated or neglected by any relative or other person having the charge of him, shall immediately report the fact to the Magistrate

Provided that, if any friend or relative desires that the lunatic be sent to a licensed asylum and engages in writing to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to pay the cost of maintenance of the lunatic in such asylum, the Magistrate shall, if the person in charge of such asylum consents, make a reception order for the admission of the lunatic into the licensed asylum mentioned in the engagement

Provided further that if any friend or relative of the lunatic enters into a bond with or without sureties for such sum of money as the Magistrate thinks fit, conditioned that such lunatic shall be properly taken care of, and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to others, the Magistrate, instead of making a reception order, may, if he thinks fit, make him over to the care of such friend or relative

(2) If such relative or other person is legally bound to maintain the alleged lunatic, the Magistrate may make an order for such alleged lunatic being properly cared for and treated and, if such relative or other person wilfully neglects to comply with the said order, the Magistrate may sentence him to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month

(3) If there is no person legally bound to maintain the alleged lunatic, or if the Magistrate thinks fit so to do, he may proceed as prescribed in section 14, and upon being satisfied in manner aforesaid that the person deemed to be a lunatic is a lunatic and a proper person to be detained under care and treatment may, if a medical officer gives a medical certificate with regard to such lunatic, make a reception order for the admission of such lunatic into an asylum 16 (1) When any person alleged to be a lunatic is brought before a Magistrate under the provisions of section 13 or section 15 the Magistrate may, by an order in writing, authorise the detention of the alleged lunatic in suitable custody for such time not exceeding ten days as may be, in his opinion, necessary to enable the medical officer to determine whether such alleged lunatic is a person in respect of whom a medical certificate may be properly given.

(2) The Magistrate may, from time to time, for the same purpose by order in writing, authorise such further detention of the alleged lunatic for periods not exceeding ten days at a time as he thinks necessary.

Provided that no person shall be detained in accordance with the provision of this section for a total period exceeding thirty days from the date on which he was first brought before the Magistrate.

Further provision as to reception orders and medical certificates

18 (1) Every medical certificate under this Act shall be made and signed by a medical practitioner or medical officer, as the case may be and shall be in the form prescribed.

(2) Every medical certificate shall state the facts upon which the person certifying has formed his opinion that the alleged lunatic is a lunatic distinguishing facts observed by himself from facts communicated by others, and no reception order on petition shall be made upon a certificate founded only upon facts communicated by others.

(3) Every medical certificate made under this Act shall be evidence of the facts therein appearing and of the judgment therein.

Judicial powers over person and estate of lunatic

Custody of lunatics and management of their estates

67 (1) The Court may make orders for the custody of lunatics so found by inquisition and the management of their estates

(2) When upon the inquisition it is specially found that the person to whom the inquisition relates is of unsound mind so as to be incapable of managing his affairs, but that he is capable of managing himself, and is not dangerous to himself or to others the Court may make orders, as it thinks fit for the management of the estate of the lunatic including proper provisions for the maintenance of the lunatic and of such members of his family as are dependent on him for maintenance, but it shall not be necessary to make any order as to the custody of the person of the lunatic

Notes—Under the Lunacy Act, the Court has no power to award costs to an unsuccessful applicant out of the estates of the alleged lunatic even though the application is bona fide and in the best interest of the lunatic 152 Ind Cas 882=1934 M W N 1259=40 L W 710=67 M L J 797

69 (1) If the estate of a lunatic so found consists in whole or in part of land or any interest in land [but is not of such a nature that it would subject the proprietor, if disqualified, to the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards,]† the District Court may direct the Collector to take charge of the person and estate of the lunatic

Power to direct Collector to take charge of person and estate of lunatic in certain cases

Provided that no such order shall be made without the consent of the Collector previously obtained

(2) The Collector shall thereupon appoint a manager of the estate, and may appoint a guardian of the person of the lunatic

70 All proceedings of the Collector in regard to the person or estate of a lunatic under this Chapter shall be subject to the control of the [Provincial Government]‡ or of such authority as it may appoint in this behalf

Control over proceeding of Collector

71 (1) In all other cases the District Court shall appoint a manager of the estate of the lunatic and may appoint a guardian of his person

Power of District Court to appoint guardian and manager and take security from manager

Provided that a District Court may, instead of appointing a manager of the estate of a lunatic, exercise any of the powers conferred on the [High]§ Court under sections 56 and 59

(2) Any person who has been appointed by the District Court or Collector to manage the estate of a lunatic shall, if so required, enter into a bond in such form and with such sureties as to the Court or the Collector, as the case may be, may seem fit, engaging duly to account for what he may receive in respect of the property of the lunatic

Remuneration of managers and guardians

74 (1) The person appointed to be guardian of a lunatic's person shall have the care of his person and maintenance

(2) When a distinct guardian is appointed, the manager shall pay to the guardian such allowance as may be fixed by the District Court or the Collector, as the case may be for the maintenance of the lunatic and such members of his family as are dependent on him for their maintenance

75 (1) Every manager of the estate of a lunatic appointed as aforesaid may exercise the same powers in the management of the estate as might have been exercised by the proprietor if not a lunatic and may collect and pay all just claims, debts and liabilities due to or by the estate of the lunatic

Powers of manager

Provided that no manager so appointed shall without the permission of the Court—

(a) mortgage, charge or transfer by sale gift, exchange or otherwise any immoveable property of the lunatic

(b) lease any such property for a term exceeding five years Such permission may be granted subject to any condition or restriction which the Court thinks fit to impose

(2) Before granting any such permission, the Court may cause notice of the application for such permission to be served on any relative or friend of the lunatic and may make or cause to be made such inquiries as to the Court may seem necessary in the interests of the lunatic

ACT NO XVIII OF 1921

PASSED BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL

(Received the assent of the Governor-General on the 5th October, 1921)

An Act to facilitate the enforcement in British India of Maintenance Orders made in other parts of His Majesty's Dominions and Protectorates and vice versa

WHEREAS it is expedient to facilitate the enforcement in British India of Maintenance Orders made in other parts of His Majesty's Dominions and Protectorates and vice versa It is hereby enacted as follows —

clear express on in the enacting part thereof 18 C L J 187 11 A 260 14 A 145 45 C 313

Short title and extent

1 (1) This Act may be called the Maintenance Orders Enforcement Act, 1921

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including the Sonthal Parganas and British Baluchistan

Definitions

2 In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Court of summary jurisdiction" means the Court of a Chief Presidency Magistrate or of a District Magistrate

"dependants" means such persons as a person against whom a maintenance order is made is liable to maintain according to the law in force in the part of His Majesty's Dominions in which the maintenance order is made

"maintenance order" means a decree or order, other than an order of affiliation, made by a Court in the exercise of civil or criminal jurisdiction for the periodical payment of sums of money towards the maintenance of the wife or other dependants of the person against whom the order is made,

"prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act,

"proper authority" means the authority appointed by, or under the law of, reciprocating territory to receive and transmit documents to which this Act applies, and

"reciprocating territory" means any part of His Majesty's Dominions outside British India in respect of which this Act for the time being applies

Notes—A definition clause is always to be read subject to context

3 (1) If the Governor-General in Council is satisfied that Reciprocal arrangements provisions have been made by the Legislature of any part of His Majesty's Dominions for the enforcement within that part of maintenance orders made by Courts in British India, the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that this Act applies in respect of that part of His Majesty's Dominions and thereupon it shall apply accordingly

(2) The Governor-General in Council may, by like notification declare that this Act applies in respect of any British protectorate, or in respect of any State in India, and where such a declaration has been made, this Act shall apply as if such protectorate or State were a reciprocating territory

Notes—The object of this enactment appears to be that persons against whom maintenance order has been passed by any Court in any part of His Majesty's Dominions should not be allowed to avoid this liability by residing in any other part of His Majesty's Dominions

4 (1) Where a maintenance order has, whether before or after the passing of this Act, been made against any person by any Court in any reciprocating territory, and a certified copy of the order has been transmitted by the proper authority of that territory to the Governor-General, the Governor-General in Council shall send a copy of the order to the prescribed officer of a Court in British India for registration, and, on receipt thereof, the order shall be registered in the prescribed manner.

(2) The Court in which an order is to be so registered as aforesaid shall, if the Court by which the order was made was, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, a Court of superior jurisdiction, be a High Court, and, if the Court was not, in his opinion, a Court of superior jurisdiction be a Court of summary jurisdiction

5 Where a Court in British India has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, made a maintenance order against a person and it is proved to that Court

Transmission of maintenance orders made in British India

against whom the order was made is resident in a reciprocating territory, the Court shall send to the Governor-General in Council, for transmission to the proper authority of that territory, a certified copy of the order by a Presidency

This section has the enactment of the procedure laid down in this section

6 (1) Where application is made to a Court of summary jurisdiction in British India for a maintenance

Power of Summary Courts to make provisional maintenance orders against persons resident in His Majesty's Dominions outside British India order against any person, and it is proved that that person is resident in a reciprocating territory the Court may, in the absence of that person, if after hearing the evidence it is satisfied of the justice of the application make any such order as it might have made if that person had wilfully neglected to attend the Court but in such case the orders shall be provisional only and shall have no effect unless and until confirmed by a competent Court in such territory

(2) The evidence of every witness who is examined on any such application shall be reduced to writing, and such deposition shall be read over to and signed by him

(3) Where such an order is made the Court shall send to the Governor General in Council, for transmission to the proper authority of the reciprocating territory in which the person against whom the order is made is alleged to reside, the depositions so taken and a certified copy of the order together with a statement of the grounds on which the making of the order might have been opposed if the person against whom the order is made had been duly served with a summons and had appeared at the hearing and such information as the Court possesses for facilitating the identification of that person and ascertaining his whereabouts

(4) Where any such provisional order has come before a Court in a reciprocating territory for confirmation and the order has by that Court been remitted to the Court of summary jurisdiction which made the order for the purpose of taking further evidence that Court shall after giving the prescribed notice proceed to take the evidence in like manner and subject to the like conditions as the evidence in support of the original application

(5) If it appears to the Court hearing such evidence that the order ought not to have been made the Court may rescind the order but in any other case the depositions shall be sent to the Governor-General in Council and dealt with in like manner as the original depositions

(6) The confirmation of an order made under this section shall not affect any power of a Court of summary jurisdiction to vary or rescind that order

Provided that on the making of a varying or rescinding order the Court shall send a certified copy thereof to the Governor General in Council for transmission to the proper authority of the reciprocating territory in which the original order was confirmed or to which it was sent for confirmation and that, in the case of an order varying the original order, the order shall not have any effect unless and until confirmed in like manner as the original order

Notes—This section confers jurisdiction to a Court of British India even where the person against whom an order is sought to be passed is resident outside British India and in a reciprocating territory. But in such a case only a provisional maintenance order is to be passed

7 (1) Where a maintenance order has been made by a Court in a reciprocating territory and the order is provisional only, and has no effect unless and until confirmed by a Court of summary jurisdiction in British India, and a certified copy of the order, together with the depositions of the witnesses and a statement of the grounds on which the order might have been opposed, has been transmitted to the Governor-General and it appears to the Governor-General in Council that the person against whom the order has been made is resident in British India the Governor-General in Council may send the said documents to the prescribed officer of a Court of summary jurisdiction, with a requisition that a summons be issued calling upon the person to show cause why that order should not be confirmed, and, upon receipt of such documents and requisition the Court shall issue such a summons and cause it to be served upon such person

(2) A summons issued under sub-section (1) shall for all purposes be deemed to be a summons issued by the Court in exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction

(3) At the hearing it shall be open to the person to whom the summons was issued to raise any defence which he might have raised in the original proceedings had he been a party thereto, but no other defence, and the certificate from the Court which made the provisional order stating the grounds on which the making of the order might have been opposed if the person against whom the order was made had been a party to the proceedings shall be conclusive evidence that those grounds are grounds on which objection may be taken

(4) If at the hearing the person served with the summons does not appear or, on appearing, fails to satisfy the Court that the order ought not to be confirmed, the Court may, notwithstanding any pecuniary limit imposed on its power by any law for the time being in force in British India, confirm the order either without modification or with such modifications as to the Court after hearing the evidence may seem just.

Provided that no sum shall be awarded as maintenance under this section, or shall be recoverable as such, at a rate exceeding that proposed in the provisional order

(5) If the person to whom the summons was issued appears at the hearing and satisfies the Court that for the purpose of any defence it is necessary to remit the case to the Court which made the provisional order for the taking of any further evidence, the Court may for that purpose send a certified copy of the record to the Governor-General in Council for transmission to that Court through the proper authority of the reciprocating territory, and may

(6) Where a provisional order has been made by the confirming Court, and where on an

for rescission or variation the Court is satisfied that it is necessary to remit the case to the Court which made the provisional order for the purpose of taking any further evidence, the Court may for that purpose send a certified copy of the record to the Governor-General in Council for transmission to that Court through the proper authority of the reciprocating territory and may adjourn the proceedings

Notes—This section lays down the procedure how a provisional order passed by a Court in a reciprocating territory is to be confirmed

8 (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, where an order has been registered under this Act in a High Court, the order shall, from the date of such registration, be of the same force and effect, and all proceedings may be taken thereon as if it had been an order originally obtained in the High Court in the exercise of its civil jurisdiction or in such Civil Court subordinate to that High Court as may be named by the High Court in this behalf, and that Court shall have power to enforce the order accordingly

(2) A Court of summary jurisdiction in which an order has been registered under this Act or by which an order has been confirmed under this Act, and the officers of such Court, shall have such powers and perform such duties, for the purpose of enforcing the order, as may be prescribed

Notes—An order which is registered either in a High Court or in a Court of summary jurisdiction is deemed to be an order by such Court although it is passed by a Court in a reciprocating territory

9 A Court in registering or confirming an order for maintenance in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall direct that the charges for the transmission to the Court, from which the order has been received or in which the provisional order has been made, as the case may be, of the sum awarded as maintenance shall be borne by the person against whom the order has been so made or confirmed, and shall be recovered from him in addition to the sum awarded as maintenance and in addition to, and in the same manner as such other costs and charges as may be awarded or levied by the Court

Notes—The cost of transmission is to be borne by the person against whom the order is passed

10 For the purposes of this Act any document purporting to be signed by a Judge or officer of a Court outside British India shall until the contrary is proved be deemed to have been so signed without proof of the signature of judicial or official character of the person appearing to have signed it and the officer of a Court by whom a document is signed shall until the contrary is proved be deemed to have been the proper officer of the Court to sign the document

Notes—This section should be read as supplemental to the Indian Evidence Act

11 Depositions taken in a Court in any reciprocating territory may for the purposes of this Act, be received in evidence in proceedings before Courts of summary jurisdiction under this Act

12 The Governor-General in Council may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the purposes of this Act, and in particular may make rules for the levy of the costs or charges for anything done under this Act and for all matters which are directed or permitted to be prescribed

Notes—All such rules have the force of law

9. (1) The Provincial Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, define any area as an area within which for a specified term of years the carrying out periodically of field firing and artillery practice may be authorised

Power of Provincial Government to authorise field firing and artillery practice

(2) The Provincial Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, authorise the carrying out of field firing and artillery practice throughout a notified area or any specified part thereof during any period or periods specified in the notification

(3) Before any notification under sub-section (2) is issued, the Provincial Government shall publish notice of its intention to issue such notification as early as possible in advance of the issue of the notification, and no such notification shall be issued until expiry of two months from the date of the first publication of the notice in the local official Gazette

(4) The notice required by sub-section (3) shall be given by publication in the local official Gazette and shall also be given throughout the notified area by publication in some newspaper circulating in and in the language commonly understood in that area and by beat of drum and by affixation in all prominent places of copies of the said notice in the language of the locality and in such other manner as may be prescribed by rules made under section 13 and shall be repeated by like publication one week as nearly as may be before the commencement of the period or of each period specified in the notification

Provided that the fact of the said beat of drum and affixation shall be verified in writing by one headman and two other literate inhabitants of the locality and provided further that such notice by the beat of drum shall be given seven and two days as nearly as may be before the commencement of such field firing and artillery practice

10 (1) Where a notification under sub-section (2) of section 9 has been issued, such persons as are included in the forces engaged in field firing or artillery practice may, within the notified area or specified part thereof during the specified period or periods,—

(a) carry out field firing and artillery practice with lethal missiles, and

(b) exercise, subject to the provisions of sections 3 and 4, any of the rights conferred by section 3 on forces engaged in military manœuvres

Provided that the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 3 shall not debar entry into, or interference with, any place specified in that sub-section if it is situated in an area declared to be a danger zone under sub-section (2) of this section to the extent that may be necessary to ensure the exclusion from it of persons and domestic animals

Provided further that in the case of a dwelling house occupied by women adequate warning shall be given through a local inhabitant and entry shall be effected after such warning in the presence of two respectable inhabitants of the locality

(2) The Officer commanding the forces engaged in any such practice may, within the notified area or specified part thereof, declare any area to be a danger zone and thereupon the Collector shall, on application made to him by the Officer commanding the forces engaged in the practice, prohibit the entry into and secure the removal from domestic animals during the times is taking place or there is danger

11 The provisions of sections 5 and 6 shall apply in the case of field firing and artillery practice as they apply in the case of military manœuvres

Compensation
Provided that the compensation payable under this section shall include compensation for exclusion or removal from any place declared to be a danger zone of persons or domestic animals, such compensation to be disbursed at not less than the minimum rates prescribed by rules made under section 13 before the exclusion or removal is enforced, and shall also include compensation for any loss of employment or deterioration of crops resulting from any such exclusion or removal

12 If, during any period specified in a notification issued under sub-section (2) of section 9, any person Offences within a notified area—

(a) wilfully obstructs or interferes with the carrying out of field firing or artillery practice, or

(b) without due authority enters or remains in any camp, or

(c) without due authority enters or remains in any area declared to be a danger zone at a time when entry thereto is prohibited, or

(d) without due authority interferes with any flag or mark or target or any apparatus used for the purposes of the practice, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to ten rupees

1 This Act may be called the Burma Merchandise Marks Act

Cr C H Vol I—123

(1) "trade-mark" has the meaning assigned to that expression in section 478 of the Indian Penal Code as amended by this Act ;

(2) "trade description" means any description, statement, or other indication, direct or indirect,—

(a) as to the number, quantity, measure, gauge, or weight of any goods, or

(b) as to the place or country in which, or the time at which, any goods were made or produced, or

(c) as to the mode of manufacturing or producing any goods, or

(d) as to the material of which any goods are composed, or

(e) as to any goods being the subject of an existing patent, privilege, or copyright , and the use of any numeral, word, or mark which, according to the custom of the trade, is commonly taken to be an indication of any of the above matters, shall be deemed to be a trade description within the meaning of this Act

(3) "false trade description" means a trade description which is untrue in a material respect as regards the goods to which it is applied, and includes every alteration of a trade description whether by way of addition, effacement or otherwise, where that alteration makes the description untrue in a material respect, and the fact that a trade description is a trade mark or part of a trade mark shall not prevent such trade description being a false trade description within the meaning of this Act ,

(4) "goods" means anything which is the subject of trade or manufacture , and

(5) "name" includes any abbreviation of a name the convenience of motorists and to give increased facilities for motor travel. The Motor Vehicle International Circular on Act 1912 (XII of 1912) was the first step in this direction and its provisions are re-enacted in the present Bill' — Statement of Objects and Reasons

Short title extent and commencement

[1 (1) This Act may be called the Indian Motor Vehicles Act, 1914

(2) This Act except Part III thereof, extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan the Santhal Parganas and the Pargana of Sipit. Part III extends in the first instance only to the Provinces of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab*, Bihar and Orissa, the North-West Frontier Province and Delhi. The [Provincial Government]† of any other Province may, by notification in the 'official Gazette' ‡ extend Part III to the whole or any part of such Province.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government† by notification in the 'official Gazette' ‡ may direct.]‡

Notes—Part III deals with licensing and control of motor vehicles. It is extended in the first instance to those Provinces in which or in parts of which such provisions already exist, but the other local governments can notify its extension within their jurisdiction.—Notes on Clauses

2 'Motor Vehicle' includes a vehicle, carriage or other means of conveyance propelled, or which may be propelled on a road by electrical or mechanical power either entirely or partially

Definitions

'prescribed' means prescribed by rules under this Act

'public place' means a road, street, way or other place whether a thoroughfare or not, to which the public are granted access or over which they have a right to pass

PASSED BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 16th February, 1917)

An Act to provide for the imposition and levy of certain duties on motor spirit

WHEREAS it is expedient to impose an excise duty and to increase the existing customs duty on motor spirit, It is hereby enacted as follows—

Short title, extent and duration

1 (1) This Act may be called the Motor Spirit (Duties) Act, 1917.

[(2) It extends to the whole of British India, *]†

(3) It shall remain in force during the continuance of the present war, and for a period of six months thereafter

Definitions

2 "Manufactory" means any place where motor spirit is refined or otherwise prepared.

"Motor spirit" means any inflammable hydro-carbon (including any mixture of hydro carbons or any liquid containing hydro-carbon) which is capable of being used for providing reasonably efficient motive power for any form of motor vehicle

3 (1) There shall be levied and collected at every manufactory, in [British India]‡ on all motor spirit produced in such manufactory, a duty at the rate of "eight annas"§ on each imperial gallon.

Explanation—Motor spirit is said to be produced within the meaning of this section when it is issued out of the premises of the manufactory

(2) If any duty payable under sub-section (1) is not paid within the time fixed by a notice issued in accordance with any rules made under this Act, the authority to which such duty is payable may, in lieu thereof, recover any sum not exceeding double the amount of the duty so unpaid, which such authority may in its discretion think it reasonable to require

(3) All sums recoverable under sub section (1) shall be recovered in the manner prescribed in the Indian Income-Tax Act, 1886,|| section 30, sub sections (1), (2) and (3), with respect to the sums therein referred to

4 (1) After the commencement of this Act, no person shall issue any motor spirit out of the premises of any manufactory except in accordance with the provisions of rules made under this Act in that behalf, or, until such rules are made, in accordance with the general or special orders of the [Central Government]¶

(2) Whoever contravenes the provisions of sub-section (1), shall be punishable with fine which may extend to rupees one thousand or to a sum double the amount of the duty payable on any motor spirit so issued, whichever is greater

5 (1) The [Central Government]¶ may, by notification in the [official Gazette], declare that any of the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878†† relating to the levy of and exemption

(i) imposing on owners of manufactories the duty of furnishing returns, and keeping records and books, prescribing the forms of such returns, records and books and the particulars to be contained therein respectively, and the manner in which the same are to be verified and all such other conditions thereof as may be necessary,

(ii) providing for the regulation of the issue of motor spirit out of manufactories, the assessment of the duty, and the issue of notices requiring payment and for the recovery of unpaid duty,

(iii) providing for the inspection of manufactories and for the taking of samples, and for the making of tests of any substance produced therein

(iv) generally carrying into effect the purposes hereinbefore specified

(2) In making any rule under the rule-making power hereinbefore conferred, the [Central Government]* may declare that any breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to rupees five hundred.

6 In addition to the duty imposed by section 3 of Indian Tariff Act, 1894† as subsequently amended read with Schedule II of the said Act, there shall be levied and collected at every port to which that Act applies a duty at the rate of six annas on each imperial gallon of motor spirit, and this additional duty shall be deemed to be a duty imposed under section 3 of the said Act and that Act shall apply accordingly

(Received the Governor-General's assent on the 15th March, 1881)

An Act to empower the Government to remove or destroy obstructions in fairways, and to prevent the creation of such obstructions

WHEREAS it is expedient to empower the Government to remove or destroy obstructions to navigation in fairways leading to ports in British India, and to prevent the creation of such obstructions, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Short title Commencement 1. This Act may be called the Obstructions in Fairways Act, 1881 *

But nothing herein contained shall apply to vessels [belonging to or hired by a contract made on behalf of the Crown] †

Notes — This Act is based on Imperial Statute 40 and 41 Vict c 16 (The removal of Wrecks Act 1877) This Act is more extensive than the above mentioned Statute It is not confined to obstructions caused by wrecks but it extends to fishing stakes, ballast and any other thing which may form obstruction or danger to navigation

2. Whenever, in any fairway leading to any port in British India, any vessel is sunk, stranded or abandoned, or any fishing-stake, timber or other thing is placed or left, [the Central Government] ‡ may, if in its opinion such thing is, or is likely to become, an obstruction or danger to navigation,—

(a) cause such thing or any part thereof to be removed ;

(b) if such thing is of such a description or so situate that, [in the opinion of the Central Government] ‡ it is not worth removing, cause the same or any part thereof to be destroyed

3 Whenever anything is removed under section 2, [the Central Government] ‡ shall be entitled to receive a reasonable sum, having regard to all the circumstances of the case for the expenses incurred in respect of such removal.

Any dispute arising concerning the amount due under this section, in respect of anything so removed shall be decided by the District Magistrate ‡ or Presidency Magistrate having jurisdiction at the place where such thing is, upon application to him for that purpose by either of the disputing parties, and such decision shall be final

Notes — This section empowers the Government to realise cost of removal of obstruction from parties causing obstruction

4 The [Central Government] ‡ shall, whenever anything is removed under section 2, publish in the [official Gazette] ‡ a notification containing description of such thing, and the time at which and the place from which the same was so removed

* Certain words repealed by Act 10 of 1914 have been omitted

† Substituted by G I Order of 1937

‡ See Act V of 1893, s 3

Notes—Notice of removal of obstruction must be given in the local official Gazette

Things removed may, in certain cases be sold

5 If, after publishing such notification, such thing is unclaimed, or if the person claiming the same fails to pay the amount due for the said expenses and any customs duties or other charges properly incurred by the [Central Government]* in respect thereof, the [Central Government]* may sell such thing by public auction, if it is of a perishable nature, forthwith, and, if it is not of a perishable nature, at any time not less than six months after publishing such notification as aforesaid

Notes—The thing removed if unclaimed can be sold by the Government

6 On realising the proceeds of such sale, the amount due for expenses and charges as aforesaid, together with the expenses of the sale, shall be deducted therefrom, and the surplus (if any) shall be paid to the owner of the thing sold, or, if no such person appear and claim such surplus, shall be held in deposit for payment, without interest, to any person thereafter establishing his right to the same

Provided that he makes the claim within one year from the date of the sale

Notes—After a year the sum deposited will be forfeited

7. For the purposes of this Act, the term 'vessel' shall be deemed to include also every article or thing or collection of things being or forming part of the tackle, equipment cargo, stores or ballast of a vessel and any proceeds arising from the sale of a vessel, and of the cargo thereof or of any other property recovered therefrom shall be regarded as a common fund

8 The [Central Government]* may, from time to time by notification in the [official Gazette]* make rules to regulate or prohibit, in any fairway leading to a port in British India, the placing of fishing-stakes, the casting or throwing of ballast, rubbish or any other thing likely to give rise to a bank or shoal, or the doing of any other act which will in his opinion, cause, or be likely to cause obstruction or danger to navigation

9 Whoever is guilty of any act or omission in contravention of the rules made under section 8 may be tried for such offence in any district or Presidency-town in which he is found, and shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both

10 Whenever the maintenance or creation of an obstruction in any fairway has become lawful by long usage or otherwise and such obstruction is removed or destroyed under section 2, or its creation is regulated or prohibited

Compensation payable in certain cases for damage caused under this Act

under section 8 any person having a right to maintain or create such obstruction shall be entitled to receive from the [Central Government]* reasonable compensation for any damage caused to him by such removal, destruction regulation or prohibition

Every dispute arising concerning the right to such compensation, or the amount thereof, shall be determined according to the law for the time being in force relating to like disputes in the case of land needed for public purposes† and not otherwise, and for the purposes of such law the fairway from or in which such obstruction was removed or destroyed, or in which its creation was regulated or prohibited, shall be deemed to be a part of the Presidency-town or district in which the port to which such fairway leads, is situate

Notes—This section applies where the person creating obstruction has got prescriptive right to do so. In such a case he is to be paid compensation as if the obstruction has been removed and the land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)

11 Whenever any obstruction in a fairway leading to a port in Certain action of the Government previous to passing of this Act be deemed to have been taken hereunder

British India has been removed or destroyed or whenever the creation of any such obstruction has been regulated or prohibited by an order of the [Central Government]* or a [Provincial Government,]* previous to the passing of this Act such removal destruction regulation or prohibition shall be deemed to have been effected under this Act

12 Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prevent the

exercise by the [Central Government]* of any other powers possessed by it in this behalf 13 * All references in this Act to the [Central Government]* shall Application to fairways in inland waterways

Order

† Inserted in British India by G I Order of 1937 In Burma this sub section is not in force, side G B Order of 1937

(c) obtains, collects, records or publishes or communicates to any other person any secret official code or pass word, or any sketch, plan, model, article or note or other document or information which is calculated to be or might be or is intended to be, directly or indirectly useful to an enemy,

he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend, where the offence is committed in relation to any work of defence, arsenal, naval, military or air force establishment or station, mine, minefield, factory, dockyard, camp, ship or aircraft or otherwise in relation to the naval, military or air force affairs of His Majesty or in relation to any secret official code, to fourteen years and in other cases to three years

(2) On a prosecution for an offence punishable under this section with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years, it shall not be necessary to show that the accused person was guilty of any particular act tending to show a purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the state, and, notwithstanding that no such act is proved against him, he may be convicted if, from the circumstances of the case or his conduct or his known character as proved, it appears that his purpose was a purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the state, and if any sketch, plan, model, article, note, document, or information relating to or used in any prohibited place, or relating to anything in such a place, or any secret official code or pass word is made, obtained, collected, recorded, published or communicated by any person other than a person acting under lawful authority, and from the circumstances of the case or his conduct or his known character as proved it appears that his purpose was a purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State, such sketch, plan, model, article, note, document or information shall be presumed to have been made, obtained, collected, recorded, published or communicated for a purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State the latter word is used in clause 7 and it is desirable that the same word should be used in both clauses

Clause 3 (2) — We have limited the application of the provisions of the first part of the sub clause which facilitate proof of a purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State to fourteen years under the sub clause (1) and in respect of those offences for which a special presumption was introduced in the second part of the sub clause we have limited the operation of that presumption by providing that it shall not be raised by the mere fact of the accused having improperly made, obtained, etc., a document of the nature covered by the sub clause. — Report of the Select Committee

4 (1) In any proceedings against a person for an offence under section 3, the fact that he has been in communication with, or attempted to communicate with, a foreign agent, whether within or without [British India]* shall be relevant for the purpose of proving that he has for a purpose

Communication with foreign agents to be evidence of commission of certain offences

* In Burma for 'British India' read 'British Burma' vide G. B. Order of 1937

prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State, obtained or attempted to obtain information which is calculated to be, or might be, or is intended to be, directly or indirectly, useful to an enemy

(2) For the purpose of this section, but without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing provision,—

(a) a person may be presumed to have been in communication with a foreign agent if—

(i) he has, either within or without [British India]* visited the address of a foreign agent or consorted or associated with a foreign agent, or

(ii) either within or without [British India]* the name or address of, or any other information regarding, a foreign agent has been found in his possession, or has been obtained by him from any other person,

(b) the expression "foreign agent" includes any person who is or who has been or in respect of whom it appears that there are reasonable grounds for suspecting him of being or having been employed by a foreign power, either directly or indirectly, for the purpose of committing an act, either within or without [British India]* prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State, or who has or is reasonably suspected of having, either within or without [British India]* committed, or attempted to commit, such an act in the interests of a foreign power,

(c) any address, whether within or without [British India]* in respect of which it appears that there are reasonable grounds, for suspecting it of being an address used for the receipt of communications intended for a foreign agent, or any address at which a foreign agent resides, or to which he resorts for the purpose of giving or receiving communications, or at which he carries on any business, may be presumed to be the address of a foreign agent, and communications addressed to such an address to be communications with a foreign agent

Notes—In (b) and (c) of clause 1 (2) the words "reasonably suspected" has been expanded in order to make it clear that it is the Court which entertains the suspicion. This is effected by the use of the words "it appears" [Cf clause 3 (2)]—Vide Report of the Select Committee

5 If any person having in his possession or control any secret official code or pass word or any sketch,

Wrongful communication etc of information

plan, model article, note, document or information which relates to or is used in a prohibited place or relates to anything in such a place, or which has been made or obtained in contravention of this Act, or which has been entrusted in confidence to him by any person holding office under His Majesty or which he has obtained or to which he has had access owing to his position as a person who holds or has held office under His Majesty, or as a person who holds or has held a contract made on behalf of His Majesty, or as a person who is or has been employed under a person who holds or has held such an office or contract—

(a) wilfully communicates the code or pass word, sketch, plan, model, article, note, document or information to any person other than a person to whom he is authorised to communicate it, or a Court of Justice or a person to whom it is, in the interest of the State, his duty to communicate it, or

(b) uses the information in his possession for the benefit of any foreign power or in any other manner prejudicial to the safety of the State, or

(c) retains the sketch, plan, model, article, note or document in his possession or control when he has no right to retain it, or when it is contrary to his duty to retain it, or wilfully fails to comply with all directions issued by lawful authority with regard to the return or disposal thereof, or

(d) fails to take reasonable care of, or so conducts himself as to endanger the safety of, the sketch, plan, model, article, note, document secret official code or pass word or informations,

he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(2) If any person voluntarily receives any secret official code or pass word or any sketch, plan model, article, note, document or information knowing or having reasonable ground to believe, at the time when he receives it, that the code, pass word, sketch, plan, model, article, note, document or information is communicated in contravention of this Act, he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(3) If any person having in his possession or control any sketch, plan, model, article, note, document or information, which relates to munitions of war communicates it, directly or indirectly, to any foreign power or in any other manner prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State, he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(4) A person guilty of an offence under this section shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both

Clause 5 (1)—In (a) we have inserted the word 'wilfully' as we do not think that negligent communications should be punishable except to the extent to which it is punishable under (d). We have made a similar insertion in (e) for the same purpose. We have also inserted the words 'or in a Court of Justice' in order to protect public officers who have used their discretion under section 124 of the Indian Evidence Act

Clause 5 (2)—We have thought it right to shift the burden of proof that the receipt was a voluntary one to the prosecution—Report of the Select Committee

6 (1) If any person for the purpose of gaining admission or of assisting any other person to gain admission to a prohibited place or for any other purpose prejudicial to the safety of the State—

he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(2) If any person for any purpose prejudicial to the safety of the State—

(a) retains any official document, whether or not completed or issued for use, when he has no right to retain it, or when it is contrary to his duty to retain it, or wilfully fails to comply with any directions issued by any department of the Government or any person authorised by such department with regard to the return or disposal thereof , or

(b) allows any other person to have possession of any official document issued for his use alone, or communicates any secret official code or pass word so issued or, without lawful authority or excuse, has in his possession any official document or secret official code or pass word issued for the use of some person other than himself, or, on obtaining possession of any official document by finding or otherwise, wilfully fails to restore it to the person or authority by whom or for whose use it was issued, or to a police officer , or

(c) without lawful authority or excuse manufactures or sells, or has in his possession for sale, any such die, seal or stamp as aforesaid ,

he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(3) A person guilty of an offence under this section shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both

(4) The provisions of sub-section (2) of section 3 shall apply, for the purpose of proving a purpose prejudicial to the safety of the state, to any prosecution for an offence under this section relating to the naval, military or air force affairs of His Majesty, or to any secret official code in like manner as they apply, for the purpose of proving a purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State to prosecutions for offences punishable under that section with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years

Clause 6 (1) — We consider that the ordinary penal law provides a sufficient penalty for most if not that the penalty for State is affected
(2) and (4)

Clause 6 (2) — We consider that in respect of all offences created by sub clause (2) it should be necessary for the prosecution to prove that the acts complained of were done for a purpose prejudicial to the safety of the State For the insertion of the word 'wilfully' compare note on clause 5 (1) — Report of the Select Committee

7 (1) No person in the vicinity of any prohibited place shall obstruct, knowingly mislead or otherwise interfere with or impede any police-officer or any member of His Majesty's forces engaged on guard sentry, patrol or other similar duty in relation to the prohibited place

(2) If any person acts in contravention of the provisions of this section he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to two years or with fine or with both

Notes — 'Clause 7 (2)' The amendment is of a drafting nature only — Report of the Select Committee

8 (1) It shall be the duty of every person to give on demand to a Superintendent of Police, or other police-officer not below the rank of Inspector, empowered by an Inspector-General or Commissioner of Police in this behalf, or to any member of His Majesty's forces engaged on guard, sentry, patrol or other similar duty, any information in his power relating to an offence or suspected offence under section 3 or under section 3 read with section 9 and if so required, and upon tender of his reasonable expenses, to attend at such reasonable time and place as may be specified for the purpose of furnishing such information

(2) If any person fails to give any such information or to attend as aforesaid, he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to two years or with fine or with both

Clause 8 (1) — We have limited the duty of giving information on demand of various persons to the graver offences under the Bill — Report of the Select Committee

9 Any person who attempts to commit or abets the commission of an offence under this Act shall be punishable with the same punishment and be liable to be proceeded against in the same manner as if he had committed such offence

10 (1) If any person knowingly harbours any person whom he knows or has reasonable grounds for supposing to be a person who is about to commit or who has committed an offence under section 3 or under section 3 read with section 9 or knowingly permits to meet or assemble in any premises in his occupation or under his control any such persons he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(2) It shall be the duty of every person having harboured any such person as aforesaid, or permitted to meet or assemble in any premises in his occupation or under his control any such persons as aforesaid to give on demand to a Superintendent of Police or other police-officer not below the rank of Inspector, empowered by an

Inspector-General or Commissioner of Police in this behalf, any information in his power relating to any such person or persons, and if any person fails to give any such information, he shall be guilty of an offence under this section

(3) A person guilty of an offence under this section shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine or with both

Notes —“We have recast clause (10) to make it clear that it creates two separate offences and we have removed the ambiguity caused by the use of the words ‘omits or refuses’ and have required that the information shall be given on demand to the police officer who may demand it under clause (8).” —Report of the Select Committee

11. (1) If a [Presidency Magistrate],* Magistrate of the first class or Sub-Divisional Magistrate is satisfied by information on oath that there is reasonable ground for suspecting that an offence under this Act has been or is about to be committed, he may grant a search-warrant authorising any police-officer named therein, not being below the rank of an officer in charge of a police station, to enter at any time any premises or place named in the warrant, if necessary, by force and to search the premises or place and every person found therein, and to seize any sketch, plan, model, article, note or document, or anything of a like nature, or anything which is evidence of an offence, under this Act having been or being about to be committed which he may find on the premises or place or any such person, and with regard to or in connection with which he has reasonable ground for suspecting that an offence under this Act has been or is about to be committed.

(2) Where it appears to a police-officer, not being below the rank of Superintendent, that the case is one of great emergency, and that in the interests of the State immediate action is necessary, he may by a written order under his hand give to any police-officer the like authority as may be given by the warrant of a Magistrate under this section

(3) Where action has been taken by a police-officer under subsection (2) he shall, as soon as may be, report such action, [in a Presidency-town to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, and outside such town]* to the District or Sub-Divisional Magistrate

13 (1) No Court (other than that of a Magistrate of the first class especially empowered in this behalf by the "appropriate Government,"* which is inferior to that of a District [or Presidency]† Magistrate shall try any offence under this Act

(2) If any person under trial before a Magistrate for an offence under this Act at any time before a charge is framed claims to be tried by the Court of Session, the Magistrate shall, if he does not discharge the accused, commit the case for trial by that Court, notwithstanding that it is not a case exclusively triable by that Court

(3) No Court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act unless upon complaint made by order of, or under authority from [“appropriate Government”,‡ or some officer empowered by the Governor General in Council in this behalf]§

Provided that a person charged with such an offence may be arrested, or a warrant for his arrest may be issued and executed, and any such person may be remanded in custody or on bail, notwithstanding that such complaint has not been made, but no further or other proceedings shall be taken until such complaint has been made

(4) For the purposes of the trial of a person for an offence under this Act, the offence may be deemed to have been committed either at the place in which the same actually was committed or at any place in [British India] in which the offender may be found,

“(5) In this section the appropriate Government means—

(a) in relation to any offences under section 5 not connected with a prohibited place or with a foreign power, the Provincial Government, and

(b) in relation to any other offence, the Central Government.”¶

Notes — The Committee have proposed no change in this clause but as Mr Neogy has intimated that he proposes to dissent on the ground that all offences under the Act should be triable only by a Court of Session the Committee think it right to express their views in favour of retaining the clause as it stands. Under the Indian Official Secrets Act, 1889 all Magistrates of the first class were authorised to try offences under the Act while under the Bill it is provided that the only Magistrates who may try cases shall be those described in sub clause (1) of this clause. Mr Neogy relies on section 3 of the Official Secrets Act 1911 in which it is laid down that an offence under the Act shall not be tried by any Court outside the United Kingdom. It stands read with the second schedule to the offences punishable under section 3 with imprisonment only by Courts of Session and the Committee are of opinion that the other offences under the Act can properly be tried by Magistrates of the rank named by sub clause (1) and that conclusions on the power of the Magistracy of the United Kingdom are merely misleading. The note moreover states that under the Official Secrets Act 1920 all misdemeanours under that Act and under the Act of 1911 are triable summarily with the consent of the Attorney General and at the same time they do not forget that a person brought up for summary trial can claim to be tried at the assizes. They have also observed that on a trial under the Summary Jurisdiction Act the maximum sentence of imprisonment is three months even though on a trial for the same offence at the assizes on indictment the maximum sentence for the same offence is two years. In the opinion of the committee the decisive factor should be that this Bill sets out to adapt the provisions of the English Acts of 1911 to 1920 to Indian conditions and the Indian Legislature is the best judge as to the capacity of Magistrates in British India to try cases under the Act. —Report of the Select Committee

(ACT NO XXX OF 1934)

(Received the assent of the Governor-General on the 6th September, 1934)

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the import transport storage production, refining and blending of petroleum and other inflammable substances

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the import, transport, storage, production refining and blending of petroleum and other inflammable substances, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Notes — The Indian Petroleum Act 1899 was passed at a time when the use of petroleum particularly of dangerous petroleum or petrol was limited and with the great developments in the use of petroleum that have taken place in the last 30 years it has become necessary to amend the Act in order to bring it in accordance with the requirements of the Government of India Act, 1919, and to provide for the application of the Act to the provinces of the United Provinces of A. & O. P. and to the Chief Commissioner's Provinces. The Act is hereby amended in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee of Enquiry into the Petroleum Industry in India, and the provisions of the Act are hereby amended in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee of Enquiry into the Petroleum Industry in India.

PRELIMINARY

Short title extent and commencement 1 (1) This Act may be called the Petroleum Act, 1934

[(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas]*

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the [Central Government]† may, by notification in the [official Gazette]‡ appoint

Notes — Owing to the greatly extended use of petroleum it is now advisable that the entire Act should apply to British India* —Statement of Objects and Reasons

Definitions

2 In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) 'petroleum means any liquid hydro-carbon or mixture of hydro-carbons, and any inflammable mixture (liquid viscous or solid) containing any liquid hydro carbon,

(b) dangerous petroleum means petroleum having its flashing point below seventy-six degrees Fahrenheit

(c) 'flashing point of any petroleum means the lowest temperature at which it yields a vapour which will give a momentary flash when ignited, determined in accordance with the provisions of Chapter II and the rules made thereunder,

(d) 'to transport petroleum means to move petroleum from one place to another in British India, and includes moving from one place to another in [British India]§ by sea or across territory in India which is not part of [British India] §

* In Burma the words within brackets have been omitted by G. B. Order of 1937.
† In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.
‡ Order of 1937.
§ Order of 1937.

(e) "to import" petroleum means to bring it into [British India]* by land, sea, or air, otherwise than during the course of transport ;

(f) "to store" petroleum means to keep it in any one place, but does not include any detention happening during the ordinary course of transport ,

(g) "motor conveyance" means any vehicle, vessel or air-craft for the conveyance of human beings, animals or goods, by land, water or air, in which petroleum is used to generate the motive power ;

(h) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act.

Clause (a)—A more technical definition based on the chemical composition of petroleum is given

Clause (b)—The proviso to this definition in the old Act is omitted as being obsolete

Clause (d)—This definition is designed to ensure that petroleum which has started from British India and comes back to British India by sea or across other territory and India shall not be treated as import —Notes on Clauses

CONTROL OVER PETROLEUM

Import, transport and storage of petroleum

3 (1) No one shall import, transport or store any petroleum save in accordance with the rules made under section 4

(2) Save in accordance with the conditions of any licence for the purpose which may be required to obtain by rules made under section 4, no one shall import any dangerous petroleum, and no one shall transport or store any petroleum.

made, the authorities which may grant such licences and the fees which may be charged for such licences,

(i) determining in any class of cases whether a licence for the transport of petroleum shall be obtained by the consignor, consignee or carrier,

(j) providing for the granting of combined licences for the import, transport and storage of petroleum or for any two of such purposes,

(k) prescribing the proportion in which any specified poisonous substance may be added to petroleum, and prohibiting the import, transport or storage of petroleum in which the proportion of any specified poisonous substance exceeds the prescribed proportion, and

(l) generally, providing for any matter which in his opinion is expedient for proper control over the import, transport and storage of petroleum

Notes—Sections 3 and 4 provide for control over the import transport and storage of petroleum. It is intended that this should be effective mainly by rules and in addition licences may be required in all cases except in the case of the import of non dangerous petroleum—Notes on Clauses

5 (1) No one shall produce refine or blend petroleum save in accordance with the rules made under sub-section (2)

Production, refining and blending of petroleum

(2) The [Central Government]* may make rules—

(a) prescribing the conditions subject to which petroleum may be produced refined or blended, and

(b) regulating the removal of petroleum from places where it is produced, refined or blended and preventing the storage therein and removal therefrom, except as dangerous petroleum, of any petroleum which has not satisfied the prescribed tests †

Notes—Section 5 gives powers to control by rules the production and refining of petroleum—Notes on Clauses

6 All receptacles containing dangerous petroleum shall have a stamped embossed, painted or printed warning either on the receptacle itself or, where that is impracticable displayed near the receptacle, exhibiting in conspicuous characters the words "Petrol or "Motor Spirit," or an equivalent warning of the dangerous nature of the petroleum

Receptacles of dangerous petroleum to show a warning

Provided that this section shall not apply to—

(a) any securely stoppered glass, stoneware or metal receptacle of less than two gallons capacity containing dangerous petroleum which is not for sale, or

(b) a tank incorporated in a motor conveyance, or attached to an internal combustion engine, and containing petroleum intended to be used to generate motive power for the motor conveyance or engine or

(c) a pipe line for the transport of petroleum, or

1937 1934

so far as such provisions relate to the production of petroleum as made under sub-section (2) matters regulated by rules made under section 13 of the Burma Oil Fields Act 1918

(d) any tank which is wholly underground, or

(e) any class of receptacles which the [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]† exempt from the operation of this section

7. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter, a person

No licence needed for small stocks of non dangerous petroleum not in bulk need not obtain a licence for the transport or storage of non-dangerous petroleum if the total quantity in his possession at any one place does not exceed five hundred gallons and none of it is contained in a receptacle exceeding two hundred gallons in capacity

Notes—Section 7 imposes the restriction that non dangerous petroleum possessed without licence shall not be in bulk —Notes on Clauses

No licence needed for small quantities of dangerous petroleum need not obtain a licence for the import, transport or storage of dangerous petroleum not intended for sale if the total quantity in his possession does not exceed six gallons

(2) Dangerous petroleum possessed without a licence under this section shall be kept in securely stoppered receptacles of glass, stoneware or metal which shall not in the case of receptacles of glass or stoneware exceed one quart in capacity or in the case of receptacles of metal five gallons in capacity

Notes—Section 8 provides for the case of persons who use petrol for cleaning in petrol lamps in automatic lighters etc., it increases for this purpose the limit of dangerous petroleum which may be kept without a licence from three gallons to six and reduces to the same limit the amount which may be imported without a licence —Notes on Clauses

9 (1) The owner of a motor conveyance, who complies with

Exemption for motor conveyances, and stationary engines the requirements of the law for the time being in force relating to the registration and licensing of such conveyance and its driver or pilot and the owner of any stationary internal combustion engine, shall not be required to obtain a licence—

(a) for the import, transport or storage of any petroleum contained in any fuel tank incorporated in the conveyance or attached to the internal combustion engine, or

(b) for the transport or storage of dangerous petroleum, not exceeding twenty gallons in quantity in addition to any quantity possessed under clause (a)

Provided the petroleum is intended to be used to generate motive power for the motor conveyance or engine

(2) The dangerous petroleum transported or stored without a licence under clause (b) shall be kept as provided in sub-section (2) of section 8, and, if it exceeds six gallons in quantity, shall be stored in an isolated place which does not communicate with any room where any person resides or works or in any room where persons assemble

* In British India the words with a bracket have been substituted by C. I. Act of 1937,

Notes—Section 9 contains exemptions specially intended for owners of motor conveyances. Clause (a) exempts petroleum kept in a tank in a motor conveyance from the requirement of a licence. Clause (b) gives the further concession of allowing the owner of a motor conveyance to keep a stock of spare petroleum not exceeding twenty gallons—Notes on Clauses

10 Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter, a railway administration, as defined in section 3 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890* need not obtain any licence for the import or transport of any petroleum in its possession in its capacity as carrier

Notes—Railway administrations have elaborate rules for the carriage of petroleum by rail and this section proposes to exempt them from the need of taking out of any licence in respect of petroleum in their possession as carriers—Notes on Clauses

11 Nothing in this Chapter shall apply to any petroleum which has its flashing point not below two hundred degrees Fahrenheit

12 The [Central Government]† may, by notification in the [official Gazette]‡ exempt any petroleum specified in the notification from all or any of the provisions of this Chapter

13 (1) The [Central Government]† may authorise any officer by name or by virtue of office to enter any place where petroleum is being imported, stored, produced, refined or blended or is under transport, and inspect all receptacles, plant and appliances used in connection with petroleum in order to ascertain if they are in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and the rules made thereunder

13 It shall be lawful for the Inspector General of Police, or any Deputy Inspector-General, or Assistant Inspector-General, or for the District Superintendent subject to the general direction of the Magistrate of the district, on the application of any person showing the necessity thereof to depute any additional number of police-officers to keep the peace at any place within the general police-district and for such time as shall be deemed proper. Such force shall be exclusively under the orders of the District Superintendent, and shall be at the charge of the person making the application.

Provided that it shall be lawful for the person on whose application such deputation shall have been made on giving one month's notice in writing to the Inspector-General, Deputy Inspector-General, or Assistant Inspector General or to the District Superintendent, to require that the police-officers so deputed shall be withdrawn, and such person shall be relieved from the charge of such additional force from the expiration of such notice.

14 Whenever any railway, canal, and other public work, or any manufactory or commercial concern shall be carried on, or be in operation in any part of the country and it shall appear to the Inspector-General that the employment of an additional police-force in such place is rendered necessary by the behaviour, or reasonable apprehension of the behaviour of the persons employed upon such work, manufactory, or concern, it shall be lawful for the Inspector General with the consent of the [Provincial Government],* to depute such additional force to such place, and to employ the same so long as such necessity shall continue, and to make orders, from time to time, upon the person having the control or custody of the funds used in carrying on such work, manufactory, or concern, for the payment of the extra force so rendered necessary, and such person shall thereupon cause payment to be made accordingly.

15 (1) It shall be lawful for the [Provincial Government]* by proclamation to be notified in the official Gazette, and in such other manner as the [Provincial Government]* shall direct to declare that any area subject to its authority has been found to be in a disturbed or dangerous state, or, that, from the conduct of the inhabitants of such area, or of any class or section of them, it is expedient to increase the number of police.

(2) It shall thereupon be lawful for the Inspector-General of Police, or other officer authorised by the [Provincial Government]* in this behalf with the sanction of the [Provincial Government],* to employ any police-force in addition to the ordinary fixed complement to be quartered in the area specified in such proclamation as aforesaid.

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G I Ord 1937. In Burma for these words read 'Governor' vide G B Order of 1937.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (5) of this section, the cost of such additional police-force shall be borne by the inhabitants of such area described in the proclamation

(4) The Magistrate of the district, after such enquiry as he may deem necessary, shall apportion such cost among the inhabitants who are, as aforesaid, liable to bear the same, and who shall not have been exempted under the next succeeding sub-section. Such apportionment shall be made according to the magistrate's judgment of the respective means within such area of such inhabitants

(5) It shall be lawful for the [Provincial Government]* by order to exempt any persons or class or section of such inhabitants, from liability to bear any portion of such cost

(6) Every proclamation issued under sub-section (1) of this section shall state the period for which it is to remain in force, but it may be withdrawn at any time or continued from time to time for a further period or periods as the [Provincial Government]* may in each case think fit to direct

Explanation—For the purposes of this section, 'inhabitants' shall include persons who themselves, or by their agents or servants, occupy or hold land or other immoveable property within such area, and landlords who themselves, or by their agents or servants collect rents direct from ryots or occupiers in such area, notwithstanding that they do not actually reside therein

Notes—The High Court has no power to interfere with an order of a purely executive nature as when a Magistrate appointed special constable under s 17, Act V of 1861 instead of proceeding under s 15 to apply for sanction to an increase to the police force 18 W R Cr 67 As regards clause (4) vide 17 C W N 915=17 C L J 216

THE POLICE (INCITEMENT TO DISAFFECTION) ACT, 1922

(ACT NO. XXII OF 1922)

(Received the assent of the Governor-General on the 5th October, 1922)

An Act to provide a penalty for spreading disaffection among the police and for kindred offences

WHEREAS it is expedient to penalise the spreading of disaffection among the police and other kindred offences, It is hereby enacted as follows — imprisonment for three months

* In British India section 4 has been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937. In Burma this section is not in force.

It has not been shown that the efficacy of this provision has ever been tested and found deficient to cope with the education of members of the police force. It seems to me that a portion of clause 3 is therefore redundant

Short title,* extent and commencement

1 (1) This Act may be called the Police (Incitement to Disaffection) Act 1922

[(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas]*

(3) It shall come into force in any province or part of a province on such date as the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette direct

Notes—It came into force in Burma from the 26th November, 1922, vide Burma Gazette 1922 Pt I p 1057

2 In this Act, the expression "member of a police-force" means Definition any person appointed or enrolled for the performance of police duties under any enactment specified in the Schedule

3 Whoever intentionally causes or attempts to cause, or does Penalty for causing disaffection etc any act which he knows is likely to cause disaffection towards His Majesty or the Government established by law in [British India or British Burma]*†† amongst the members of a police-force, or induces or attempts to induce, or does any act which he knows is likely to induce, any member of a police force, to withhold his services or to commit a breach of discipline shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, or with both

Explanation—Expressions of disapprobation of the measures of the Government with a view to obtain their alteration by lawful means or of disapprobation of the administrative or other action of the Government, do not constitute an offence under this section unless they cause or are made for the purpose of causing or are likely to cause disaffection

Notes—We have made some amendments in this clause which are calculated to put it beyond doubt that the clause in the first place is only aimed at persons acting with intent to commit the offence constituted by the clause and in the second place does not penalise any action taken bona fide to procure in a lawful manner the absence from duty or resignation of a police man for the purpose of bettering his prospects or otherwise as furthering his welfare —Report of the Select Committee

Saving of acts done by police associations and other persons for certain purposes

4 Nothing shall be deemed to be an offence under this Act which is done in good faith—

(a) for the purpose of promoting the welfare or interests of any member of a police-force by inducing him to withhold his services in any manner authorised by law or

(b) by or on behalf of any association formed for the purpose of furthering the interests of members of a police-force as such, where the association has been authorised or recognised by the Government and the act done is done under any rules or articles of the association which have been approved by the Government

5 No Court shall proceed to the trial of any offence under this Act except with the previous sanction, or on the complaint, of the District Magistrate, or, in the case of [a Presidency-town]* of the Commissioner of Police

Sanction to trial of offences by subordinate Courts

Notes — We have added two clauses (Ss 4 and 5) the first of which specifically saves for unstriated election

PENALTIES

102 An undischarged insolvent obtaining credit to the extent of fifty rupees or upwards from any person without informing such person that he is an undischarged insolvent shall on conviction by a Magistrate, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both

* Inserted by Finance Act of 1938

Notes—Section 102 of the Act applies only to an undischarged insolvent adjudicated under the Act. But if a conviction under that section is unsustainable but the facts disclose an offence under section 72 (1) of the Provincial Insolvency Act the High Court may, if it thinks fit, order that the insolvent be committed to prison under the latter Act, provided that the insolvent is not a bankrupt.

Punishment of insolvent for certain offences

103 Any person adjudged insolvent who—

(a) fraudulently with the intent to conceal the state of his affairs, or to defeat the objects of this Act

(i) has destroyed or otherwise wilfully prevented or purposely withheld the production of any books paper or writing relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under this Act, or

(ii) has kept or caused to be kept false books or

(iii) has made false entries in or withheld entries from, or wilfully altered or falsified any book paper, or writing relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under this Act or

(b) fraudulently with intent to diminish the sum to be divided amongst his creditors or of giving an undue preference to any of the said creditors,

(i) has discharged or concealed any debt due to or from him or

(ii) has made away with charged, mortgaged, or concealed any part of his property of what kind soever, shall, on conviction be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years

Notes—To support a conviction under this section a charge must be made against the insolvent and the same must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt before it can be made a

Definitions.

3 In this Act—

(1) 'prison' means any jail or place used permanently or temporarily under the general or special orders of [a Provincial Government]‡ for the detention of prisoners, and includes all lands and buildings appurtenant thereto, but does not include—

(a) any place for the confinement of prisoners who are exclusively in the custody of the police

(b) any place specially appointed by the "Provincial Government" § 541 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1882, || or

(c) any place which has been declared by the [Provincial Government], § by general or special order to be a subsidiary jail

(2) "criminal prisoner" means any prisoner duly committed to custody under the writ, warrant or order of any Court or authority exercising criminal jurisdiction or by order of a Court-martial

(3) "convicted criminal prisoner" means any criminal prisoner under sentence of a Court or Court-martial, and includes a person detained in prison under the provisions of Chapter VIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1882 || or under the Prisoners Act, 1871 ¶

(4) 'civil prisoner' means any prisoner who is not a criminal prisoner

(5) 'remission system' means the rules for the time being in force regulating the award of marks to and the consequent shortening of sentences of prisoners in jails

(6) "history-ticket" means the ticket exhibiting such information as is required in respect of each prisoner by this Act or the rules thereunder

(7) "Inspector-General" means the Inspector-General of Prisons

MAINTENANCE AND OFFICERS OF PRISONS

4 The [Provincial Government]* shall provide, for the prisoners in [the territories under such Government]† accommodation in prisons constructed and regulated in such manner as to comply with the requisitions of this Act in respect of the separation of prisoners

Notes—As regards provisions of separation of prisoners vide s 27 infra

5 An Inspector-General shall be appointed for [the territories subject to each "Provincial Government"]† and shall exercise, subject to the orders of the [Provincial Government] the general control and superintendence of all prisons situated in [the territories under such Government]†

Notes—In England all prisons are under the control of the Secretary of State for Home Department In P v Mortimer Brown Ex parte Arisorth (1909) 74 I P 53 it was held that the Secretary of State notwithstanding his responsibility for the administration of prisons, is not liable to summons in respect of an assault alleged to have been committed by the medical officer of a prison Halsbury's Laws of England Vol 23 p 231

6 For every prison there shall be a Superintendent a Medical Officer (who may also be the Superintendent), a Medical Subordinate, a Jailer, and such other officers as the [Provincial Government]* thinks necessary [Provided that the Provincial Government of Bombay ‡ may declare by order in writing that in any prison specified in the order the office of Jailer shall be held by the person appointed to be Superintendent ¶]

Notes—In England a governor is protected against actions for false imprisonment

Burma

7 Whenever it appears to the Inspector-General that the number of prisoners in any prison is greater than can conveniently or safely be kept therein, and it is not convenient to transfer the excess number to some other prison or whenever from the outbreak of epidemic disease within any prison, or for any other reason, it is desirable to provide for the temporary shelter and safe custody of any prisoners, provision shall be made by such officer and in such manner as the [Provincial Government]* may direct for the shelter and safe custody in temporary prisons of so many of the prisoners as cannot be conveniently or safely kept in the prison

Notes.—Temporary accommodation for prisoners can be made at the instance of the Provincial Government under circumstances mentioned in the section

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

Generally

8 All officers of a prison shall obey the directions of the Superintendent all officers subordinate to the Jailor shall perform such duties as may be imposed on them by the Jailor with the sanction of the Superintendent or be prescribed by rules under section "59" †

9 No officer of a prison shall sell or let, nor shall any person in trust for or employed by him sell or let, or derive any benefit from selling or letting any article to any prisoner or have any money or other business dealings directly or indirectly with any prisoner

10 No officer of a prison shall nor shall any person in trust for or employed by him, have any interest, direct or indirect, in any contract for the supply of the prison nor shall he derive any benefit, directly or indirectly, from the sale or purchase of any article on behalf of the prison or belonging to a prisoner

Superintendent

11 (1) Subject to the orders of the Inspector-General the Superintendent shall manage the prison in all matters relating to discipline, labour expenditure, punishment and control

(2) Subject to such general or special directions as may be given by the [Provincial Government,]* the Superintendent of a prison other than a central prison [or a prison situated in a presidency town] † shall obey all orders not inconsistent with this Act or any rule thereunder which may be given respecting the prison by the District Magistrate, and shall report to the Inspector-General all such orders and the action taken thereon

Notes—In certain matters the Superintendent is subordinate to the District Magistrate

Records to be kept by Superintendent 12 The Superintendent shall keep, or cause to be kept, the following records —

- (1) a register of prisoners admitted ,
- (2) a book showing when each prisoner is to be released ,
- (3) a punishment book for the entry of the punishments inflicted on prisoners for prison-offences ,
- (4) a visitor's book for the entry of any observations made by the visitors touching any matters connected with the administration of the prison ,
- (5) a record of the money and other articles taken from prisoners , and all such other records as may be prescribed by rules under section "59" *

Notes—All these records are to be kept by the Superintendent.

Medical Officer

13 Subject to the control of the Superintendent, the Medical Officer shall have charge of the sanitary administration of the prison, and shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by rules made by the Provincial Government † under section "59"‡

Notes—A medical officer should apply such treatment as may be necessary for restoring a sick prisoner to health or for maintaining them in health Leigh v Gladstone (1909) 26 T L R 139

14 Whenever the Medical Officer has reason to believe that the mind of a prisoner is, or is likely to be, injuriously affected by the discipline or treatment to which he is subjected, the Medical Officer shall report the case in writing to the Superintendent, together with such observations as he may think proper

This report, with the orders of the Superintendent thereon, shall forthwith be sent to the Inspector-General for information

Notes—Reports made by the Medical Officer to the Superintendent are not privileged Leigh v Gladstone (1909) 26 T L R 139

15 On the death of any prisoner the Medical Officer shall forthwith record in a register the following particulars, so far as they can be ascertained, namely —

- (1) the day on which the deceased first complained of illness or was observed to be ill,
- (2) the labour if any, on which he was engaged on that day,
- (3) the scale of his diet on that day,
- (4) the day on which he was admitted to hospital,

(5) the day on which the Medical Officer was first informed of the illness

(6) the nature of the disease,

(7) when the deceased was last seen before his death by the Medical Officer or Medical Subordinate,

(8) when the prisoner died, and

(9) (in cases where a post-mortem examination is made) an account of the appearances after death, together with any special remarks that appear to the Medical Officer to be required

Jailer

16 (1) The Jailer shall reside in the prison, unless the Superintendent permits him in writing to reside elsewhere

Jailer

(2) The Jailer shall not without the Inspector-General's sanction in writing be concerned in any other employment

Jailer to give notice of death of prisoner

17 Upon the death of a prisoner the Jailer shall give immediate notice thereof to the Superintendent and the Medical Subordinate

18 The Jailer shall be responsible for the safe custody of the records to be kept under section 12, for the commitment warrants and all other documents confided to his care, and for the money and other articles taken from prisoners

Responsibility of Jailer

Notes—The Jailer is responsible for the safe custody of the records etc

19 The Jailer shall not be absent from the prison for a night without permission in writing from the Superintendent, but, if absent without leave for a night from unavoidable necessity, he shall immediately report the fact and the cause of it to the Superintendent

Jailer to be present at night

43 When any person, in the presence of any officer of a prison, commits any offence specified in the last foregoing section, and refuses on demand of such officer to state his name and residence, or gives a name or residence which such officer knows, or has reason to believe, to be false, such officer may arrest him and shall, without unnecessary delay make him over to a police-officer and thereupon such police-officer shall proceed as if the offence had been committed in his presence

44 The Superintendent shall cause to be affixed, in a conspicuous place outside the prison a notice in English and the Vernacular setting forth the acts prohibited under section 42 and the penalties incurred by their commission

Notes—This provision is made for giving the prisoners information as regards the acts which are considered as offences

CHAPTER XI

PRISON OFFENCES.

45 The following acts are declared to be prison-offences when committed by a prisoner —

(1) such wilful disobedience to any regulation of the prison as shall have been declared by rules made under section 59 to be a prison-offence,

(2) any assault or use of criminal force,

(3) the use of insulting or threatening language,

(4) immoral or indecent or disorderly behaviour,

(5) wilfully disabling himself from labour,

(6) contumaciously refusing to work,

(7) filing, cutting, altering, or removing handcuffs, fetters or bars without due authority,

(8) wilful idleness or negligence at work by any prisoner sentenced to rigorous imprisonment,

(9) wilful mismanagement of work by any prisoner sentenced to rigorous imprisonment,

(10) wilful damage to prison-property,

(11) tampering with or defacing history-tickets, records or documents,

(12) receiving, possessing or transferring any prohibited article,

(13) feigning illness,

(14) wilfully bringing a false accusation against any officer or prisoner,

(15) omitting or refusing to report as soon as it comes to his knowledge, the occurrence of any fire, any plot or conspiracy, any escape, attempt or preparation to escape and any attack or preparation for attack upon any prisoner or prison official, and

(16) conspiring to escape, or to assist in escaping, or to commit any other of the offences aforesaid

U. B. R. (1892-1896), Vol. I, 218

46. The Superintendent may examine any person touching any such offence, and determine thereupon, and punish such offence by—

(1) a formal warning

Explanation—A formal warning shall mean a warning personally addressed to a prisoner by the Superintendent and recorded in the punishment-book, and on the prisoner's history-ticket,

(2) change of labour to some more irksome or severe form "for such period as may be prescribed by rules made by the [Provincial Government,]*†

(3) hard labour for a period not exceeding seven days in the case of convicted criminal prisoners not sentenced to rigorous imprisonment,

(4) such loss of privileges admissible under the remission system for the time being in force as may be prescribed by rules made by the [Provincial Government]*,

(5) the substitution of gunny or other coarse fabric for clothing of other material not being woollen for a period which shall not exceed three months,

(6) imposition of handcuffs of such pattern and weight, in such manner and for such period, as may be prescribed by rules made by the [Provincial Government]*

(7) imposition of fetters of such pattern and weight, in such manner and for such period, as may be prescribed by rules made by the [Provincial Government]*,

(8) separate confinement for any period not exceeding "three"† months

Explanation—Separate confinement means such confinement with or without labour as secludes a prisoner from communication with, but not from sight of, other prisoners, and allows him not less than one hour's exercise per diem and to have his meals in association with one or more other prisoners

(9) penal diet,—that is restriction of diet in each manner and subject to such conditions regarding labour as may be prescribed by the [Provincial Government]*

Provided that such restriction of diet shall in no case be applied to a prisoner for more than ninety-six consecutive hours, and shall not be repeated except for a fresh offence nor until after an interval of one week,

(10) cellular confinement for any period not exceeding fourteen days

Provided that after each period of cellular confinement an interval of not less duration than such period must elapse before the prisoner is again sentenced to cellular or solitary confinement

Explanation—Cellular confinement means such confinement with or without labour as entirely secludes a prisoner from communication with, but not from sight of, other prisoners †

‡(11) penal diet as defined in clause (9) combined with "cellular"† confinement

* (12) whipping, provided that the number of stripes shall not exceed thirty.

Provided that nothing in this section shall render any female or civil prisoner liable to the imposition of any form of handcuffs or fetters, or to whipping

Notes—Breaches of discipline of a minor character may be punished by the Governor with any punishment not exceeding close confinement or reduced diet for three days reduction of stage for three months, forfeiture of remission for 14 days and, in the case of idleness or refusal to work deprivation of mattress for three days. For a serious or repeated offence for which the Governor's powers are insufficient a convict is reported to a director who after hearing evidence on oath, may award punishment not exceeding twenty eight days' close confinement, bread and water diet with intervals of fifteen days reduced diet for forty two days, separate confinement for not exceeding six months and forfeiture of works for stage and remissions — Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol 23, p 265

† [47 (1)] Any two of the punishments enumerated in the last foregoing section may be awarded for any such offence in combination, subject to the following exceptions, namely —

(1) formal warning shall not be combined with any other punishment except loss of privileges under clause (4) of that section.

(2) penal diet shall not be combined with change of labour under clause (2) of that section, nor shall any additional period of penal diet awarded singly be combined with any period of penal diet awarded in combination with "cellular" confinement;

"(3) cellular* confinement shall not be combined with separate confinement, so as to prolong the total period of seclusion to which the prisoner shall be liable."

(4) whipping shall not be combined with any other form of punishment except cellular "and" ‡ separate confinement and loss of privileges admissible under the remission system

† "(5) no punishment will be combined with any other punishment in contravention of rules made by the [Provincial Government]§."

† (2) No punishment shall be awarded for any such offence so as to combine, with the punishment awarded for any other such offence, two of the punishments which may not be awarded in combination for any such offence"

48 (1) The Superintendent shall have power to award any of the punishments enumerated in the two last foregoing sections, subject, in the case of separate confinement for a period exceeding one month, to the previous confirmation of the Inspector-General

(2) No officer subordinate to the Superintendent shall have power to award any punishment whatever

49 Except by order of a Court of Justice, no punishment other than the punishments specified in the foregoing sections shall be inflicted on any prisoner, and no punishment shall be inflicted on any prisoner otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of those sections examined by the Medical Officer, who, if he considers the prisoner fit to undergo the punishment, shall certify accordingly in the appropriate column of the punishment-book prescribed in section 12

(2) If he considers the prisoner unfit to undergo the punishment, he shall in like manner record his opinion in writing and shall state whether the prisoner is absolutely unfit for punishment of the kind awarded, or whether he considers any modification necessary

(3) In the latter case he shall state what extent of punishment he thinks the prisoner can undergo without injury to his health

Notes—The object of this section is that a prisoner should not suffer in health for excessive punishment

51. (1) In the punishment-book prescribed in section 12, there shall be recorded, in respect of every punishment inflicted, the prisoner's name, register number and the class (whether habitual or not) to which he belongs, the prison-offence of which he was guilty, the date on which such prison-offence was committed, the number of previous prison-offences recorded against the prisoner, and the date of his last prison-offence, the punishment awarded, and the date of infliction

(2) In the case of every serious prison offence, the names of the witnesses proving the offence shall be recorded, and, in the case of offences for which whipping is awarded, the Superintendent shall record the substance of the evidence of the witnesses the defence of the prisoner, and the finding with the reasons therefor

(3) Against the entries relating to each punishment the Jailer and Superintendent shall affix their initials as evidence of the correctness of the entries

Notes—Such entries will help to prove previous convictions

52 If any prisoner is guilty of any offence against prison-discipline which, by reason of his having frequently committed such offences or otherwise in the opinion of the Superintendent, is not adequately punishable by the infliction of any punishment which he has power under this Act to award the Superintendent may forward such prisoner to the Court of the District Magistrate, or of any Magistrate of the first class ['or Presidency Magistrate,*']† having jurisdiction, together with a statement of the circumstances, and such Magistrate shall thereupon inquire into and try the charge so brought against the prisoner, and, upon conviction, may sentence him to imprisonment which may extend to one year, such term to be in addition to any term for which such prisoner was undergoing imprisonment when he committed such offence, or may sentence him to any of the punishments enumerated in section 46.

THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS' DEFAULTS ACT, 1850

(Passed on the 22nd March, 1850)

For avoiding loss by the default of Public Accountants

Preamble

For better avoidance of loss through the default of public accountants, It is enacted as follows —

1 Every public accountant shall give security for the due discharge of the trusts of his office and for the due account of all moneys which shall come into his possession or control by reason of his office

2 In default of any Act having special reference to the office of any public accountant, the security given shall be of such amount and kind real or personal or both, and with such sureties (regard being had to the nature of the office), as shall be required by any rules made or to be made from time to time, by the authority by which each public accountant is appointed to his office *

[3 For the purposes of sections 1 and 2 of this Act, the expression 'public accountant' means any person who as Official Assignee or Trustee, or as Sarbarahkar, is entrusted with the receipt, custody or control of any moneys or securities for money, or the management of any lands belonging to any other person or persons, and for the purposes of sections 4 and 5 of this Act the expression shall also include any person who, by reason of any office held by him in the service of the 'Crown in India',† is entrusted with the receipt, custody or control of any moneys or securities for money, or management of any lands belonging to the Crown]‡

4 The person or persons at the head of the office to which any public accountant belongs may proceed against any such public accountant and his sureties for any loss or defalcation in his accounts, as if the amount thereof were an arrear of land revenue due to Government

Revision —The High Court has no jurisdiction under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 to interfere with an order passed by a District Judge under s 4 of the Public Accountants' Default Act 19 Bom L R 926=49 Ind Cas 465

5 All regulations and Acts now or hereafter to be in force for the recovery of arrears of land revenue due to Government, and for recovery of damages by any person wrongfully proceeded against for any such arrear, shall apply, with such changes in the forms of procedure as are necessary to make them applicable to the case, to the proceedings against and by such public-accountant

THE PUBLIC SERVANTS (INQUIRIES) ACT, 1850.

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 1st November, 1850)

For regulating inquiries into the behaviour of Public Servants

[WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Preamble into the removable without the sanction of Government throughout the territories under the Government of "India",* It is enacted as follows —]†

1 [Repeal of Acts — Repealed by Act XIV of 1870]

2 Whenever the Government shall be of opinion that there are good grounds for making a formal and public inquiry into the truth of any imputation of misbehaviour by any person in the service of [the Government not removable from his appointment without the sanction of the Government] it 'may'† cause the substance of the imputations to be drawn into distinct articles of charge, and "may"† order a formal and public inquiry to be made into the truth thereof

3 The inquiry may be committed either to the Court, Board or other authority to which the person accused is subordinate, or to any other person or persons, to be specially appointed by the Government, commissioners for the purpose notice of which commission shall be given to the person accused ten days at least before the beginning of the inquiry

Authorities to whom inquiry may be committed

4 When the Government shall think fit to conduct the prosecution, it shall nominate some person to conduct the same on its behalf

5 When the charge shall be brought by an accuser, the Government shall require the accusation to be reduced to writing, and verified by the oath or solemn affirmation of the accuser and every person who shall wilfully and maliciously make any false accusation under this Act, upon such oath or affirmation, shall be liable to the penalties of perjury, but this enactment shall not be construed to prevent the Government from instituting any inquiry which it shall think fit, without such accusation on oath or solemn affirmation as aforesaid

6 Where the imputation shall have been made by an accuser and the Government shall think fit to leave to him the conduct of the prosecution, the Government before appointing the commission shall require him to furnish reasonable security that he will attend and prosecute the charge thoroughly and effectually and also will be forthcoming to answer any counter-charge or action which may be afterwards brought against him for malicious prosecution or perjury, or subordination of perjury, as the case may be

7. At any subsequent stage of the proceedings, the Government may if it think fit, abandon the prosecution, and in such case may, if it think fit on the application of the accuser, allow him to continue the prosecution, if he is desirous of so doing on his furnishing such security as is hereinbefore mentioned

8 The commissioners shall have the same power of punishing contempts and obstructions to their proceedings, as is given to Civil and

Power of commissioners

* In British India the words "Civil and Criminal Courts" were substituted by Act I of 1897 removal from his appointment of 1937 on substituted by G. I. Order of Criminal Courts by "the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898,"* and shall have the same powers for the summons of witnesses and for compelling the production of documents and for the discharge of their duty under the commission, and shall be entitled to the same protection as the Zila and City Judges except that all process to cause the attendance of witnesses or other compulsory process, shall be served through and executed by the Zila or City Judge in whose jurisdiction the witness or other person resides, on whom the process is to be served, [and if he resides within Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, then through the Supreme Court of Judicature there]† When the commission has been issued to a Court, or other person or persons having power to issue such process in the exercise of their ordinary authority, they may also use all such power for the purposes of the commission

9 All persons disobeying any lawful process issued as aforesaid for the purposes of the commission shall be liable to the same penalties as if the same had issued originally from the Court or other authority through whom it is executed

10 A copy of the articles of charge and list of the documents and witnesses by which each charge is to be sustained, shall be delivered to the person accused at least three days before the beginning of the inquiry exclusive of the day of delivery and the first day of the inquiry

11 At the beginning of the inquiry the prosecutor shall exhibit the articles of charge to the commissioners which shall be openly read, and the person accused shall thereupon be required to plead 'guilty' or 'not guilty' to each of them, which pleas shall be forthwith recorded with the articles of charge If the person accused refuses or without reasonable cause neglects to appear to answer the charge either personally or by his counsel or agent, he shall be taken to admit the truth of the articles of charge

12 The prosecutor shall then be entitled to address the commissioners in explanation of the articles of charge and of the evidence by which they are to be proved his address shall not be recorded

13 The oral and documentary evidence for the prosecution shall then be exhibited the witnesses shall be examined by or on behalf of the prosecutor and may be cross examined by or on behalf of the person accused The prosecutor shall be entitled to re-examine the witnesses on any points on which they have been cross-examined

* Substituted by Act V of 1914

† In Burma these words have been omitted by G. B. Order of 1937

but not on any new matter, without leave of the commissioners, who also may put such questions as they think fit

14 If it shall appear necessary before the close of the case for the prosecution, the commissioners may in their discretion allow the prosecutor to exhibit evidence not included in the list given to the person accused, or may themselves call for new evidence, and in such case the person accused shall be entitled to have, if he demand it, an adjournment of the proceedings for three clear days before the exhibition of such new evidence exclusive of the day of adjournment and of the day to which the proceedings are adjourned

15 When the case for prosecution is closed, the person accused shall be required to make his defence orally or in writing, as he shall prefer. If made orally, it shall not be recorded, if made in writing it shall be recorded after being openly read, and in that case a copy shall be given at the same time to the prosecutor.

16 The evidence for the defence shall then be exhibited, and the witnesses examined, who shall be liable to cross-examination and re-examination and to examination by the commissioners according to the like rules as the witnesses for the prosecution

17 [Examination of witnesses and evidence by prosecutor—Repealed by Repealing Act (XII of 1876)]

18 The commissioners or some person appointed by them shall take notes in English of all the oral evidence, which shall be read aloud to each witness by whom the same was given, and, if necessary, explained to him in the language in which it was given, and shall be recorded with the proceedings

19 If the person accused makes only an oral defence, and exhibits no evidence, the inquiry shall end with his defence, if he records a written defence, or exhibits evidence, the prosecutor shall be entitled to a general oral reply on the whole case, and may also exhibit evidence to contradict any evidence exhibited for the defence, in which case the person accused shall not be entitled to any adjournment of the proceedings, although such new evidence were not included in the list furnished to him

20 When the commissioners shall be of opinion that the articles of charge or any of them, are not drawn with sufficient clearness and precision, the commissioners may, in their discretion, require the same to be amended, and may thereupon, on the application of the person accused, adjourn the inquiry for a reasonable time

The commissioners may also, if they think fit adjourn the inquiry from time to time, on the application of either the prosecutor or the person accused, on the ground of sickness or unavoidable absence of any witness or other reasonable cause. When such application is made and refused the commissioners shall record the application, and their reasons for refusing to comply with it.

21 After the close of the inquiry, the commissioners shall forthwith report to Government their proceedings under the commission, and shall send with the record thereof their opinion upon each of the articles of charge separately, with such observations as they think fit on the whole case.

22 The Government, on consideration of the report of the commissioners, may order them to take further evidence, or give further explanation of their opinions. It may also order additional articles of charge to be framed in which case the inquiry into the truth of such additional articles shall be made in the same manner as is herein directed with respect to the original charges. When special commissioners have been appointed, the Government may also, if it thinks fit, refer the report of the commissioners to the Court or other authority to which the person accused is subordinate, for their opinion on the case, and will finally pass such orders thereon as appear just and consistent with its powers in such cases.

[23† In this Act, 'the Government means the Central Government in the case of persons employed under that Government and the Provincial Government in the case of persons employed under that Government]

[24 ‡ Nothing in this Act shall be construed to repeal any Act or Regulation in force for the suspension or dismissal of Principal and other Sadr Amins or of Deputy Magistrates or Deputy Collectors, but a commission may be issued for the trial of any charge against any of the said officers, under this Act in any case in which the Government shall think it expedient]

25 Nothing in this Act shall be construed to affect the authority of Government, for suspending or removing any public servant for any cause without an inquiry under this Act

CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE OF WORKS

7. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act and, in the case of immovable property not belonging to the railway administration, to the provisions of any enactment for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes and for companies, and subject also, in the case of railway company, to the provisions of any contract between the company and the [Government],* a railway administration may, for the purpose of constructing a railway or the accommodation or other works connected therewith, and notwithstanding anything in any other enactment for the time being in force,—

(a) make or construct in, upon, across, under or over any lands, or any streets, hills, valleys, roads, railways or tramways, or any rivers, canals, brooks, streams or other waters, or any drains, water-pipes, gas pipes or telegraph lines, such temporary or permanent inclined planes, arches, tunnels, culverts, embankments, aqueducts, bridges, roads, "lines of railway,"† ways, passages, conduits, drains, piers, cuttings and fences as the railway administration thinks proper,

(b) alter the course of any rivers, brooks, streams, or water-courses, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining tunnels, bridges, passages or other works over or under them, and divert or alter, as well temporarily as permanently, the course of any rivers, brooks, streams or watercourses or any roads, streets or ways, or raise or sink the level thereof, in order the more conveniently to carry them over or under or by the side of the railway, as the railway administration thinks proper;

(c) make drains or conduits into, through or under any lands

adjoining the railway for the purpose of conveying water from or to the railway,

(d) erect and construct such houses warehouses, offices and other buildings, and such yards, stations wharves engines machinery, apparatus and other works and conveniences as the railway administration thinks proper,

(e) alter, repair or discontinue such buildings, works and conveniences as aforesaid or any of them and substitute others in their stead and

(f) do all other acts necessary for making, maintaining altering or repairing and using the railway

(2) The exercise of the powers conferred on a railway administration by sub-section (1) shall be subject to the control of the [general controlling authority]*

Clause (1)—Clause (1) enables the railway company to do all acts necessary for making, maintaining altering or repairing and using the railway, notwithstanding anything in any other enactment for the time being in force 11 Bom L R 1181=31 B 252

A person who alleges in his plaint that a railway company in the execution of the works authorised by this section have interfered with his right to the flow of water to his land but does not suggest in his plaint that the company acted beyond the powers conferred upon them by this section is not entitled to a decree directing the company to construct a new channel for the purposes of irrigating his land, though if he has sustained any damage as the result of the exercise of their powers under the Act by the company he can recover compensation if he adopts the special procedure prescribed by s. 10 of the Act 25 M 632 Where the Legislature authorises a railway company to do certain act it is not liable to pay damages But an action lies even for authorised acts if they are done negligently, hence if the damage could have been prevented by the reasonable exercise of the powers conferred an action can be maintained 2 Bom L R 357 33 B 565

8 A railway administration may, for the purpose of exercising the powers conferred upon it by this Act, alter the position of any pipe for the supply of gas, water or compressed air or the position of any electric wire or of any drain not being a main drain

Provided that—

(a) when the railway administration desires to alter the position of any such pipe, wire or drain, it shall give reasonable notice of its intention to do so, and of the time at which it will begin to do so, to the local authority or company having control over the pipe, wire or drain or, when the pipe, wire or drain is not under the control of a local authority or company, to the person under whose control the pipe, wire or drain is,

(b) a local authority, company or person receiving notice under proviso (a) may send a person to superintend the work, and the railway administration shall execute the work to the reasonable satisfaction of the person so sent and shall make arrangements for continuing during the execution of the work the supply of gas, compressed air or electricity or the maintenance of the drainage the case may be

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by 1937 In Burma for these words read the word 'Board, vide G D Ord

(a) such and so many convenient crossings bridges, arches, culverts and passages over, under or by the sides of, or leading to or from the railway as may, in the opinion of the [Provincial Government],* be necessary for the purpose of making good any interruptions caused by the railway to the use of the lands through which the railway is made, and

(b) all necessary arches tunnels, culverts, drains, watercourses, or other passages, over or under or by the sides of, the railway, of such dimensions as will, in the opinion of the [Provincial Government],* be sufficient at all times to convey water as freely from or to the lands lying near or affected by the railway as before the making of the railway, or as nearly so as may be

(2) Subject to the other provisions of this Act the work specified in clauses (a) and (b) of sub section (1) shall be made during or immediately after the laying out or formation of the railway over the lands traversed thereby and in such manner as to cause as little damage or inconvenience as possible to persons interested in the lands or affected by the works

(3) The foregoing provisions of this section are subject to the following provisos, namely —

(a) a railway administration shall not be required to make any accommodation works in such manner as would prevent or obstruct the working or using of the railway, or to make any accommodation works with respect to which the owners and occupiers of the lands have agreed to receive and have been paid compensation in consideration of their not requiring the works to be made ,

(b) save as hereinafter in this Chapter provided, a railway administration shall not, except on the requisition of the [Provincial Government],* be compelled to defray the cost of executing any further or additional accommodation works for the use of the owners or occupiers of the lands after the expiration of ten years from the date on which the railway passing through the lands was first opened for public traffic ,

(c) where a railway administration has provided suitable accommodation for the crossing of a road or stream, and the road or stream is afterwards diverted by the act or neglect of the person having the control thereof, the administration shall not be compelled to provide other accommodation for the crossing of the road or stream

(4) The [Provincial Government]* may appoint a time for the commencement of any work to be executed under sub section (1) and if for fourteen days next after that time the railway administration fails to commence the work or, having commenced it, fails to proceed diligently to execute it in a sufficient manner, the [Provincial Government]* may execute it and recover from the railway administration the cost incurred by him in the execution thereof

Notes —From the wording of this section it is evident that the Indian Railways Act makes it clear that the Indian Legislature intended that the opinion of the executive with reference to the sufficiency of accommodation works should be final 25 M/63^o Under this section, the purpose for which the accommodation works to be constructed is to convey water as freely as before from or to certain lands 1 aggrieved person is the owner of these lands 2 Bom L R 357

the cost to the railway administration of complying with the requisition, or such portion of the cost as the [safety controlling authority]* thinks just

Notes — "Public road" includes all roads in which the public have a legal right to use at the date when the bridge was constructed (1909) A C 138 Where the company has power to cross a road on the level such power is permissible only and it may if it chooses, cross under or over the road by means of a bridge (1846) 10 Beav 238

Removal of trees dangerous to or obstructing the working of a railway

15 (1) In either of the following cases, namely —

(a) where there is danger that a tree standing near a railway may fall on the railway so as to obstruct traffic.

(b) when a tree obstructs the view of any fixed signal, the railway administration may, with the permission of any Magistrate, fell the tree or deal with it in such other manner as will in the opinion of the railway administration avert the danger or remove the obstruction, as the case may be

(2) In case of emergency the power mentioned in sub-section (1) may be exercised by a railway administration without the permission of a Magistrate.

(3) Where a tree felled or otherwise dealt with under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) was in existence before the railway was constructed or the signal was fixed, any Magistrate may, upon the application of the persons interested in the tree, award to those persons such compensation as he thinks reasonable.

(4) Such an award, subject, where made [in a Presidency-town by any Magistrate other than the Chief Presidency Magistrate or where made elsewhere]† by any Magistrate other than the District Magistrate, to revision by [the Chief Presidency Magistrate, or]† the District Magistrate, as the case may be, shall be final.

(5) A Civil Court shall not entertain a suit to recover compensation for any tree felled or otherwise dealt with under this section.

Notes.—This section corresponds to s. 24 of the Regulation of Railway Act 1868 (31 & 32 Vict. c. 119)

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. C. 1937. In Burma for these words read the word "Board," vide G. B. Order.

† In Burma the words within brackets have been omitted by G B Order

17 (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), a railway administration shall, one month at least before it intends to open any railway for the public carriage of passengers, give to the [safety controlling authority]* notice in writing of its intention

(2) The [safety controlling authority]* may, in any case, if it thinks fit, reduce the period of, or dispense with, the notice mentioned in sub-section (1)

Notes—A line on the land of the company and parallel to an existing line is a "portion of a railway" and cannot be opened without notice A G v Great Western Railway, Co (1872), 7 Ch App 767.

18 A railway shall not be opened for the public carriage of passengers until the [safety controlling authority]* or an Inspector empowered by the [safety controlling authority]* in this behalf, has by order sanctioned the opening thereof for that purpose

Notes—Where a company had power to make a double line and opened the down line with the sanction of the Board, it was held that the Board was not by such sanction functus officio and could refuse to sanction the opening of the up line A G v Oxford etc (1854), 2 W R 390 (Eng.)

19 (1) The sanction of the [safety controlling authority]* under the last foregoing section shall not be given until an Inspector has, after inspection of the railway, reported in writing to the [safety controlling authority]*—

(a) that he has made a careful inspection of the railway and rolling-stock,

(b) that the moving and fixed dimensions prescribed by the [safety controlling authority]* have not been infringed;

(c) that the weight of rails, strength of bridges, general structural character of the works, and the size of and maximum gross load upon the axles of any rolling-stock, are such as have been prescribed by the [safety controlling authority]*,

(d) that the railway is sufficiently supplied with rolling-stock,

(e) that general rules for the working of the railway when opened for the public carriage of passengers have been made, sanctioned and published under this Act, and

(f) that, in his opinion, the railway can be opened for the public carriage of passengers without danger to the public using it.

(2) If in the opinion of the Inspector the railway cannot be so opened without danger to the public using it, he shall state that opinion, together with the grounds therefor, to the [safety controlling authority], and the [safety controlling authority] may thereupon order the railway administration to postpone the opening of the railway

(3) An order under the last foregoing sub-section must set forth the requirements to be complied with as a condition precedent to the opening of the railway being sanctioned, and shall direct the postponement of the opening of the railway until those requirements have been complied with or the [safety controlling authority]* is

otherwise satisfied that the railway can be opened without danger to the public using it

(4) The sanction given under this section may be either absolute or subject to such conditions as the [safety controlling authority]* thinks necessary for the safety of the public

(5) When sanction for the opening of a railway is given subject to conditions, and the railway administration fails to fulfil those conditions the sanction shall be deemed to be void and the railway shall not be worked or used until the conditions are fulfilled to the satisfaction of the [safety controlling authority]*

Notes—The safety controlling authority is not bound by the report of the Inspector but has absolute discretion as regards passing an order under this section 4 Ch D 735 2 W R (1854) 330 (Eng)

20 (1) The provisions of sections 17, 18 and 19 with respect to the opening of a railway shall extend to the opening of the works mentioned in sub-section (2) when those works form part of, or are directly connected with a railway used for the public carriage of passengers and have been constructed after the inspection which preceded the first opening of the railway

Application of the provisions of the three last foregoing sections to material alterations of a railway

(2) The works referred to in sub-section (1) are additional lines of railway, deviation lines, stations, junctions and crossings on the level, and any alteration or re-construction materially affecting the structural character of any work to which the provisions of sections 17, 18 and 19 apply or are extended by this section

Notes—In case of a material alteration the provisions of ss 17 18 and 19 would apply Vide also (1872) 7 Ch App 767 (1854) 2 W R 330 (Eng)

21 When an accident has occurred resulting in a temporary suspension of traffic, and either the original line and works have been rapidly restored to

Exceptional provision their original standard, or a temporary diversion has been laid for the purpose of restoring communication, the original line and works so restored, or the temporary diversion as the case may be, may, in the absence of the Inspector be opened for the public carriage of passengers, subject to the following conditions, namely—

(a) that the railway servant in charge of the works undertaken by reason of the accident has certified in writing that the opening of the restored line and works, or of the temporary diversion, will not in his opinion be attended with danger to the public using the line and works or the diversion, and

(b) that notice by telegraph of the opening of the line and works or the diversion shall be sent, as soon as may be, to the Inspector appointed for the railway

22 The [safety controlling authority]* may make rules defining

Power to make rules with respect to the opening of railways the cases in which, and in those cases the extent to which, the procedure prescribed in sections 17 to 20 (both inclusive) may be dispensed with

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G I Order of 1937 In Burma for these words read the word 'Board' vide G B Order of 1937.

23 (1) When, after inspecting any open railway used for the public carriage of passengers, or any rolling-stock used thereon, an Inspector is of opinion that the use of the railway or of any specified rolling-stock will be attended with danger to the public using it, he shall state that opinion, together with the [safety controlling authority]* and th may thereupon order that the railway be discontinued, or that the use of the rolling-stock so specified be used for the public carriage of passengers on such conditions only as the [safety controlling authority]* may consider necessary for the safety of the public

(2) An order under sub section (1) must set forth the grounds on which it is founded.

Notes — Vide A G v Great Western Railway, Co (1877), 4 Ch D 735 C A

24 (1) When a railway has been closed under the last foregoing section, it shall not be re-opened for the public carriage of passengers until it has been inspected and its re-opening sanctioned, in accordance with the provisions of this Act

(2) When the [safety controlling authority]* has ordered under the last foregoing section that the use of any specified rolling-stock be discontinued, that rolling-stock shall not be used until an Inspector has reported that it is fit for use and the [safety controlling authority]* has sanctioned its use

(3) When the [safety controlling authority]* has imposed under the last foregoing section any conditions with respect to the use of any railway or rolling-stock, those conditions shall be observed until they are withdrawn by the [safety controlling authority]*

Traffic facilities

42 (1) Every railway administration shall, according to its powers, afford all reasonable facilities for the receiving, forwarding and delivering of traffic upon and from the several railways belonging to or worked by it and for the return of rolling-stock *

Duty of railway administrations to arrange for receiving and forwarding traffic without unreasonable delay and without partiality

(3) A railway administration having or working railways which form part of a continuous line of railway communication, or having its terminus or station within one mile of the terminus or station of another railway administration, shall afford all due and reasonable facilities for receiving and forwarding by one of such railways all the traffic arriving by the other at such terminus or station, without any [as is referred to in section 42A]†

and so that no obstruction may be offered to the public desirous of using such railways as a continuous line of communication, and so that all reasonable accommodation may by means of such railways be at all times afforded to the public in that behalf

(4) The facilities to be afforded under this section shall include the due and reasonable receiving, forwarding and delivering by every railway administration, at the request of any other railway administration, of thorough traffic to and from the railway of any other railway administration at through rates

(a) the railway administration requiring the traffic to be forwarded shall give written notice of the proposed through rate to each forwarding railway administration, stating both its amount and its apportionment and the route by which the traffic is proposed to be forwarded. The proposed through rate for animals or goods may be per truck or per maund,

(b) each forwarding railway administration shall, within the prescribed period after the receipt of such notice, by written notice inform the railway administration requiring the traffic to be forwarded whether it agrees to the rate, apportionment and route, and, if it has any objection, what the grounds of the objection are,

(c) if at the expiration of the prescribed period no such objection has been sent by any forwarding railway administration, the rate shall come into operation at the expiration of that period,

“(d) if an objection to the rate, apportionment or route has been sent within the prescribed period, the [Federal Railway Authority]‡

(e) if the objection is to the granting of the rate or to the route, [the Federal Railway Authority]† shall consider whether the granting of the rate is a due and reasonable facility in the interest of the public, and whether, regard being had to the circumstances, the route proposed is a reasonable route, and shall allow or refuse the rate accordingly or fix such other rate as may seem to [the Federal Railway Authority]† to be just and reasonable,

(f) if the objection is only to the apportionment of the rate ‡ the rate shall come into operation at the expiration of the prescribed period, but the decision [of the Federal Railway Authority]§ as to its apportionment shall be retrospective: in the case of any other objection the operation of the rate shall be suspended [until the Federal Railway Authority]|| make their order in the case,

(g) the [Federal Railway Authority]¶ in apportioning the through rate shall take into consideration all the circumstances of the case, including any special expense incurred in respect of the construction, maintenance or working of the route or any part of the route, as well as any special charges which any railway administration is entitled to make in respect thereof,

(h) the [Federal Railway Authority]¶ shall not in any case compel any railway administration to accept lower mileage rates than the mileage rates which the administration may for the time being legally be charging for like traffic carried by a like mode of transit on any other line of communication between the same points, being the points of departure and arrival of the through route,

(i) subject to the foregoing provisions of this sub-section, the [Federal Railway Authority]¶ shall have full power to decide that any proposed through rate is due and reasonable notwithstanding that a less amount may be allotted to any forwarding railway administration out of the through rate than the maximum rate which the railway administration is entitled to charge, and to allow and apportion the through rate accordingly,

(j) the prescribed period mentioned in this sub-section shall be one month, or such longer period as the [Federal Railway Authority]¶ may by general or special order prescribe

LIMITATION OF EMPLOYMENT OF RAILWAY SERVANTS

Definitions

71A In this Chapter unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) the employment of a railway servant is said to be "essentially intermittent" when it has been declared to be so by the authority empowered in this behalf on the ground that it involves long periods of inaction during which the railway servant is on duty but is not called upon to display either physical activity or sustained attention and

* Inserted by Act IV of 1930

(b) except in section 71B 'a railway servant' means a railway servant to whom this Chapter applies

71B This Chapter applies only to such railway servants or classes of railway servants as the [Central Government]* may, by rules made under section 71E, prescribe

71C (1) A railway servant other than a railway servant whose employment is essentially intermittent, shall not be employed for more than sixty hours a week on the average in any month

(2) a railway servant whose employment is essentially intermittent, shall not be employed for more than eighty four hours in any week

(3) Subject to rules made under section 71E, temporary exemptions of railway servants from the provisions of sub section (1) and sub section (2) may be made—

(a) when such temporary exemptions are necessary to avoid serious interference with the ordinary working of the railway, in cases of accident, actual or threatened, or when urgent work is required to be done to the railway or to rolling-stock or in any emergency which could not have been foreseen or prevented and

(b) in cases of exceptional pressure of work not falling within the scope of clause (a)

Provided that a railway servant exempted under clause (b) shall be paid for overtime at not less than one and a quarter times his ordinary rate of pay

71D (1) A railway servant shall be granted, each week commencing on Sunday, a rest of not less than twenty four consecutive hours

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply to a railway servant whose employment is essentially intermittent, or to a railway servant to whom sub-section (2) applies

(2) The [Central Government]* may by rules under section 71E specify the railway servants or classes of railway servants to whom periods of rest may be granted on a scale less than that laid down in sub-section (1), and may prescribe the periods of rest to be granted to such railway servants

(3) Subject to rules made under section 71E, temporary exemptions from the grant of periods of rest may be made in the cases or circumstances specified in sub section (3) of section 71C

Provided that a railway servant shall as far as may be possible, be granted compensatory periods of rest for the periods he has foregone

71E (1) The [Central Government]* may make rules—

(a) prescribing the railway servants or classes of railway servants to whom this Chapter shall apply

(b) prescribing the authorities who may declare that the employment of any railway servant or class of railway servants is essentially intermittent

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937. In Burma for these words read the word Board vide G. B. Order of 1937.

Bill as re drafted is in accordance with the Washington Convention which does not make the payment of overtime obligatory except when the extra hours of duty are due to exceptional pressure of work and until the question has been further examined we do not consider it advisable to impose a statutory obligation to pay overtime in cases falling under clause (a). We are informed that the present practice varies on different railways and we think the Government should investigate the question whether some provision ought not to be made either for the payment of overtime in such cases or for a compensatory period of rest.

Section 71D — The body of sub section (1) gives effect to article 2 of the Geneva Convention and the proviso is based upon article 4 read with paragraph 2 of Article 1. Sub section (2) and (3) are based on article 4. The proviso to sub section (3) is based upon article 5 of Geneva Convention.

Section 71E — Section 71E contains much reduced rule making power necessary to implement the provisions of the Bill.

Section 71F — We are of opinion that the investigation recommended by us in connection with the proviso to clause 71C should also cover the question of the payment of overtime or grant of compensatory periods of rest to railway servants who may have to work for extra time in the circumstances contemplated by this section.

Section 71G — The scheme of this section is that the Governor General in Council should appoint suitable persons who will be independent of the railway administrations, to make regular inspections of labour conditions on railways in order to furnish Government with reliable and independent evidence of the manner in which the provisions of the law are being carried out. — Report of the Select Committee

RESPONSIBILITY OF RAILWAY ADMINISTRATIONS AS CARRIERS

72 (1) The responsibility of a railway administration for the loss, destruction or deterioration of animals or goods delivered to the administration to be carried by railway shall, subject to the other provisions of this Act, be that of a bailee under sections 151, 152 and 161 of the Indian Contract Act 1872.

Measure of the general responsibility of a railway administration as a carrier of animals and goods

(2) An agreement purporting to limit that responsibility shall, in so far as it purports to effect such limitation, be void, unless it—

(a) is in writing signed by or on behalf of the person sending or delivering to the railway administration the animals or goods, and

(b) is otherwise in a form approved by the [Federal Railway Authority]*

(3) Nothing in the Common Law of England or in the Carriers Act, 1865 regarding the responsibility of common carriers with respect to the carriage of animals or goods, shall affect the responsibility as in this section defined of a railway administration.

what constitutes reasonable and sufficient cause in the circumstances of each case. Where a passenger is justified in pulling the chain to stop the train, the cause must be reasonable and sufficient cause to be determined according to the circumstances. See A. I. R. 1936 Pat 493. This section does not affect the safety of passengers who are on the platform. See Bom. L. R. 400. I. R. 1926 Bom. 283. The risk of a passenger on a train by stopping the train has to be considered for the purpose of determining whether the cause is sufficient to stop the train by pulling the chain. It cannot be considered independently of the circumstances to the person pulling the chain. If a passenger pulling the cord is in company with other passengers, he cannot be said to have acted rashly. 30 [Repealed by Act 3 of 1900]

31 (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act or in any other enactment for the time being in force, any Court may, if it shall think fit, instead of sentencing any youthful offender to transportation or imprisonment or directing him to be detained in a Reformatory School, order him to be—

(a) discharged after due admonition, or

(b) delivered to his parent or to his guardian, or nearest adult relative, or such parent, guardian or relative executing a bond, with or without sureties, as the Court may require, to be responsible for the good behaviour of the youthful offender for any period not exceeding twelve months

(2) For the purposes of this section the term "youthful offender" shall include a girl

(3) The powers conferred on the Court by this section shall be exercised only by Courts empowered by or under section 8

(4) When any youthful offender is convicted by a Court not empowered to act under this section and the Court is of opinion that the powers conferred by this section should be exercised in respect of such youthful offender it may record such opinion and submit the proceedings and forward the youthful offender to the District Magistrate to whom such Court is subordinate

(5) The District Magistrate to whom the proceedings are so submitted may thereupon make such order or pass such sentence as he might have made or passed if the case had originally been tried by him

This section is applicable to the case of a minor girl found guilty 24 O. C. 305

This section enables any Court in the case of youthful offender under section 15 to deliver him to his parents with or without sureties for his good behaviour 14 A L J 1158-36 Ind Cas 492

32 When a youthful offender during his period of detention in a Reformatory School is again convicted by a Criminal Court, the sentence of such Court shall commence at once, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in section 397 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, but the Court shall forthwith report the matter to the [Provincial Government]* which shall have power to deal with the matter in any way in which it thinks fit

Interpretation clause 3 In this act unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context — the expression the said territories means the territories to which the section of this Act in which that expression occurs for the time being extends,

The said territories
"Assistant Commissioner means an Assistant Commissioner of Northern India Salt revenue and also includes any person invested by the [Central Government]* with the powers of an Assistant Commissioner under this Act

"Salt revenue officer" means any officer of the Northern India Salt Department and also includes any person invested by the [Central Government]* with any of the powers of a salt-revenue officer under this Act,

'saltpetre' includes rasi, saji and all other substances manufactured from saline earth and kharinun and every form of sulphate or carbonate of soda and

'manufacture of salt' includes the separation or purification of salt obtained in the manufacture of saltpetre, the separation of salt from earth or other substance so as to produce elementary salt and the excavation or removal of natural saline deposits or efflorescence,

Kohat salt 'Kohat salt means salt produced in the district of Kohat in the Punjab †

4 The powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act, on a Commissioner of a Division may in places where there is no such Commissioner be exercised and performed by such officer as the [Central Government]‡ may from time to time appoint in this behalf

5 At the head of administration of the salt-revenue under this Act there shall be an officer called the Commissioner of Northern India Salt-revenue §

Notes —Sections 3, 4 and 5 are not in force in Upper Burma or in the Arakan District vide Act 13 of 1898 s 4 and Reg 1 of 1916 s 2

MANUFACTURE AND REFINING OF SALT AND SALTPETRE.

Power of Central Government— 6 The [Central Government]‡ may from time to time by rule—

(a) prohibit absolutely, or subject to such conditions as he thinks fit, the manufacture of salt, or the manufacture or refining of salt-petre, throughout the whole or any portion of the said territories to regulate manufacture and refining of salt and saltpetre

(b) fix fees for the following licences not exceeding in the case of each such licence the amount herein after mentioned —

	Rs.
Licence to manufacture and refine saltpetre and to separate and purify salt in the process of such manufacture and refining	50

Licence to manufacture other saline substances	2

(c) determine the manner time and place in and at which and the persons by whom any duty imposed hereunder shall be collected in the said territories,

(d) define an area no point in which shall be more than one hundred yards from the nearest point of any place in which salt is stored or sold by or [on behalf of the Central Government]* or of any manufactory and its appurtenances in or on which saltpetre is manufactured or refined, and regulate the possession storage and sale of salt within such area

(e) define an area round any other place in which salt is manufactured, and regulate the possession, storage and sale of salt within such area

Power of Central Government

7 The [Central Government]* may from time to time, by rule consistent with this Act,— to impose a duty on salt manufactured or imported by land,

(a) impose a duty not exceeding three rupees per maund of 82½ pounds avoirdupois, on salt manufactured in or imported by land into, any part of British India to reduce or remit duties

(b) reduce or remit any duty so imposed, and re-impose any duty so reduced or remitted to fix minimum price of salt excavated etc by Government

(c) fix the minimum price at which salt excavated manufactured or sold by or on behalf of the [Central Government]* shall be sold

In calculating the amount of duty payable under this section fractions of quarter maunds may be reckoned as quarter maunds.

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

Notes.—"The provisions of section 7 of the Indian Salt Act 1882 shall so far as they enable the Governor General in Council to impose by rule made under that section a duty on salt manufactured in or imported into any part of British India other than Burma and Aden, be construed as if with effect from the 1st day of April 1933 they imposed such duty at the rate of one rupee and four annas per maund of eighty two and two sevenths t and by rule 1 13 111 — vide

Power of Local Government to fix minimum price of salt excavated etc

8 [Omitted by G I Order of 1937]

CHAPTER III (A)*

INDUS PREVENTIVE LINE

Power to define zones and establish chains of posts

8A (1) The [Central Government]† may, from time to time, by rule—

(a) define a zone of country not exceeding fifteen miles in breadth—

(i) along any portion of the river Indus and at such distance therefrom as it deems expedient, or

(ii) in any tract extending from that river to the western frontier of the Punjab

(b) extend any such zone so as to include any ferry, or any portion of a railway, canal or navigable river entering the zone, or any place where goods are loaded or unloaded into wagons or boats for the purpose of entering or leaving the zone, and

(c) within such a zone establish a chain of posts extending along the zone

(2) The establishment of a chain of posts under clause (c) of sub-section (1) shall be deemed to be a public purpose within the meaning of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870

8B When a zone has been defined and a chain of posts established under section 8A, the [Central Government]† may, from time to time, by rule—

(a) prohibit any person, except upon such conditions as may be prescribed in the rule, from having in his possession any Kohat salt within the limits of the zone, and

(b) so far as may be necessary for the prevention of the smuggling of Kohat salt across the chain of posts, control and regulate the passage of traffic across such chain, and provide for the searching of all persons and things crossing and being taken across such chain

Penalties

9 Whoever commits any of the following offences (namely) —

* Ch III (1) has been inserted by Act VII of 1930

† The words within brackets have been substituted by G I Order of 1937.

(a) does anything in contravention of this Act or of any rule made hereunder,

(b) evades payment of any duty or charge payable under this Act or any such rule, or

(c) attempts to commit, or abets within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code the commission of any of the offences mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of this section, shall, for every such offence, be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with both,

and the convicting Magistrate, on the application of the Assistant Commissioner or Salt-revenue officer, may declare to be confiscated all works materials and implements constructed or prepared for the purpose of manufacturing or refining salt or saltpetre contrary to the provisions of this Act or any such rule

Notes—When the salt duty imposed under the Salt Act has not been compounded under the Salt Act and payment of such duty is evaded the prosecution and conviction may be had under this section L B R (1893 1900) 252 The licensee of a salt factory is criminally liable for any evasion of payment of salt duty A W N 1891 181 s 117 of the Penal Code applies to abetment of offence under Salt Act by public generally 53 A 42 A I R 1931 Bom 110 but see A I R 1930 Oudh 497 is contained, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying it, shall be liable to confiscation

When the article seized exceeds five seers in weight, the Commissioner of the Division in which the seizure takes place, may, if satisfied on the report of any Salt-revenue-officer or on such inquiry as he thinks fit to make, that such offence has been committed, declare such article to be confiscated, or impose such lesser penalty in lieu of confiscation as to him may seem fit

If the article seized does not exceed five seers in weight, the Assistant Commissioner shall possess the same powers in regard to its disposal as by this section are conferred on the Commissioner of the Division in regard to quantities exceeding five seers, and may also confiscate any vessel package or covering in which such article is contained

Whenever such Commissioner declares under this section any article to be confiscated, he may also declare to be confiscated any vessel, package or covering in which such article is contained and any animal or conveyance used in carrying it

Notes—This section legalises the confiscation of articles in respect of which offence is committed. It also lays down the procedure as to how the confiscation is to be effected

13 The [Central Government]* may, from time to time, by rule, direct that any Salt revenue-officer, not inferior in rank to an Assistant Inspector, if satisfied in such manner as such rule may prescribe that any offence mentioned in section 9 has been committed in respect of any dutiable salt, shall, instead of making a complaint to a Magistrate, or instituting proceedings with a view to confiscation, impose as penalty an additional duty on such salt not exceeding the duty leviable thereon under Chapter III of this Act

The imposition of every such penalty shall be at once reported, if the salt in respect of which an offence has been committed, exceeds five seers in weight, to the Commissioner of the Division in which such penalty is imposed, and if such salt does not exceed five seers in weight to the Assistant Commissioner and shall require the sanction of the Commissioner or Assistant Commissioner as the case may be to whom it is so reported

Notes—Under this section Assistant Inspector can impose an additional duty on contraband salt but that duty shall not exceed the duty leviable thereon under Chapter III

14 Any zamindar or other proprietor of land and any agent of a zamindar or proprietor of land, who wilfully connives at any offence mentioned in section 9 shall for every such offence be punishable by any Magistrate exercising powers not less than those of a Magistrate of the second class with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with both

Notes—The zamindar or other proprietor of land are punished as abettors.

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

POWERS OF STOPPAGE, SEARCH, SEIZURE AND ARREST

- 15 Any Salt-revenue officer empowered in this behalf by the [Central Government]* may at any time enter and search any place in which any article is manufactured or refined under a licence granted under this Act or any rule made hereunder

Power to search places where article is manufactured under licence

Notes—This section is confined to the search of a place in which any article is manufactured or refined under the licence or any rule made under the Act 77 Ind Cas 815

Power to detain suspected person and to seize goods liable to confiscation

- 16. Any Salt-revenue officer may stop and detain any person whom he has reason to believe to be liable to punishment under this Act, and may seize any salt or saltpetre in respect of which there is reason to believe that any offence mentioned in section 9 has been committed or that any duty is payable together with the vessels packages or coverings in which such salt or saltpetre is contained and the animals or conveyances used in carrying it

- 17 Any Salt-revenue-officer may arrest any person whom he has reason to believe to have committed any such offence as last aforesaid

Power to arrest

Notes—Here arrest without warrant is contemplated

- 18 Whenever any Salt-revenue officer, not inferior in rank to a sub inspector has reason to believe that salt or saltpetre is being unlawfully manufactured refined or stored in an unlicensed place, such officer shall first record in writing (so far as may be practicable) (a) the name residence and calling of the informant (if any) (b) the locality and description of the house boat or place where the officer believes that the salt or saltpetre is being so manufactured refined, or stored, (c) the name of the person by or for whom the salt or saltpetre is so manufactured refined or stored, and (d) the supposed quantity and description of the salt or saltpetre, with the grounds for believing the same to be unlawfully manufactured refined or stored, and may then summon in writing the officer in charge of the police-station within whose jurisdiction the house, boat or place to be searched is situate to attend him and may then, after sunrise and before sunset (but always in the presence of an officer of police not inferior in rank to a head constable) enter and search any house, boat or place in which there is reason to believe that salt or saltpetre is being so manufactured refined or stored and in case of resistance may break open any door, and force and remove, any other obstacle to such entry, and may seize and carry away all salt and saltpetre so manufactured, refined or stored, and all materials used in the manufacture or refinement of such salt or saltpetre,

* Substituted by G I Order of 1937

and may also detain and search and, if he thinks proper, arrest the occupier of the said house, boat or place, together with all persons concerned in the manufacture, refinement or storing of such salt or saltpetre on in the concealing thereof

If the place so entered is an apartment in the actual occupancy of a woman who, according to the custom of the country does not appear in public, the officer entering the same shall be guided by the rules prescribed for such cases in the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Before conducting a search under this section, the officer conducting it shall call upon two or more respectable inhabitants (if any) of the locality in which the house, boat or place is situate to attend and witness the search, and the search shall be made in the presence of such inhabitants (if any), and also (if practicable) of the occupant of the house, boat or place searched

Whenever it is necessary to cause a woman to be searched, the search shall be made by another woman with strict regard to decency.

19. Any officer in charge of a police-station who, on application in writing made by a Salt-revenue-officer to attend for any of the purposes specified in section 18 refuses or fails within a reasonable time so to attend or to depute a subordinate officer, not inferior in rank to a head constable, so to attend, shall for every such offence be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or seizes any article as liable to confiscation under this Act, or enters any house, boat or place for the purpose of searching for any such article, he shall (unless generally empowered by the Assistant Commissioner to send the person arrested to the Magistrate), within forty-eight hours next after such arrest, seizure or entry make a full report of all the particulars of such arrest, seizure or entry to his official superior, for the information of the Assistant Commissioner

Every officer making any arrest under this Act, or his official superior, shall, if generally empowered in this behalf by the Assistant Commissioner, either send with all convenient despatch the person arrested to the Magistrate having jurisdiction to deal with the case, or order the discharge of such person

Every officer of police attending any search made under section 18 shall report the same to his official superior

21. Whenever the Assistant Commissioner is informed of the seizure of any article exceeding five seers in weight as liable to confiscation under this Act, he shall, with all convenient despatch, report the circumstances of the case to the Commissioner of the Division in which such seizure is made, who may thereupon proceed under section 12

If the articles seized does not exceed five seers in weight, Assistant Commissioner may dispose of the case himself under said section 22 Any article in respect of which a penalty is imposed under section 13 may be detained pending the receipt of the order of the Commissioner of the Division or the Assistant Commissioner, as the case may be, on the report required by the same section.

Procedure on detention of article subject to additional duty Provided that if the owner of any article so detained deposits the amount of such penalty with, and pays all ordinary duty and charges payable on, such article to the Salt revenue-officer, detaining the same such article shall be at once released.

When an article is so detained it shall, on the receipt of the said order, be dealt with in accordance with the rules made in this behalf hereunder.

When an article has been released under the second paragraph of this section, and the Commissioner of the Division or Assistant Commissioner as the case may be, reduces or declines to sanction the penalty imposed in respect of such article, the amount refundable to the owner shall be paid to him on his applying therefor to the Assistant Commissioner within six months, to be computed (where the order has been made by the Commissioner of the Division) from the day on which the Assistant Commissioner has received such order and (where the order has been made by the Assistant Commissioner) from the date of such order.

When any penalty, the amount of which has been deposited under the second clause of this section, is sanctioned, or when any sum refundable under this section has not been claimed within the said period of six months the amount so in deposit, or the sum so refundable, shall be forfeited to Her Majesty, unless the Commissioner of Northern India Salt-revenue otherwise directs.

23 Whenever the Assistant Commissioner is informed of the arrest of any person, he shall (unless such person has been dealt with under the penultimate paragraph of section 20) either send with all convenient despatch the person arrested to the Magistrate having jurisdiction to deal with the case, or order the immediate discharge of such person.

Notes —The prisoner should be produced before a Magistrate with as little delay as possible.

24 All officers of police, and all officers of Government engaged in the collection of land revenue, are hereby empowered and required to assist the Salt revenue officers in the execution of this Act.

Officers required to assist Salt revenue officers Vexatious search seizure etc , by Salt revenue-officer.

25 Any Salt-revenue officer who—
 (a) without reasonable ground of suspicion searches or causes to be searched any house, boat or place

(b) vexatiously and unnecessarily detains, searches or arrests any person ,

(c) vexatiously and unnecessarily seizes the movable property of any person, on pretence of seizing or searching for any article liable to confiscation under this Act ,

(d) commits, as such officer, any other act to the injury of any person, when such officer has not reason to believe that such act is required for the execution of his duty, shall for every such offence be punishable, by a Magistrate exercising powers not less than those of a Magistrate of the second class with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees

Any person wilfully and maliciously giving false information and so causing a search to be made under this Act shall be punishable, by a Magistrate exercising the same powers, with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with both

A Salt-revenue-officer shall not be deemed to search or detain any person, or to seize the movable property of any person, vexatiously and unnecessarily within the meaning of clause (b) or clause (c) of the first paragraph of this section if the search is authorised by any rule under clause (b) of section 8B, and the detention or seizure is such as is necessary for the purposes of such search *

Notes.—This section safeguards the vexatious searches by salt officers 26 The [Central Government]† may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Act to regulate the seizure, disposal and destruction of things liable to be seized under this Act.

Power to regulate seizures and disposal of things seized.

Such rules may, among other matters, provide—

(a) that the owner or person having the charge of any animal seized and detained shall provide from day to day for its keep while detained, and that, if he omits to do so, such animal may be sold by public auction and the expenses (if any) incurred on account of it defrayed from the proceeds of the sale .

(b) that, when anything is seized and an order for its release is subsequently passed and the owner does not, within a period to be fixed by such rules, appear to claim such thing and tender the duty, penalties and charges (if any) due in respect thereof, it may be sold by public auction, and such duty, penalties and charges defrayed from the proceeds of the sale

(c) that the surplus proceeds of a sale under clause (a) or clause (b) of this section shall unless the owner of the thing seized establishes his claim to such proceeds within a period, not less than three months, to be fixed by such rules, be forfeited to Her Majesty

27 The [Central Government]† may, from time to time, by rule, prohibit absolutely, or subject to conditions, the importation of salt into, or the transit of salt over, the said territories or any part thereof

Power to prohibit import and transit of salt

Except in the case of a prohibition under this section, nothing in this Act shall apply to the territories, :

* This paragraph has been added by Act XIV of 1900, s 8

† Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect Chapter III(A) of this Act or any rule under that Chapter *

Notes—There is nothing in this section to bear out the contention that importation into a part of the territories mentioned in s 1 is to be taken as meaning only importation from outside the territories and not importation from one part of the territories into another part 69 Ind Cas 460=23 Cr L J 792

Further matter for which Central Government may make rules

28 In addition to the rules which the [Central Government][†] is herein before empowered to make, it may from time to time, make rules, consistent with this Act to regulate the following matters, namely—

(a) the persons by whom and the time, place and manner at or in which anything to be done under this act shall be done

(b) the cases in which and the officers to whom, and the conditions subject to which, orders given by Salt revenue-officers under this Act shall be appealable

(c) the fee to be charged on account of any licence pass certificate, dakhila, rawana or other such document issued under this Act and generally to carry out the provisions herein contained

Publication of rules

29 All rules made under this Act shall be published in the [official Gazette][†] and shall thereupon have the force of law

30 Subject to the provisions herein contained, and to any rules for the time being in force made by the Power to confer powers of Assistant Commissioner and Salt revenue officer [Central Government]^{††} the Commissioner of the Northern India Salt-revenue may invest any person with the powers of an Assistant Commissioner under this Act, or with all or any of the powers hereinbefore conferred on Salt-revenue-officers

(Received the Governor-General's assent on the 15th March 1867)

An Act for the regulation of Public Sarais and Puraos

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the regulation of public Sarais and Puraos It is hereby enacted
as follows —

1 [Repeal of Bengal Regulation XII of 1807, section 11, clause (5)—Repealed by Act XII of 1891]

Interpretation clause

2 In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Saraï" means any building used for the shelter and of travellers and includes, in any which only part of a building is saraï the part so used of such building

It also includes a purao so far as the provisions of this Act are applicable thereto

' Keeper of a Sarai ' "Keeper of a Sarai" includes the owner and any person having or acting in the care or management thereof

"Magistrate of the District" * means the chief officer charged with the executive administration of a district in criminal matters, whatever may be his designation †

3 Within six months after this Act shall come into operation, the Magistrate of the District in which any sarai to which this Act shall apply may be situate shall, and from time to time thereafter such Magistrate may, give to the keeper of every such sarai notice in writing of this Act, by leaving such notice for the keeper at the sarai and shall by such notice require the keeper to register the sarai as by this Act provided

Form of notice Such notice may be in the form in the schedule to this Act annexed or to the like effect

4 The Magistrate of the District shall keep a register in which shall be entered by such Magistrate, or Registers of sarais to be kept such other person as he shall appoint in this behalf the names and residences of the keepers of all sarais within his jurisdiction and the situation of every such sarai

No charge shall be made for making any such entry

5 After one month after the giving of such notice to register as by this Act provided, the keeper of any Lodgers etc not to be received in sarais until registered sarai or any other person shall not receive any lodger or allow any person, cattle, sheep elephant, camel or other animal, or any vehicle, to halt or be placed in such sarai until the same and the name and residence of the keeper thereof shall have been registered as by this Act provided

6 The Magistrate of the District may, if he shall think fit, refuse to register, as the keeper of a sarai a person who does not produce a certificate of character in such form and signed by such person as the [Provincial Government] ‡ shall from time to time direct

Duties of keepers of sarais 7 The keeper of a sarai shall be bound—

(1) When any person in such sarai is ill of any infectious or contagious disease, or dies of such disease, to give immediate notice thereof to the nearest police station

(2) at all times, when required by any Magistrate or any other person duly authorised by the Magistrate of the District in this

* This reference should now be read as 'District Magistrate' see Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 3

behalf, to give him free access to the sarai and allow him to inspect the same or any part thereof

(3) to thoroughly cleanse the rooms and verandahs and drains of the sarai, and the walls, tanks or other sources from which water is obtained for the persons or animals using it, to the satisfaction of, and so often as shall be required by, the Magistrate of the District, or such person as he shall appoint in this behalf

(4) to remove all noxious vegetation on or near the sarai, and all trees and branches of trees capable of affording to thieves means of entering or leaving the sarai

(5) to keep the gates, walls, fences, roofs and drains of the sarai in repair

(6) to provide such number of watchmen as may, in the opinion of the Magistrate of the District, subject to such rules as the [Provincial Government]* may prescribe in this behalf, be necessary for the safety and protection of persons and animals or vehicles lodging in, halting at, or placed in the sarai and

(7) to exhibit a list of charges for the use of the sarai at such place and in such form and languages as the Magistrate of the District shall from time to time direct

8 The keeper of a sarai shall from time to time, if required so to do by an order of the Magistrate of the District served upon him, report, either orally or in writing as may be directed by the Magistrate or to such Magistrate or to such person as the Magistrate shall appoint, every person who resorted to such sarai during the preceding day or night

If written reports are required for any space of time exceeding a single day or night, schedules shall be furnished by the Magistrate of the District to the keeper

The keeper shall from time to time fill up the said schedules with the information so required, and transmit them to the said Magistrate, in such manner and at such intervals as may from time to time be ordered by him

9 If any sarai, by reason of abandonment or of disputed ownership shall remain untenanted, and thereby become a resort of idle and disorderly persons or become in a filthy or unwholesome state, or be complained of by any two or more of the neighbours as a nuisance, the Magistrate of the District, after due enquiry, may cause notice in writing to be given to the owner or to the person claiming to be the owner, if he be known and resident within the district, and may also cause such notice to be put on some conspicuous part of the sarai, requiring the persons concerned therein, whoever they may be, to secure, enclose clean or clear the same, and if such requisition shall not be complied with within eight days, the Magistrate of the District may cause the necessary work to be executed, and all expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the sarai, and shall be recoverable like penalties under this Act, or, in case of abandonment or disputed ownership of the sarai, by the sale of any material found therein

10 If a sarai or any part thereof be deemed by the Magistrate of the District to be in a ruinous state, or likely to fall, or in any way dangerous to the persons or animals lodging in or halting at the sarai, he shall give notice in writing to the keeper of the sarai requiring him forthwith to take down, repair or secure (as the case may be) the sarai or such part thereof as the case may require

If the keeper do not begin to take down, repair or secure the sarai, or such part as aforesaid within three days after such notice, and complete such work with due diligence, the Magistrate shall cause all or so much of the sarai as he shall think necessary to be taken down, repaired or otherwise secured

All the expenses so incurred by the Magistrate shall be paid by the keeper of the sarai, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter mentioned

11 If any such sarai or any part thereof be taken down by virtue of the powers aforesaid, the Magistrate of the District may sell the materials thereof, or so much of the same as shall be taken down under the provisions of the last preceding section, and apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the expenses incurred, and shall restore the over-plus (if any) arising from such sale to the owner of such sarai on demand, and may recover the deficiency (if any) as if the amount thereof were a penalty under this Act

12 Whoever, being the keeper of any sarai, suffers the same to be in a filthy and unwholesome state, or overgrown with vegetation, or, after the expiration of two days from the time of his receiving notice in writing from the Magistrate of the District to cleanse or clear the same, or after he shall have been convicted of suffering the same to be in such a state or so overgrown as aforesaid shall allow the same to continue in such state, or so overgrown, shall be liable to the penalties provided in section 14 of this Act

Provided that the Magistrate of the District may, in lieu of enforcing such daily penalty, enter on and cleanse or clear the said sarai, and the expense incurred by the Magistrate in respect thereof shall be paid to him by the keeper, and shall be recoverable as by this Act provided in the case of penalties

13 The [Provincial Government]* may from time to time make regulations for the better attainment of the objects of this Act, provided that such rules be not inconsistent with this Act or with any other law for the time being in force, and may from time to time repeal, alter and add to the same.

All regulations made under this Act and all repeals thereof, and alterations and additions thereto, shall be published in the [official Gazette].*

* Substituted by G I Order of 1937

14 If the keeper of a sarai offend against any of the provisions of this Act or any of the regulations made in pursuance of this Act, he shall for every such offence be liable on conviction before any Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding twenty rupees and to a further penalty not exceeding one rupee a day for every day during which the offence continues

Penalty for infringing Act or Regulations Provided always that this Act shall not exempt any person from any penalty or other liability to which he may be subject irrespective of this Act

Recovery of penalties
 All penalties imposed under this Act may be recovered in the same manner as fines may be recovered under sections, 386 387 and 389 of the Code of Criminal Procedure *

15 Where a keeper of a sarai is convicted of a third offence under this Act he shall not afterwards act as keeper of a sarai without the licence in writing of the Magistrate of the District, who may either withhold such licence, or grant the same on such terms and conditions as he may think fit

Conviction for third offence to disqualify persons from keeping sarais 16 No part of this Act except section 8 shall apply to any sarai which may be under the direct management of the [Provincial Government]† or of any Municipal Committee

Nothing in Act to apply to certain sarais 17 This Act shall in the first instance extend only to the territories under the Government of the Lieutenant Governor of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal

Extent of Act
 But it shall be lawful for the [Provincial Government]† by notification in the [official Gazette] † to extend this Act, mutatis mutandis to any other part of except the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay §

Power to Provincial Government to extend this Act

LEVY OF, AND EXEMPTION FROM, CUSTOMS DUTIES.

20 Except as hereinafter provided, Customs-duties shall be levied at such rates as may be prescribed by or under any law for the time being in force, on—

Goods dutiable

(a) goods imported or exported by sea into or from any customs-port from or to any foreign port ,

(b) opium, salt or salted fish imported by sea from any customs port into any other customs port ,

(c) goods brought from any foreign port to any customs port, and without payment of duty, there transhipped for, or thence carried to and imported at, any other customs-port , and

(d) goods brought in bond from one customs-port to another §

21 Except as otherwise expressly provided by any law for the time being in force, goods whereof any

Goods partially composed of dutiable articles article liable to duty under this Act forms a part or ingredient shall be chargeable with the full duty which would be payable on such goods if they were entirely composed of such article, or, if composed of more than one article liable to duty, then with the full duty which would be payable on such goods if they were entirely composed of the article charged with the highest rate of duty

22 The [Central Government]† may from time to time, by notification in the [official Gazette],‡ fix, for the purpose of levying duties, tariff values of any goods exported or imported by sea on which customs-duties are by law imposed and alter any such values fixed§ by any Tariff Act|| for the time being in force

23. The [Central Government]† may from time to time by notification in the [official Gazette]† exempt any goods imported into, or exported from, British India, or into or from any specified port therein, from the whole or any part of the customs-duties leviable on such goods

‘The Chief Customs-authority’¶ may, “with the previous sanction of the [Central Government]†” by special order in each case, exempt from the payment of duty under circumstances of an exceptional nature to be stated in such order, any goods on which customs-duties are leviable

24 The Customs collector may subject to any general rules relating to the landing and shipping of passengers’ baggage and the passing of the same through the custom-house, which may be made under section 75, pass free of duty any baggage in actual use, and for this purpose may determine, subject to any such rules, whether any goods shall be treated as baggage in actual use or as goods subject to duty

25 If goods produced or manufactured in [British India]†† be imported into any customs-port from any foreign port, such goods shall be liable to all the duties, conditions and restrictions (if any) to which goods of the like kind and value not so produced or manufactured are liable on the first importation thereof

Provided that, if such importation takes place within three years after the exportation of such goods, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the Customs-collector that the property in such goods has continued in the person by whom, or on whose account, they were exported, the goods may be admitted without payment of duty

* Section 22 has been repealed by a 5 and 2nd Sch dule to the Indian Tariff (Amendment) Act 1916 (4 of 1916) so far as it relates to that Act

26 Any goods produced or manufactured in [British India]*

Excise duty on importation of certain country goods which have been exported therefrom, and on the exportation of which any drawback of excise has been received, shall on being imported into any customs-port be subjected, unless the †[Chief Customs-officer] in any particular case otherwise directs by special order, to payment of excise duty, at the rate to which goods of the like kind and quality are liable at such port.

27 All goods derelict, jetsam, flotsam and wreck, brought or

Goods derelict and wreck coming into any place in [British India]* shall be subject to the same duties, if any, to which goods of the like kind are for the time being subject on importation at any customs port, and shall in other respects be dealt with as if they were imported from a foreign port, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Customs-collector that such goods are the produce or manufacture of any place from which they are entitled to be admitted duty-free

28 Provisions and stores produced or manufactured in [British

Country provisions and stores may be shipped free of duty India],* required for use on board of any vessel proceeding to any foreign port, may be shipped free of duty, whether of customs or excise, in such quantities as the Customs-collector determines with reference to the tonnage of the vessel, the numbers of the crew and passengers, and the length of the voyage on which the vessel is about to depart

Provided that no rum shall be so shipped on any vessel going on a voyage of less than thirty days' probable duration

29 On the importation into, or exportation from, any customs-

Owner to declare real value, etc., of goods in bill of entry or shipping bill port of any goods, whether liable to duty or not, the owner of such goods shall, in his bill of entry or shipping bill, as the case may be, state the real value, quantity and description of such goods to the best of his knowledge and belief, and shall subscribe a declaration of the truth of such statement at the foot of such bill

In case of doubt, the Customs-collector may require any such

Power to require production of invoice, etc owner or any other person in possession of any invoice, broker's note, policy of insurance or other document, whereby the real value, quantity or description of any such goods can be ascertained, to produce the same, and to furnish any information relating to such value, quantity or description which it is in his power to furnish And thereupon such person shall produce such document and furnish such information.

Provided that, if the owner makes and subscribes a declaration before the Customs-collector, to the effect that he is unable, from want of full information, to state the real value or contents of any case, package or parcel of goods, then the Customs-collector shall permit him, previous to the entry thereof, (1) to open such case, package or parcel, and examine the contents in presence of an officer of Customs, or (2) to deposit such case, package or parcel in a public

"Real value" defined 30 For the purposes of this Act the real value shall be deemed to be—

(a) the wholesale cash price, less trade discount, for which goods of the like kind and quality are sold, or are capable of being sold, at the time and place of importation or exportation, as the case may be, without any abatement or deduction whatever, except (in the case of goods imported) of the amount of the duties payable on the importation thereof : or

(b) Where such price is not ascertainable, the cost at which goods of the like kind and quality could be delivered at such place, without any abatement or deduction except as aforesaid

31. Goods chargeable with duty upon the value thereof, but for which a specific value is not fixed by law for the purpose of levying duties thereon, shall, without unnecessary delay, be examined by an officer of Customs If it appears that the real value of such goods is correctly stated in the bill of entry or shipping bill, the goods shall be assessed in accordance therewith

32 If it appears that such goods are properly chargeable with a higher rate or amount of duty than that to which they would be subject according to the value thereof, as stated in the bill of entry or shipping bill, such officer may detain such goods

In every such case the detaining officer shall forthwith give notice in writing to the owner of the goods of their detention, and of the value thereof as estimated by him, and the Customs-collector shall, within two clear working days after such detention, or within such reasonable period as may with the consent of the parties be arranged, determine either to deliver such goods on payment of duty charged according to the entry of such owner, or to retain the same for the use of [Central Government]*

If the goods be retained for the use of [Central Government]*, the Customs-collector shall cause the full amount stated in the bill as their real value to be paid to the owner in full satisfaction for such goods in the same manner as if they had been transferred by ordinary sale, and shall, after due notice in the [official Gazette]† or some local newspaper, and without unnecessary delay, cause them to be put up to public auction in wholesale lots for cash on delivery.

If the Customs-collector deems the highest offer made at such sale to be inadequate, he may either adjourn the sale to some other day, to be notified as aforesaid, or buying the goods, and without unnecessary delay dispose of them for the benefit of [Central Government]*.

† In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G 1937. In Burma for these words read the word "Gazette," vide G. B. C.

If the proceeds arising from such sale exceed the sum paid to the owner, together with (in the case of goods imported) the duty to which the goods are liable and all charges incurred by Government in connection with them, a portion not exceeding one-half of the over plus shall, at the discretion of the Chief Officer of Customs, be payable to the officer who detected the undervaluation of the goods

Nothing in this section shall prevent the Chief Officer of Customs, when he has reason to believe that any such undervaluation was solely the result of accident or error, from permitting the owner of the goods, on his application for that purpose, to amend such entry on payment of such increased rate of duties on the excess of the amended over the original valuation, or on such other terms as the Chief Officer of Customs may determine

33 If, on the first examination of any such goods under section 31, the owner thereof states in writing that such goods are, in consequence of damage sustained before delivery of the bill of entry, of value less than that stated in such bill the Customs collector, on being satisfied of the fact, may allow abatement of duty accordingly

The reduced duty to be levied on such goods may be ascertained by either of the following methods, at the option of the owner —

(a) the real value of such goods may be fixed on appraisement by an officer of Customs and the duty may be assessed on the value so fixed, or

(b) the goods may, after due notice in the [official Gazette]* or some local newspaper, be sold by public auction at such time (within thirty days from the date of delivery of the bill of entry) and at such place, as the Customs collector appoints, and the duty may be assessed on the gross amount realised by such sale, without any abatement or deduction, except (in the case of goods imported) or so much as represents the duties payable on the importation thereof

34 When any goods, the value of which has been fixed by law for the purpose of levying duties thereon, have, before delivery of the bill of entry, deteriorated to the extent of more than one-tenth of their value the duty on such goods shall, if the owner thereof so desire be assessed ad valorem

the pilot, officer of Customs or other person duly authorised to receive the same

If, in any river or port wherein a place has been fixed by the *^[Chief Customs-authority] under this section, the master of any vessel arriving remains outside or below the place so fixed, such master, shall, nevertheless, within twenty-four hours after the vessel anchors, deliver a manifest to the pilot, officer of Customs or other person authorised to receive the same

54 If any vessel arrives at any customs-port in which a place has not been so fixed, the master of such vessel shall, within twenty-four hours after such vessel has anchored within the limits of the port, deliver a manifest to the pilot officer of Customs or other person authorised to receive the same

55 Every manifest shall be signed by the master, and shall specify all goods imported in such vessel showing separately all goods (if any) intended to be landed, transhipped or taken on to another port, and all ship's stores intended for consumption in port or on the homeward voyage, and shall contain such further particulars, and be made out in such form, as the *^[Chief Customs-officer] may from time to time direct

The Customs-collector shall permit the master to amend any obvious error in the manifest, or to supply any omission which in the opinion of such Collector results from accident or inadvertence, by furnishing an amended or supplementary manifest, and may, if he thinks fit, levy thereon such fee as the *^[Chief Customs-officer] from time to time directs

Except as herein provided, no import-manifest shall be amended

56 The person receiving a manifest under section 53 or 54 shall countersign the same and enter thereon such particulars as the *^[Chief Customs-officer] from time to time directs in this behalf

57. No vessel arriving in any customs port shall be allowed to break bulk until a manifest has been delivered as hereinbefore provided nor until a copy of such manifest, together with an application for entry of such vessel inwards, has been presented by the master to the Customs collector, and an order has been given thereon for such entry

58 The master shall, if required so to do by the Customs-collector at the time of presenting such application, deliver to the Customs collector the bill of lading or a copy thereof for every part of the cargo laden on board, and any port-clearance, cockpit or other paper granted in respect of such vessel at the place from which she is stated to have come, and shall answer all such questions relating to the vessel, cargo, crew and voyage as are put to him by such officer

The Customs-collector may, if any requisition or question made or put by him under this section is not complied with or answered, refuse to grant such application.

59. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 57, the Customs-collector may grant, prior to receipt of the manifest, and to the entry inwards of the vessel, a special pass permitting bulk to be broken.

The granting of such pass shall be subject to such rules as may from time to time be made by the Chief Customs-authority.

60 Notwithstanding anything contained in section 53, 54, 57 or 58, the Customs-collector may accept from the ship's agent, in lieu of the master, delivery of the manifest or of any other document required by those sections to be delivered by the master

Entry outwards, Port-clearance and Departure of Vessels

61. No vessel shall take on board any part of her export cargo, until a written application for entry of such vessel outwards, subscribed by the master of such vessel, has been made to the Customs-collector, or before an order has been given thereon by such officer for such entry.

Every application made under this section shall specify the name, tonnage and national character of the vessel, the name of the master, and the name of every place for which cargo is to be shipped.

62 No vessel, whether laden or in ballast, shall depart from any customs-port until a port-clearance has been granted by the Customs-collector or other officer duly authorised to grant the same

And no pilot shall take charge of any vessel proceeding to sea, unless the master of such vessel produces a port-clearance.

63. Every application for port-clearance shall be made by the master at least twenty-four hours before the intended departure of the vessel

The master shall at the time of applying for port-clearance—

(a) deliver to the Customs-collector a manifest in duplicate in such form as may from time to time be prescribed by the [Chief Customs-officer], signed by such master, specifying all goods to be exported in the vessel and showing separately all goods and stores entered in the import manifest, and not landed or consumed on board or transhipped :

(b) deliver to the Customs-collector such shipping-bills or other documents as such collector may require for the general instructions of such

(c) answer to such questions touching the departure and destination of the vessel as are asked of him

The provisions of section 55 relating to the amendment of import manifests shall, mutatis mutandis, apply also to export-manifest delivered under this section

Power to refuse port clearance

64. The Customs-collector may refuse port-clearance to any vessel until—

(a) the provisions of section 53 are complied with ,

(b) all port-dues and other charges and penalties due by such vessel, or by the owner or master thereof, and all duties payable in respect of any goods shipped therein, have been duly paid, or their payment secured by such guarantee, or by deposit at such rate as such Customs-collector directs ,

(c) the ship's agent (if any) delivers to the Customs-collector a declaration in writing to the effect that he will be liable for any penalty imposed under section 167, No 17, and furnishes security for the discharge of the same ,

(d) the ship's agent (if any) delivers to the Customs-collector a declaration in writing to the effect that such agent is answerable for the discharge of all claims for damage or short delivery which may be established by the owner of any goods comprised in the import cargo in respect of such goods

A ship's agent delivering a declaration under clause (c) of this section shall be liable to all penalties which might be imposed on the master under section 167, No 17, and a ship's agent delivering a declaration under clause (d) of this section shall be bound to discharge all claims referred to in such declaration

65 When the Customs-collector is satisfied that the provisions of section 63, and if necessary of clauses (b) and (c) and (d) of section 64, have been complied with, he shall grant a port-clearance to the master, and shall return at the same time to such master one copy of the manifest duly countersigned by the proper officer of Customs

66 Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 64 and 65, the Customs collector may (subject to such rules as the Chief Customs-authority may from time to time prescribe) grant a port clearance to the master when the ship's agent furnishes such security as the Customs-collector deems sufficient for duly delivering within five days from the date of such grant, the manifest and other documents specified in section 63

Grant of port clearance on security of ship's agent

GENERAL PROVISIONS AFFECTING VESSELS IN PORT

67 The Customs-collector at any customs-port may at any time depute at his discretion one or more officers of Customs to board any vessel in or arriving at such port

Power to depute Customs officer to board ships

Every officer of Customs so sent shall remain on board of such vessel by day and by night unless or until the Customs collector otherwise orders

Duty of such officer.

68 Whenever an officer of Customs is so deputed on board of any vessel, the master of such vessel shall be bound to receive on board such officer, and one servant of such officer, and to provide such officer and servant with suitable shelter and accommodation, and likewise with a due allowance of fresh water, and with the means of cooking on board

69 Every officer of Customs so deputed shall have free access to every part of the vessel, and may fasten down any hatchway or entrance to the hold and mark any goods before landing, and lock-up, seal, mark or otherwise secure any goods on board of such vessel

If any box place or closed receptacle in any such vessel be locked, and the key be withheld, such officer shall report the same to the Customs collector, who may thereupon issue to the officer on board, or to any other officer under his authority, a written order to search

On production of such order, the officer bearing the same may require that any such box, place or close receptacle be opened in his presence, and, if it be not opened upon his requisition, he may break open the same

70 Unless with the written permission of the Customs-collector or in accordance with a general permission granted under section 74, no goods other than goods not to be shipped discharged or water borne except in presence of officer, shall be shipped or water-borne to any vessel in any Customs-port, except in the presence of an officer of Customs

71 When an officer of Customs is deputed under section 67 to remain on board a vessel, the tonnage of which does not exceed six hundred tons, a period of thirty working days, reckoned from the date on which he boards such vessel or such additional period as the Customs-collector directs, shall be allowed for the discharge of import cargo and the shipment of export cargo on board of such vessel

One additional day shall, in like manner, be allowed for every fifty tons in excess of six hundred

No charge shall be made for the services of a single officer of Customs for such allowed number of working days or for the services of several such officers (if available) for respective periods not exceeding in the aggregate such allowed number of working days

If the period occupied in the discharge and shipment of cargo be in excess of thirty working days, together with the additional period (if any) allowed under this section the vessel shall be charged with the expense of officer of Customs at a rate not exceeding five rupees per (Sundays and holidays excepted) for such excess period

In calculating any period allowed or any charge made under this section, the period (if any) during which a vessel, after the completion of the discharge of import-cargo and before commencing the shipment of export-cargo, is laid up by the withdrawal of the officer of Customs, upon application from the master, shall be deducted

73 Except with the written permission of the Customs collector, no goods, other than passengers' baggage, shall in any customs-port be discharged from any vessel, or be shipped or water-borne to be shipped,—

Goods not to be landed etc, on Sundays or holidays without permission nor except within fixed hours

(a) on any Sunday or on any holiday or day on which the discharge or shipping of cargo as the case may be, is prohibited by the Chief Customs authority,

(b) on any day, except between such hours as such authority from time to time appoints by notification in the official Gazette

73 No goods shall in any Customs-port be landed at any place other than a wharf or other place duly appointed for that purpose, and

Goods not to be shipped etc except at wharves unless with the written permission of the Customs collector, or when a general permission has been granted under section 74 no goods shall in any Customs port be shipped or water-borne to be shipped from any place other than a wharf or other place duly appointed for that purpose

74 Notwithstanding anything contained in section 70 or 73 the Chief Customs-authority may, by notification in the * official Gazette, give general permission for goods to be shipped or water borne to be shipped in any customs-port from all or any places not duly appointed as wharves, and without the presence or authority of an officer of Customs

Power to exempt from sections 70 and 73

75 The Chief Customs-authority may from time to time make rules for the landing and shipping of passengers' baggage and the passing of the same through the custom-house and for the landing shipping and clearing of parcels forwarded by Her Majesty's or other mails or by other regular packets and passenger-vessels

Power to make rules regarding baggage and mails

When any baggage or parcels is or are made over to an officer of Customs for the purpose of being landed a fee of such amount as the †[Chief Customs-authority] from time to time directs shall be chargeable thereon as compensation for the expense and trouble incurred in landing and depositing the same in the custom-house shipped for exportation on board of any vessel, there shall be sent, with each boat-load or other separate despatch, a boat-note specifying the number of packages so sent and the marks and numbers or other description thereof

Each boat-note for goods to be landed shall be signed by an officer of the vessel, and likewise by the officer of Customs on board, if any such officer be on board, and shall be delivered on arrival to any officer of Customs authorised to receive the same

Each boat-note for goods to be shipped shall be signed by the proper officer of Customs, and, if an officer of Customs is on board of the vessel on which such goods are to be shipped shall be delivered to such officer. If no such officer be on board, every such boat-note shall be delivered to the Master of the vessel, or to an officer of the vessel appointed by him to receive it

The officer of Customs who receives any boat-note of goods landed, and the officer of the Customs, Master or other officer, as the case may be, who receives any boat-note of goods shipped, shall sign the same and note thereon such particulars as the *[Chief Customs-officer] may from time to time direct

The *[Chief Customs-authority] may from time to time, by notification in the † official Gazette, suspend the operation of his section in any customs port or part thereof

Goods water borne to be forth with landed or shipped

77 All goods water-borne for the purpose of being landed or shipped shall be landed or shipped without any unnecessary delay

78 Except in cases of imminent danger no goods discharged into or loaded in any boat for the purpose of being landed or shipped shall be transhipped into any other boat without the permission of an officer of Customs

Such goods not to be transhipped without permission

79 The *[Chief Customs-authority] may declare with regard to any Customs-port, by notification in the † official Gazette that, after a date therein specified, no boat not duly licensed and registered shall be allowed to ply as a cargo-boat for the landing and shipping of merchandise within the limits of such port

Power to prohibit plying of un licensed cargo boats

In any port with regard to which such notification has been issued, the Chief Officer of Customs or other officer whom the [Chief Customs-authority] appoints in this behalf, may, subject to such rules, and on payment of fees as the [Chief Customs-authority] from time to time prescribes by notification in the † official Gazette, issue licences for and register cargo-boats Such officer may also, subject to rules so prescribed, cancel any licence so issued

OF DISCHARGE OF CARGO AND ENTRY INWARDS OF GOODS

- 81 When an order for entry inwards of any vessel which has arrived in any customs port or a special pass permitting such vessel to break bulk has been given, the discharge of the cargo of such vessel may be proceeded with Discharge of cargo may commence on receipt of due permission.

- 82 Except as otherwise provided in this Act, no goods shall be allowed to leave any such vessel, unless they are entered in the original manifest of such vessel, or in an amended or supplementary manifest received under section 55

Goods not to leave ship unless entered in manifest

- 83 If the owner of any goods (except such as have been shown in the import-manifest as not to be landed) does not land such goods within such period as is specified in the bill of lading of such goods, or if no period is so specified, within such number of working days, not exceeding fifteen, after the entry of the vessel importing the same, as the *[Chief Customs authority] from time to time appoints by notification in the official Gazette, or if the cargo of any vessel with the exception of only a small quantity of goods has been discharged previously to the expiration of the period so specified or appointed, as the case may be—the Master of such vessel or, on his application, the proper officer of Customs, may then carry such goods to the custom house, there to remain for entry and if notice in writing has been given by the master that the goods are to remain subject to a lien for freight, primage general average, or other charges of a stated amount, the Customs collector shall hold such goods until he receives notice in writing that the said charges are paid

Procedure in respect of goods not landed within time allowed

- 84 At any time after the arrival of any vessel, the Customs collector may, with the consent of the master of such vessel cause any small package or parcel or goods to be carried to the custom house, there to remain for entry in charge of the officers of Customs during the remainder of the working days allowed under this Act for the landing of such package or parcel

Power to land small parcels

If any package or parcel so carried to the custom-house remains unclaimed on the expiration of the number of working days so allowed for its landing, or at the time of the clearance outwards of the vessel from which it was landed, the master may give such notice as is provided in section 83, and the officer in charge of the custom-house shall thereupon hold such package or parcel as provided in that section.

85. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 83 and 84, the Customs-collector in any customs-port to which the [Chief Customs-authority]* by notification in the† official Gazette, declares this section to be applicable, may permit the master of any vessel, immediately on receipt of an order under section 57 or a special pass under section 59, to discharge the cargo of such vessel or any portion thereof into the custody of the ship's agents if willing to receive the same, for the purpose of landing the same forthwith—

(a) at the custom-house or any specified landing place or wharf; or

(b) at any landing place or wharf belonging to any Port Commissioners, Port Trust or other public body or company.

cargo or portion shall be bound or short delivery which may be the owner thereof, and shall be entitled to recover from such owner his charges for service rendered, but not for commission or the like, where any agent for the landing of such cargo or portion has been previously appointed by the owner and such appointment is unrevoked.

The Customs-collector shall take charge of all goods discharged under clause (a) of this section, and otherwise proceed in relation thereto as provided in sections 83 and 88.

A public body or company at whose landing-place or wharf any goods are discharged under clause (b) of this section shall not permit the same to be removed without an order in writing from the Customs-collector.

86. The owner of any goods imported shall, on the landing thereof from the importing ship, make entry of such goods for home-consumption or warehousing by delivering to the Customs-collector* a bill of entry thereof in duplicate, in such form and containing such particulars, in addition to the particulars specified in section 29, as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the [Chief Customs-officer]*

The particulars of such entry shall correspond with the particulars given of the same goods in the manifest of the ship.

87. On the delivery of such bill the duty (if any) leviable on such goods shall be assessed, and the owner of such goods may then proceed to clear the same for home-consumption, or warehouse them, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained.

* Substituted by Act IV of 1911.

† Certain word after this, repealed by Act IV of 1911, has been omitted.

88 If any goods are not entered and cleared for home-consumption, or warehoused within four months from the date of entry of the vessel, such goods may, after due notice to the owner, if his address can be ascertained, and in the [local official Gazette]* be sold by public auction, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied, first, to the payment of freight, primage and general average, if the goods are held by the Customs-collector, subject to such charges under notice given under section 83, 84 or 85; next to the payment of the duties which would be leviable on such goods if they were then cleared for home-consumption, and next to the payment of the other charges (if any) payable to the Customs collector in respect of the same

The surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the goods, on his application for the same provided that such application be made within one year from the sale of the goods, or that sufficient cause be shown for not making it within such period

If any goods of which the Customs-collector has taken charge under section 83, 84 or 85 be of a perishable nature, the Customs-collector may at any time direct the sale thereof, and shall apply the proceeds in like manner.

"Provided that, where any goods liable to be sold under this section are arms, ammunition or military stores, they may be sold or otherwise disposed of at such place (whether within or without British India), and in such manner, as the Chief Customs-authority may, with the concurrence of the [Central Government]† direct."

Provided also that nothing in this section shall authorise the removal for home-consumption of any dutiable goods without payment of duties of Customs thereon

OF CLEARANCE OF GOODS FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

89 When the owner of any goods entered for home-consumption, and (if such goods be liable to duty) assessed under section 87, has paid the import-duty (if any) assessed on such goods and any charges payable under this Act in respect of the same, the Customs-officer may make an order clearing the same, and such order shall be sufficient authority for the removal of such goods by the owner and shall relate to the cargo or portion of the cargo of one vessel only

93 When the provisions of sections 91 and 92 have been complied with in respect of any goods, such goods shall be forwarded in charge of an officer of Customs to the warehouse in which they are to be deposited

Forwarding of goods to warehouse

A pass shall be sent with the goods specifying the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the marks, numbers and contents of each package, and the warehouse or place in the warehouse wherein they are to be deposited

94 On receipt of the goods, the pass shall be examined by the warehouse keeper, and shall be returned to the Customs-collector

Receipt of goods at warehouse

No package, butt, cask or hogshead shall be admitted into any warehouse unless it bears the marks and numbers specified in, and otherwise corresponds with the pass for its admission

If the goods be found to correspond with the pass, the warehouse-keeper shall certify to that effect on the pass, and the warehousing of such goods shall be deemed to have been completed

If the goods do not so correspond, the fact shall be reported by the warehouse-keeper to the Customs-collector, and the warehouse-keeper in charge of an warehouse pending such orders as the warehouse-keeper deems most convenient

If the quantity or value of any goods has been erroneously in the bill of entry, the error may be rectified at any time before warehousing of the goods is completed, and not subsequently.

95 Except as provided in section 100, all goods shall be warehoused in the packages, butts, casks or hogsheads in which they have been imported.

96 Whenever any goods are lodged in a public warehouse or a licensed private warehouse, the warehouse keeper, [or, in the case of the Bengal Bonded Warehouse Association, the Secretary of the said Association]* shall deliver a warrant signed by him as such to the person lodging the goods

Such warrant shall be in the form B hereto annexed, and shall be transferable by endorsement, and the endorsee shall be entitled to receive the goods specified in such warrant on the same terms as those on which the person who originally lodged the goods would have been entitled to receive the same.

The †[Chief Customs-authority] may, by notification in the †official Gazette, exempt salt and salted-fish from the operation of this section, and may in like manner cancel such exemption

Rules relating to goods in a Warehouse

97. The Customs collector, or any officer deputed by him for the purpose, shall have access to any private warehouse licensed under this Act.

98 The Customs collector may at any time by order in writing direct that any goods or packages lodged in any warehouse shall be opened, weighed or otherwise examined, and, after any goods have been so opened or examined, may cause the same to be sealed or marked in such manner as he thinks fit

When any goods have been so sealed and marked after examination, they shall not be again opened

100 With the sanction of the Customs collector, and after such notice given, and under such rules and conditions as the Chief Customs authority from time to time prescribes any owner of goods may, either before or after warehousing the same,—

(a) sort, separate, pack and re pack the goods and make such alterations therein as may be necessary for the preservation, sale, shipment or disposal thereof (such goods to be re packed in the packages in which they were imported, or in such other packages as the Customs collector permits) ,

(b) fill up any casks of wine, spirit or beer from any casks of the same secured in the same warehouse ,

(c) mix any wines or spirit of the same sort secured in the same warehouse, erasing from the cask all import brands unless the whole of the wine or spirit so mixed be of the same brand ,

(d) bottle off wine or spirit from any casks ,

(e) take such samples of goods as may be allowed by the Customs collector with or without entry for home consumption, and with or without payment of duty except such as may eventually become payable on a deficiency of the original quantity

After any such goods have been so separated and re packed in proper or approved packages, the Customs collector may, at the request of the owner of such goods, cause or permit any refused, damaged or surplus goods remaining after such separation or re packing (or, at the like request, any goods which may not be worth the duty) to be destroyed and may remit the duty payable thereon

101 If goods be lodged in a public warehouse, the owner shall pay monthly, on receiving a bail or written demand for the same from the Customs-collector or other officer deputed by him in that behalf rent and warehouse dues at such rates as the * [Chief Customs officer] may fix

A table of the rates of rent and warehouse dues so fixed shall be placed in a conspicuous part of such warehouse

If any bill for rent or warehouse dues presented under this section is not discharged within ten days from the date of presentation the Customs collector may in the discharge of such demand (any transfer or assignment of the goods notwithstanding) cause to be sold by public auction after due notice in the local official Gazette, such sufficient portion of the goods as he may select

Out of the proceeds of such sale, the Customs-collector shall first satisfy the demand for the discharge of which the sale was ordered and shall then pay over the surplus (if any) to the owner of the goods

Provided that the application for such surplus be made within one year from the date of the sale of the goods or that sufficient cause be shown for not making it within such period 102 No warehoused goods shall be taken out of any warehouse, except on clearance for home-consumption or shipment, or for removal to another warehouse, or as otherwise provided by this Act.

Goods not to be taken out of warehouse, except as provided by this Act

103. Any goods warehoused may be left in the warehouse, in which they are deposited, or in any warehouse to which they may in manner hereinafter provided be removed, till the expiry of three years after the date of the bond executed in relation to such goods under section 92. The owner of any goods remaining in a warehouse on the expiry of such period shall clear the same for home-consumption or shipment in manner hereinafter provided :

Provided that when the licence for any private warehouse is cancelled, and the Customs-collector gives notice of such cancellation to the owner of any goods deposited in such warehouse, such owner shall in manner hereinafter provided, and within seven days from the date on which such notice is given, remove such goods to another warehouse or clear them for home-consumption or shipment.

Of the Removal of Goods from one Warehouse to another.

104 Any owner of goods warehoused under this Act may, at any time within three years from the date of the bond executed in respect of such goods under section 92, and with the permission of the Chief Customs-officer, and on such conditions and after giving such security (if any) as such officer directs, remove goods from one warehouse to another warehouse in the same port.

Power to remove goods from one warehouse to another in same port

When any owner desires so to remove any goods, he shall apply for permission to do so in such form as the *[Chief Customs-officer] from time to time prescribes.

105 Any owner of goods warehoused at any warehousing port may, from time to time, within the said period of three years, remove the same by sea or by inland carriage, in order to be re-warehoused at any other warehousing port.

Power to remove goods from one port to another

When any owner desires so to remove any goods for such purpose, he shall apply to the Chief Customs-Officer, stating the particulars of the goods to be removed, and the name of the port to which it is intended that they shall be removed, together with such other particulars, and in such manner and form as the *[Chief Customs-officer] from time to time prescribes.

Procedure

106 When permission is granted for the removal of any goods from one warehousing port to another under section 105, an account containing particulars thereof shall be transmitted by the proper officer of the port of removal to the proper officer of the port of destination :

Transmission of account of goods to officers at port of destination and the person requiring the removal shall before such removal enter into a bond with one sufficient surety, in a sum equal at least to the duty chargeable on such goods, for the due arrival and re-warehousing thereof at the port of destination within such time as the *[Chief Customs officer] directs

Such bond may be taken by the proper officer either at the port of removal or at the port of destination as best suits the convenience of the owner

If such bond is taken at the port of destination a certificate thereof signed by the proper officer of such port, shall, at the time of the removal of such goods, be produced to the proper officer at the port of removal, and such bond shall not be discharged unless such goods are produced to the proper officer and duly re-warehoused at the port of destination within the time allowed for such removal or are otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of such officer nor until the full duty due upon any deficiency of such goods not so accounted for, has been paid

107 The *[Chief Customs officer] may permit any person desirous of removing warehoused goods to enter into a general bond, with such sureties, in such amount and under such conditions as the *[Chief Customs officer] approves, for the removal from time to time, of any goods from one warehouse to another, either in the same or in a different port and for the due arrival and re-warehousing of such goods at the port of destination within such time as such *[officer] directs

108 Upon the arrival of warehoused goods at the port of destination they shall be entered and warehoused in like manner as goods are entered and warehoused on the first importation thereof and under the laws and rules in so far as such laws and rules are applicable, which regulate the entry and warehousing of such last-mentioned goods

109 Every bond executed under section 92 in respect of any goods shall, unless the Chief Officer of Customs in any case deems a fresh bond to be necessary continue in force, notwithstanding the subsequent removal of such goods to another warehouse or warehousing port

Clearance for Home consumption or Shipment

110 Any owner of goods warehoused may at any time within three years from the date of the bond executed under section 92 in respect of such goods clear such goods for consumption by paying (a) the duty assessed on such goods section 87, or where the duty on such goods is altered provisions hereinafter contained such altered duty and (

penalties, interest and other charges payable to the Customs-collector in respect of such goods

111 Any owner of goods warehoused may, at any time within three years from the date of the bond executed under section 92 in respect of such goods, clear such goods for shipment to a foreign port on payment of all rent, penalties, interest and other charges payable as aforesaid and without payment of import-duty on the same.

Provided that the [Central Government]* may prohibit the shipment for exportation to any specified foreign port of warehoused goods in respect of which payment of drawback or transshipment has been prohibited under section 49 or 134 respectively

112 Provisions and stores warehoused at the time of importation may, within the said period of three years, be shipped without payment of duty for use on board of any vessel proceeding to a foreign port

113 Application to clear goods from any warehouse for home-consumption or for shipment shall be made in such form as the † [Chief Customs-officer] from time to time prescribe

Such application shall ordinarily be made to the Customs-collector at least twenty-four hours before it is intended so to clear such goods

114 If any goods upon which duties are leviable ad valorem or on a tariff-valuation receive damage through unavoidable accident after they have been entered for warehousing and assessed under section 87, and before they are cleared for home-consumption, they shall, if the owner so desires, be re assessed for duty according to their actual value and a new bond for the same may, at the option of the owner, be executed for the unexpired term of warehousing

115 If, after any goods entered for warehousing have been assessed under section 87, any alteration is made in the duty leviable upon such goods, or in the tariff valuation (if any) applicable thereto, such goods shall be re-assessed in accordance with ‡[such alteration]

116 If it appear at the time of clearing any wine, spirit, beer or salt from any warehouse for home-consumption that there exists a deficiency not otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Customs-collector, an allowance on account of usage and wastage shall be made in adjusting the duties thereon, as follows (namely) —

139 When goods are cleared for shipment on a shipping bill presented after port-clearance has been granted, the Customs collector may, if he thinks fit levy in addition to any duty to which such goods are ordinarily liable, a charge not exceeding—

Additional charge on goods cleared for shipment after port clearance granted

(a) in the case of goods liable to duties on fixed tariff valuations, one per cent on the tariff value

(b) in the case of all other goods, one per cent on the market-value

Nothing in this section shall apply to any shipment of treasure or opium

140 If any goods mentioned in a shipping bill or manifest be not shipped or be shipped and afterwards re landed the owner shall before the expiration of five clear working days after the vessel on which such goods were intended to be shipped or from which they were re landed, has left the port, give information of such short shipment or re-landing to the Customs-collector

Notice of non shipment or re-landing and return of duty thereon

Upon an application being made to the Customs-collector, any duty levied upon goods not shipped, or upon goods shipped and afterwards re-landed, shall be refunded to the person on whose behalf such duty was paid Provided that no such refund shall be allowed unless information has been given as above required

141 If after having cleared from any customs-port, any vessel without having discharged her cargo returns to such port, or puts into any other customs port, any owner of goods in such vessel, if he desires to land or tranship the same or any portion thereof for re-export may, with the consent of the master, apply to the Customs-collector in that behalf

Goods re landed or transhipped from a vessel returning to port or putting into another port

The Customs-collector, if he grant the application, shall thereupon send an officer of Customs to watch the vessel, and to take charge of such goods during such re landing or transshipment

Such goods shall not be allowed to be transhipped or re-exported free of duty by reason of the previous settlement of duty at the time of first export unless they are lodged and remain until the time of re export under the custody of an officer of Customs in a place appointed by the Customs collector or re transhipped under such custody

All expenses attending such custody shall be borne by the owner

142 In either of the cases mentioned in section 141 the master of the vessel may enter such vessel inwards, and any owner of goods therein may with the consent of the master, land the same under the rules herein contained for the importation of goods

Vessel returning to port may enter and land goods under import rules

In every such case, any export duty levied shall be refunded to and any amount paid in drawback shall be recovered from such owner

143 The Customs collector may on application by the master of any vessel which is obliged before completing her voyage to put into any customs-port for repairs, permit him to land the cargo or any portion thereof, and to place it in the custody of an officer of Customs during such repairs, and to re-ship and export the same free of duty.

Landing of cargo during repairs

All expenses attending such custody shall be borne by the master

Provided that the exportation be made within one year from the date of payment of such excise-duty, and that the spirit, when brought to the custom house be accompanied by a pass in which such payment is certified

Such drawback shall be regulated by the strength and quantity of such spirit as ascertained by gauge and proof by an officer of Customs

151 [Notwithstanding anything in the "Indian Tariff Act, 1882†"]‡ if spirit manufactured in [British India]§ upon which excise-duty has been paid is exported from one customs port to another, and the rate of local excise-duty at the port of importation is higher than that already paid upon such spirit, a differential duty shall be charged thereon at such rate as the Local Government at such port may, by notification in the local official Gazette, from time to time prescribe

Provided that the [Chief Customs authority]|| may authorise the import of such spirit without the payment of the differential duty at the port of importation when the spirit is to be delivered into a warehouse appointed by the [Chief Customs-authority]|| in this behalf, and the differential duty is to be paid on the removal of the spirit from a warehouse so appointed ¶

152 Rum-shrub, cordial and other such liquor prepared in a licensed distillery under the supervision of the surveyor or officer in charge of the distillery shall be charged with excise-duty under this Act according to the quantity of spirit used in its preparation as ascertained by such surveyor or officer

Provisions respecting spirit applied to such liquors The provisions of this Act respecting spirit, except such as relate to gauge and proof, shall apply to such liquor

153 No drawback shall be allowed for any spirit on which duty has been paid, nor shall the duty due on any spirit under bond be remitted, unless the spirit is shipped from the custom-house, and in a vessel whereon an officer of Customs has been appointed to superintend the receipt of export-cargo

COASTING TRADE

156 Except as hereinafter provided, nothing in Chapters VII IX X and sections 136 139 and 141 to 143 inclusive, of this Act, shall apply to coasting-vessels or to goods imported or exported in such vessels

Chapters VII, IX, X and part of XIII inapplicable to coasting trade

157 The [Central Government]§ may, from time to time, make rules consistent with the provisions of this Chapter,—

Power to regulate coasting trade

(a) extending any provision of the Chapters and sections mentioned in section 156, with or without modification, to any coasting-vessels or to any goods imported or exported in such vessels,

(b) exempting any such vessels or goods from any of the other provisions of this Act except those contained in this Chapter,

(c) prescribing the conditions on which goods, or any specified class of goods may be (1) carried in a coasting vessel, whether shipped at a foreign port, or at a Customs port, or at a place declared under section 12 to be a port (2) shipped in a coasting vessel before all durable goods and goods brought in such a vessel from a foreign port have been unladen,

(d) prohibiting the conveyance of any specified class of goods generally, or to or between specified ports in a coasting vessel

§ In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. O. Order of 1937 In Burma for these words read the word "Governor," vide G. O. Order of 1937

158 Before any coasting-vessel departs from the port of lading, ^{than} Coasting vessels to deliver manifest and obtain port clearance before leaving port of lading ^{master the} containing a true specification of all goods to be carried in such vessel, ^{icate,} in such form, and accompanied by such shipping-bills or other documents, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Chief Customs-authority

If the Customs-collector sees no objection to the departure of the vessel, he shall retain the duplicate and return the original manifest, dated and signed by him, together with its accompaniments, and such manifest shall be the port-clearance of the vessel, unless, under the general orders of the Chief Customs authority, a separate port-clearance be prescribed

159 Within twenty four hours after the arrival of any coasting-vessel at any customs port whether ^{intermediate or final, and before any goods}
Delivery of manifest, etc., on arrival ^{are there discharged, the manifest together} with the other documents referred to in section 158, shall be delivered to the Customs collector, who shall note on the manifest the date of delivery

If the vessel has touched at any foreign port between such port of arrival and her last preceding customs port of departure, the master shall append to the manifest a declaration to that effect, and shall also indicate on the manifest the portions (if any) of the cargo therein described which have been discharged and subjoin thereto a true specification of all goods shipped at such port

If the customs-port of arrival be an intermediate port and a portion only of the cargo is to be discharged thereat, the master shall likewise so deliver an extract from the manifest signed by him relating to such portion, and the Customs collector shall, after verifying such extract, return to him the original manifest, and all documents accompanying it except those relating to such portion

If, in any case the cargo actually on board any coasting vessel on her arrival at any customs port does not, owing to short shipment, re landing or other cause correspond with the specification thereof in the manifest returned to the master under the second clause of section 158 such master shall, before delivery of such manifest under this section note thereon the particulars of the difference

The Customs collector, when satisfied with the manifest and other documents, shall grant an order to break bulk

160 Before any coasting vessel departs from any customs port at ^{which she has touched during her voyage,} Departure from intermediate port ^{the master shall re-deliver the original} manifest to the Customs-collector after ^{indicating thereon the portions (if any) of the cargo therein described} which have been discharged, and subjoining thereto a true specification of all goods shipped at such port He shall also deliver a duplicate, signed by him, of the specification so subjoined

If the Customs-collector sees no objection to the departure of vessel, he shall proceed as prescribed in the second clause of section 158.

161 The Customs collector may, for sufficient reason, refuse port-clearance to any coasting-vessel declared to be bound to, or about to touch at, any customs port, unless the owner or master gives a bond, with such security as the Customs-collector deems sufficient, for the production to the Customs collector of a certificate from the proper officer of the port to which such vessel is said to be bound, of her arrival at such port within a reasonable time to be prescribed in each case by the Customs collector.

162 When permission has been granted by the Customs-collector for the discharge of cargo from any coasting-vessel—

(a) If the vessel has not touched at any intermediate foreign port in the course of her voyage, and has not on board any dutiable goods the cargo may be forthwith landed and removed by the owner, without entry thereof at the custom-house and clearance for home-consumption, but subject to such general check and control as the [Chief Customs-officer]* may from time to time by rules prescribe,

(b) if the vessel has so touched at any such port or has on board any such goods, such vessel shall be subject to all the provisions of Chapter VII of this Act relating to vessels arriving and such goods and until such goods have been duly discharged all other goods on board shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter IX of this Act relating to goods imported

163 If any of the goods on board of any coasting vessel be subject to any excise-duty, they shall not be unladen without the permission of the proper officer of Excise

164 Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained [the Chief Customs-officer may grant or]†

Grant and revocation of Chief Customs-officer may grant or† general pass "may grant a

1 . The Chief Customs-authority may direct that the master of any coasting-vessel which is square rigged or propelled by steam shall keep, or cause to be kept, a cargo-book, stating the name of the master, the vessel, the port to which she belongs, and the port to which on each voyage she is bound

Rules respecting cargo books to be kept by masters of coasting vessels

At every port of lading such master shall enter, or cause to be entered, in such book the name of such port and an account of all goods there taken on board of such vessel, with a description of the packages, and the quantities and descriptions of the goods, contained therein or stowed loose, and the names of the respective shippers and consignees, in so far as such particulars are known to him

At every port of discharge of any such goods such master shall enter, or cause to be entered, in such book the respective days on which such goods or any of them are delivered out of such vessel

The respective times of departure from every port of lading, and of arrival at every port of discharge, shall in like manner be duly entered

Every such master shall, on demand, produce his cargo-book for the inspection of any officer of Customs, and such officer shall be at liberty to make any note or remark therein

The Chief Customs authority may, in the case of any vessel the master whereof has been directed to keep a cargo-book under this section, dispense with the manifest required under sections 158, 159 and 160

166 Any duly empowered officer of Customs may go on board of any coasting-vessel in any port or place in British India and may at any period of a voyage search any such vessel and examine all goods on board, and all goods then lading or unlading and may demand the production of any document which ought to be on board of any such vessel

The Customs collector may further require that any such document belonging to any coasting-vessel then in port shall be brought to him for inspection

169 Any officer of Customs duly employed in the prevention of smuggling may search any person on board of any vessel in any port in British India, or any person who has landed from any vessel

Power to search on reasonable suspicion

Provided that such officer has reason to believe that such person has dutiable or prohibited goods secreted about his person

170 When any officer of Customs is about to search any person under the provisions of section 169, such person may require the said officer to take him, previous to search before the nearest Magistrate or Customs-collector

Persons may before search require to be taken before Magistrate or Customs collector

If such requisition be made, the officer of Customs may detain the person making it until he can bring him before the nearest Magistrate or Customs collector

... the whom any person is ... and for search, forthwith direct that the search be made

A female shall not be searched by any but a female

171 Any duly empowered officer of Customs or other person duly employed for the prevention of smuggling may stop and search for smuggled goods any vessel, cart or other means of conveyance Provided that he has reason to believe that smuggled goods are contained therein

Power to stop vessels carts etc and search for goods on reasonable suspicion

172 Any Magistrate may, on application by a Customs-collector, stating his belief that dutiable or prohibited goods are secreted in any place within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Magistrate, issue a warrant to search for such goods

Power to issue search warrants

Such warrant shall be executed in the same way, and shall have the same effect as a search warrant issued under the law relating to Criminal Procedure †

* The powers conferred on officers of Customs under this Chapter may be exercised by them for the prevention of offences under the Indian Immigration Act, 1903 (17 of 1903) see s. 99 of the Act

† See now Act 5 of 1893

173 Any person against whom a reasonable suspicion exists that he has been guilty of an offence under this Act may be arrested in any place, either upon land or water, by any officer of Customs or other person duly employed for the prevention of smuggling

Persons reasonably suspected may be arrested

Persons arrested to be taken to nearest Magistrate or Customs collector

174 Every person arrested on the ground that he has been guilty of an offence under this Act shall forthwith be taken before the nearest Magistrate or Customs-collector

175 When any such person is taken before a Magistrate, such Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, either commit him to gaol or order him to be kept in the custody of the Police for such time as is necessary to enable such Magistrate to communicate with the proper officers of Customs

Persons taken before Magistrate may be detained or admitted to bail

Provided that any person so arrested committed or kept shall be released on giving security to the satisfaction of the Magistrate to appear at such time and place as such Magistrate appoints in this behalf 176 If any person liable to be arrested under this Act is not arrested at the time of committing the offence for which he is so liable, or after arrest make his escape, he may at any time afterwards be arrested and taken before a Magistrate, to be dealt with as if he had been arrested at the time of committing such offence.

Person escaping may be afterwards arrested

177 When any person employed on the crew of any of the ships of Her Majesty's Navy, [or His Majesty's Indian Navy]* is arrested under this Act, the arresting officer shall forthwith give notice thereof to the commanding officer of the ship, who shall thereupon place such person in security on board of such ship, until the arresting officer has obtained a warrant from a Magistrate for bringing up such person to be dealt with according to law

Persons in Her Majesty's Navy when arrested to be secured on board until warrant procured

The Magistrate shall grant such warrant upon complaint made to him by the arresting officer, stating the offence for which the person is detained

178 Any things liable to confiscation under this Act may be seized in any place, either upon land or water, by any officer of Customs or other person duly employed for the prevention of smuggling

Seizure of things liable to confiscation

179 All things seized on the ground that they are liable to confiscation under this Act shall, as soon as conveniently may be, be delivered into the care of any Customs officer authorised to receive the same

Things seized how dealt with

If there be no such officer at hand, all such things shall be carried to and deposited at the custom house nearest to the place of seizure

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937. In Burma for these words read the words 'Indian Marine or Marine Survey'

If there be no custom house within a convenient distance, such things shall be deposited at the nearest place appointed by the [Chief Customs officer]* for the deposit of things so seized

180 When any things liable to confiscation under this Act are seized by any Police-officer on suspicion that they have been stolen, he may carry them to any police station or Court at which a complaint connected with the stealing or receiving of such things has been made, or an enquiry connected with such stealing or receiving is in progress and there detain such things until the dismissal of such complaint or the conclusion of such enquiry or of any trial thence resulting

In every such case the Police-officer seizing the things shall send written notice of their seizure and detention to the nearest custom-house, and immediately after the dismissal of the complaint or the conclusion of the enquiry or trial, he shall cause such things to be conveyed to, and deposited at the nearest custom house, to be there proceeded against according to law

181 When any thing is seized or any person is arrested under this Act the officer or other person making such seizure or arrest shall, on demand of the person in charge of the thing so seized, or of the person so arrested, give him a statement in writing of the reason for such seizure or arrest

181A† (1) The Chief Customs-officer or other officer authorised by the [Provincial Government]‡ in this behalf may detain any package, brought whether by land or sea into [British India]§ which he suspects to contain—

(a) any newspaper or book as defined in the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, or

(b) any document, containing any seditious matter, that is to say, any matter the publication of which is punishable under section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, and shall forward such package to such officer as the [Provincial Government]‡ may appoint in this behalf

(2) Any officer detaining a package under the provisions of subsection (1) shall where practicable forthwith send by post to the addressee or consignee of such package notice of the fact of such detention

(3) The [Provincial Government]‡ shall cause the contents of such package to be examined and if it appears to the [Provincial Government]‡ that the package contains any such newspaper book or other document, containing any such seditious matter, may pass such orders as to the disposal of the package and its contents as it may deem proper and if it does not so appear shall release the package and its contents unless the same be otherwise liable to seizure under any law for the time being in force

Provided that any person interested in any package detained under the provisions of this section may, within two months from the date of such detention, apply to the [Provincial Government]* for release of the same, and the [Provincial Government]* shall consider such application and pass such orders thereon as it may deem to be proper

Provided, further, that, if such application is rejected the applicant may, within two months from the date of the order rejecting the application, apply to the High Court for release of the package of its contents on the ground that the package did not contain any such newspaper, book or other document containing any such seditious matter

(4) In this section "document" includes also any painting, drawing or photograph, or other visible representation

181B† Every application under the second proviso to sub-section (3) of section 181A shall be heard and determined, in the manner provided by sections 99D to 99F of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898,‡ by a special Bench of the High Court constituted in the manner provided by section 99C of that Code

Procedure for disposal by High Court of applications for release of packages so detained

181C § No order passed or action taken under section 181A shall be called in question in any Court otherwise than in accordance with the second proviso to sub-section (3) of that section

182 In every case, except the cases mentioned in section 167, Nos 26, 72 and 74 to 76 both inclusive, in which, under this Act anything is liable to confiscation or to increased rates of duty, or any person is liable to a penalty, such confiscation, increased rate of duty or penalty may be adjudged—

(a) without limit, by a Deputy Commissioner or Deputy Collector of Customs, or a Customs-collector,

(b) up to confiscation of goods not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupees in value, and imposition of penalty or increased duty not exceeding one hundred rupees, by an Assistant Commissioner or Assistant Collector of Customs,

(c) up to confiscation of goods not exceeding fifty rupees in value and imposition of penalty or increased duty not exceeding ten rupees, by such other subordinate officers of Customs as the [Chief Customs authority]¶ may, from time to time, empower in that behalf in virtue of their office

Provided that the [Chief Customs authority]¶ may, in the case of any officer performing the duties of a Customs-collector, limit his powers to those indicated in clause (b) or in clause (c) of this section, and may confer on any officer, by name or in virtue of his office, the powers indicated in clause (a) or (c) of this section

183 Whenever confiscation is authorised by this Act, the officer adjudging it shall give the owner of the goods an option to pay in lieu of confiscation such fine as the officer thinks fit

Option to pay fine in lieu of confiscation

On confiscation, property to vest in Her Majesty

184 When anything is confiscated under section 182, such thing shall thereupon vest in Her Majesty

The officer adjudging confiscation shall take and hold possession of the thing confiscated, and every officer of Police, on the requisition of such officer, shall assist him in taking and holding such possession

185 If any vessel actually departs without a port clearance, or after failing to bring to when required at any station appointed under section 17, the penalty to which the master of such vessel is liable may be adjudged by the Chief Customs-officer of any customs port to which such vessel proceeds, or in which she is *

A certificate of such departure or failure to bring-to when required, purporting to be signed by the Chief Customs-officer of the port from which the vessel is stated to have so departed, shall be prima facie proof of the fact so certified

186 The award of any confiscation penalty or increased rate of duty under this Act by an officer of Customs shall not prevent the infliction of any punishment to which the person affected thereby is liable under any other law

187 All offences against this Act, other than those cognizable under section 182 by officers of Customs may be tried summarily by a Magistrate

188 Any person deeming himself aggrieved by any decision or order passed by an officer of Customs under this Act may, within three months from the date of such decision or order, appeal therefrom to the Chief Customs authority, or, in such cases as [the Central Government]† directs, to any officer of Customs not inferior in rank to a Customs collector and empowered in that behalf by name or in virtue of his office by [the Central Government] †

Such authority or officer may thereupon make such further enquiry and pass such order as he thinks fit, confirming altering or annulling the decision or order appealed against

Provided that no such order in appeal shall have the effect of subjecting any person to any greater confiscation, penalty or rate of duty than has been adjudged against him in the original decision or order

Every order passed in appeal under this section shall, subject to the power of revision conferred by section 191, be final

When delivery of such goods to the owner thereof is withheld merely by reason of such amount not being paid, the Customs-collector shall, upon such deposit being made, cause such goods to be delivered to such owner.

If upon any such appeal it is decided that the whole or any portion of such amount was not leviable in respect of such goods, the Customs-collector shall return such amount or portion (as the case may be) to the owner of such goods on demand by such owner

190 If, upon consideration of the circumstances under which any penalty, increased rate of duty or confiscation has been adjudged under this Act by an officer of Customs, the Chief Customs authority is of opinion that such penalty, increased rate or confiscation ought to be remitted in whole or in part, or commuted, such Authority may remit the same or any portion thereof, or may, with the consent of the owner of any goods ordered to be confiscated, commute the order of confiscation to a penalty not exceeding the value of such goods.

191. [The Central Government]* may, on the application of any person aggrieved by any decision or order passed under this Act by any officer of Customs or Chief Customs-authority, and from which no appeal lies, reverse or modify such decision or order

192 When any fine, penalty or increased rate of duty is leviable under this Act, the goods in respect of which such fine, penalty or rate is leviable shall not be removed by the owner until such fine, penalty or rate is paid

If any person has become liable to any such fine, penalty or rate in respect of any goods, the Customs-collector may detain any other goods belonging to such person passing through the custom-house until such fine, penalty or rate is paid

193 When a penalty or increased rate of duty is adjudged against any person under this Act by any officer of customs such officer, if such penalty or increased rate be not paid, may levy the same by sale of any goods of the said person which may be in his charge or in the charge of any other officer of Customs

(ACT NO XVI OF 1861)

(Received the Governor General's assent on the 7th July 1861)

An Act for licensing and regulating Stage-Carriages

WHEREAS it is expedient to license and to regulate stage-carriages in [British India]* it is enacted
I recamble follows —

* In Burma for British India

British Burma vide G B Order of 1

1. Every carriage drawn by one or more horses which shall ordinarily be used for the purpose of conveying passengers for hire to or from any place in [British India]* shall without regard to the form or construction of such carriage, be deemed to be a stage-carriage within the meaning of this Act †

2 No carriage shall be used as a stage-carriage unless licensed by a Magistrate [or by the Commissioner of Police of a Presidency-town]‡

3. The Magistrate [or Commissioner of Police]§ to whom the application for a licence of a stage-carriage is made may refuse to license the same if he shall be of opinion that such stage-carriage is unserviceable or is unsafe or unfit for public accommodation or use.

If a Magistrate [or Commissioner of Police]§ as aforesaid shall grant a licence the licence shall set forth the number thereof, the name and residence of the proprietor of the stage-carriage, the place at which his head office is held, the largest number of passengers and the greatest weight of luggage to be carried in or on such carriage, the number of horses by which such carriage is to be drawn, and the name of the place at which such carriage is licensed

4 ||[For every such licence there shall be paid by the proprietor of the stage-carriage the sum of five rupees or such less sum as the "Provincial Government" ¶ may fix, and such licence shall be in force for one year from the date thereof.]

When a licensed stage-carriage is transferred to a new proprietor within the year, the name of such new proprietor shall, on application to that effect, be substituted in the licence for the name of the former proprietor without any further payment for that year, and every person who appears by the licence to be the proprietor shall be deemed to be such proprietor for all the purposes of this Act

Notes.—For scale of fees fixed by the Chief Commissioner, North Western Frontier Province, vide Gazette of India, 1904, Part II, p 354

5 On any stage-carriage being licensed, the proprietor thereof shall cause the number of the licence and all the other particulars of the licence to be distinctly painted in the English language and character upon a conspicuous part of such stage-carriage

6 The proprietor of any licensed stage-carriage who shall let such stage carriage for hire without the particulars specified in section 3 being painted on such carriage in the manner directed in

* In Burma for "British India" read "British Burma" vide G. B. Order of 1937

† The proviso to s 1 has been repealed by s 2 of the Stage Carriages Act (1961) and this Act shall stand repealed of 1937

the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

7. Whoever lets for hire any stage-carriage without the same being licensed as provided by this Act, shall be liable, on a first conviction, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and on any subsequent conviction, to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

8. Any proprietor, or agent of a proprietor, or any driver of a licensed stage-carriage, who knowingly permits such carriage to be drawn by a less number of horses or who knowingly permits a larger number of passengers, or a greater weight of luggage, to be carried by such stage-carriage than shall be provided by the licence, shall be liable on a first conviction, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and, on any subsequent conviction, to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

In every case where such stage-carriage shall be proved to have been drawn by a less number of horses, or to have carried a larger number of passengers or a greater weight of luggage, than shall be provided by the licence, the proprietor of such carriage shall be held to have knowingly permitted such offence, unless he shall prove that the offence was not committed with his connivance, and that he had taken every reasonable precaution and had made reasonable provision to prevent the commission of the offence.

9. Any person who shall cruelly beat, ill-treat, over-drive, abuse, torture, or cause or procure to be cruelly beaten, ill-treated, over-driven, abused or tortured, any horse, employed in drawing or harnessed to any stage-carriage, or who shall harness to or drive in any stage-carriage any horse which from sickness, age, wounds or other cause, is unfit to be driven in such stage-carriage, shall for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees

10 Any Magistrate [or* Commissioner of Police]† within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any stage carriage shall ply, or who has granted the licence of stage-carriage, may cancel the licence of such stage-carriage if it shall appear to him that such stage-carriage, or any horse or any harness used with such carriage, is unserviceable or unsafe, or otherwise unfit for public accommodation or use

11 In any section or place in which a Magistrate shall reside and be, any police-officer may, in any place within two miles of the office of such Magistrate, seize any stage carriage with the horse harnessed thereto, if the full particulars of the licence of such stage-carriage be not distinctly painted on such stage-carriage in the manner provided in section 5 of this Act

* The word "Chief" has been omitted by Act X of 1914

† In Burma the words within brackets have been omitted by G. O. Order of 19

Such carriage with the horse harnessed thereto shall be taken without delay by such police-officer before such Magistrate, who shall forthwith proceed to hear and determine the complaint of such police-officer, and, if thereupon any fine is imposed by such Magistrate and such fine is paid, such stage-carriage and horse shall be immediately released, and if such fine be not paid, such stage-carriage and horse may be detained for twenty days as security for the payment thereof, and if the fine be not sooner paid, they may be sold and the proceeds applied (so far as they extend) to the payment of the said fine, and all costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale, and the surplus (if any), when claimed, shall be paid to the proprietor of such carriage and horse, and if such surplus be not claimed within a further period of two months from such sale, the same shall be forfeited to the State

If the proceeds of such sale do not fully pay the fine and costs and charges aforesaid, the balance may be recovered as hereinafter provided

12 If any driver of any stage-carriage or any person having the care thereof, shall, through intoxication Penalty for misconduct on part of drivers neglect, or by wanton or furious driving or by any other misconduct, endanger the safety of any passenger or other person, or shall injure or endanger the property of the proprietor of such stage-carriage or of any other person, every such person so offending shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees

13 Whenever the driver of any stage-carriage or the owner of any horse employed in drawing any stage-carriage shall have committed any offence Penalty when recoverable from proprietor against this Act for the commission whereof any penalty is by this Act imposed, other than an offence specified in section 8 and such driver or owner shall not be known, or being known cannot be found, or if the penalty cannot be recovered from such driver or owner, the proprietor of such carriage shall be liable to every such penalty as if he had been the driver of such carriage or owner of such horse at the time when such offence was committed

Provided that if any such proprietor shall make out, to the satisfaction of the Magistrate before whom Proviso any complaint or information shall be heard, by sufficient evidence, that the offence was committed by such driver or owner without the privity or knowledge of such proprietor, and that no profit, advantage or benefit, either directly or indirectly, has accrued or can accrue to such proprietor therefrom, and that he has used his endeavour to find out such driver or owner, and has done all that was in his power to recover the amount of the penalty from him, the Magistrate may discharge the proprietor from such penalty, and shall levy the same upon such driver or owner when found

14 Whenever any charge is made before any Magistrate of any offence under this Act on which it is Issue of summons necessary to issue a summons to the proprietor of a stage-carriage, the Magistrate shall issue such summons directed to such proprietor or his nearest agent, and may transmit such summons by letter-post, which shall be deemed to be good service thereof

The letter shall be registered at the post-office, and the cost of the registration shall be borne by the Government in the first instance, but may be charged as costs in the case

The summons shall allow a reasonable time, in reference to the distance to which the summons is sent, for the appearance of such proprietor or his agent as aforesaid

15 All penalties incurred under this Act shall be adjudged by a Magistrate [or Commissioner of Police]* as aforesaid and all orders made under this Act by such Magistrate [or Commissioner of Police]* shall be final

16 All penalties imposed under this Act, or any balance of any fine, costs or charges as mentioned in section 11 of this Act, may in case of non-payment or non recovery thereof be levied by distress and sale of the moveable property of the offender by warrant under the hand of the Magistrate who imposed the same

17 In case any such penalties shall not be forthwith paid, such Magistrate may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless the offender shall give security to the satisfaction of such Magistrate for his appearance at such place and time as such shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress

18 If upon the return of such warrant, it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such penalty, and the same shall not be forthwith paid or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such Magistrate by the confession of the offender or otherwise that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty could be levied if warrant of distress were issued, such Magistrate may by warrant under his hand commit the offender provided he is not a European British subject, to prison, there to be imprisoned according to the discretion of such officer, for any term not exceeding two calendar months when the amount of penalty shall not exceed fifty rupees and for any term not exceeding four calendar months when the amount shall not exceed one hundred rupees and for any term not exceeding six calendar months in any other case the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount

19 If the offender shall be a European British subject, the Magistrate shall record the facts and transmit such record to the District Court of the district wherein the offender is convicted and the amount of penalty and the costs (if any) shall be levied

* In Burma the words with cts have been omitted by G. B. Order of in the manner provided for the execution of decrees of the Civil Court

20 On complaint made before any Magistrate of any offence committed under this Act, it shall not be necessary to prove that the offence was committed within the local limits of such Magistrate or other officer 20A.* (1) The [Provincial Government]† may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes and objects of this Act [in the territories under its administration]‡ or any part of the said territories.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe forms for licences under this Act, the sums payable for the same and the conditions on which they may be granted, and the cases in which they may be revoked ;

(b) provide for the inspection of stage-carriages, and of the animals employed in drawing them, and

(c) regulate the number and length of the stages for which animals may be driven in stage-carriages and the manner in which they shall be harnessed and yoked.

(3) In making any rule under this section, the [Provincial Government]† may direct that a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees

21 The term "Magistrate" in this Act shall include all Magistrates and other persons exercising the powers of a Magistrate, §

[All expressions and provisions which in this Act are applied to horses shall also apply to all other animals employed in drawing any carriage ordinarily used for the purpose of conveying passengers for hire to or from any place in British India]¶¶

22  This Act, as amended by subsequent Acts extends to the whole of [British India], †† but it shall not apply to carriages ordinarily plying for hire within the limits of any municipality or cantonment or other place in which any law for the regulation of carriages is for the time being in force

23  The [Provincial Government]† may, by notification in the official Gazette, exempt any carriages or class of carriages from all or any of the provisions of this Act

THE SUGAR (EXCISE DUTY) ACT, 1934

(ACT NO XIV OF 1934)

Received the assent of the Governor-General on the 1st May, 1934.

An Act to provide for the imposition and collection of an excise duty on Sugar

WHEREAS it is expedient to impose an excise duty on sugar produced in factories and to provide for the collection thereof, it is hereby enacted as follows —

Notes — (1) The Bill is designed to impose an excise duty on sugar produced in factories in British India. The rate of tax is fixed so as to be equal to the excess of the emergency surcharge over the figure by which according to the Government's calculations it would have been incumbent upon them to raise the protective duty in exercise of the power under section 4 of the Sugar Industry (Protection) Act 1933 had the emergency been entrusted to the Local Governments but the Bill has been so drafted as to be at a later stage — Statement of Objects and Reasons

Short title and extent

1 (1) This Act may be called the Sugar (Excise Duty) Act, 1934

[(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas]*

Definitions

2 In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) 'factory' means any premises wherein, or within the precincts of which, twenty or more workers are working or were working on any day of the preceding twelve months and in any part of which any manufacturing process connected with the production of sugar is being carried on or is ordinarily carried on with the aid of power

(b) 'owner' includes any person expressly or impliedly authorized by the owner of a factory to be his agent in respect of such factory

(c) 'sugar' means any form of sugar containing more than ninety per cent of sucrose

(d) 'khandsari sugar' means sugar in the manufacture of which neither a vacuum pan nor a vacuum evaporator is employed and

(e) 'palmyra sugar' means sugar manufactured from jaggery obtained by boiling the juice of the palmyra palm

3 (1) A duty of excise shall be levied on all sugar produced in any factory in [British India]† and either issued out of such factory on or after the 1st day of April 1934, or used within such factory on or after the said date in the manufacture of any commodity other than sugar and shall be payable by the owner of the factory

(2) The duty payable under sub section (1) shall be at the following rates namely —

(i) on khandsari sugar at the rate of ten annas per cwt

* In Burma the words within brackets have been omitted by G. B. Order of 1937
† In Burma for 'British India' read 'British Burma' vide G. B. Order of 1937

(ii) on all other sugar except palmyra sugar at the rate of one rupee and five annas per cwt

(i) on palmyra sugar at such rate, if any as may be fixed in this behalf by the [Central Government]* after such enquiry as he may think fit

4 (1) If any duty payable under section 3 is not paid within the time fixed by rules made in that behalf under this Act it shall be deemed to be an arrear and the authority to which such duty is payable may in lieu thereof, recover any sum not exceeding double the amount of duty unpaid which such authority may in its discretion think it reasonable to require

(2) An arrear of duty, or any sum recoverable in lieu thereof under this section shall be recoverable as an arrear of land revenue and shall be recoverable in addition to and not in substitution for, any other penalty incurred under this Act

5 No person shall issue any sugar out of a factory, except in accordance with the provisions of rules made in that behalf under this Act or until such rules are made, in accordance with the general or special orders of the [Central Government] *

6 (1) The [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]† impose on sugar brought into [British India]‡ form the territory of any State in [India]‡ not being territory which has been declared under section 5 of the Indian Tariff Act 1894 to be foreign territory for the purposes of that section, a duty of customs equivalent to the excise duty imposed by this Act on sugar produced in [British India] ‡

(2) The [Central Government]* may by notification in the [official Gazette]† declare that the provisions of the Land Customs Act 1924, shall apply to the levy of the duty of customs imposed under this section and on such declaration that Act shall apply as if the expression foreign territory in that Act included territory forming part of a State in [India] ‡

7 Whoever contravenes the provisions of section 5 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees

8 Whoever evades or attempts to evade the payment of any duty payable by him under this Act or fails to supply any information which he is required by any rule made under this Act to supply, or knowingly supplies false information, shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to two thousand rupees, or with both

(2) No consignment of tea or tea seed shall be shipped or water borne to be shipped for carriage to any of the French or Portuguese Settlements bounded by India until the owner has delivered to the Customs collector a permit issued by or on behalf of the Committee or issued by or on behalf of the Central Government, as the case may be, covering the quantity to be shipped

(3) No permit for the passage of any tea by land into any of the French or Portuguese Settlements bounded by India shall be granted under sub section (1) of section 5 of the Land Customs Act, 1924† unless the application for such permit is accompanied by a permit granted in this behalf by the Committee covering the quantity to be passed

20 (1) The Committee may serve by post a notice upon the owner of any tea estate or upon his manager, requiring him to furnish within such period not being less than thirty days as it may specify in the notice, such returns relating to the production, sale and export of tea produced on the estate, or to any other matter as it may deem necessary to enable it to discharge its duties under this Chapter

(2) Where any return required under sub-section (1) in respect of any tea estate is not furnished within the period specified in the notice the Committee may refuse to allot a quota to that estate

under section 14 or, where a quota has already been allotted, may cancel the unexhausted balance of that quota and refuse to issue any further export licences under section 16 against that quota or to recognise or give effect to any transfer under section 15

21 (1) The Committee may serve by post a notice upon any person claiming to be the owner of any tea estate or upon his agent or manager or upon any person claiming to be the agent or the manager of the owner of any tea estate requiring him to furnish, within such period as may be specified in the notice or within such extended period as the Committee may allow, such documentary or other evidence as may be required to prove to the satisfaction of the Committee that such person is the owner of such tea estate or is the agent or manager of the owner of a tea estate as the case may be

(2) Where any person fails to comply with the requirements of a notice served on him under sub section (1) or where the evidence furnished by such person is insufficient to prove to the satisfaction of the Committee that such person is the owner of the tea estate of which he claims to be the owner or is the agent or manager of the owner of a tea estate as the case may be the Committee may refuse to issue to such person or to his agent or manager any export licences against the quota allotted to such tea estate

Fees

22 (1) The Committee may charge and collect the following fees namely —

(a) a licence fee for every export licence or special export licence or permit issued by it at such rates not exceeding one rupee per thousand pounds of tea or part thereof covered by the licence or permit as the Central Government may on the recommendation of the Committee by notification in the official Gazette fix in this behalf

(b) a fee, not to exceed eight annas per acre of the area concerned on any application under sub section (3) of section 14 for re-determination of crop basis and

(c) copying fees for certified copies of accounts of quotas at the rate of one rupee per copy

Provided that the owner of any tea estate to which a quota has been allotted under section 14 may make or the Committee may require him to make a consolidated payment of export licence fees at the rate fixed under clause (a) to cover the whole of the quota

(2) The Committee shall apply fees collected by it under this section to the meeting of expenses incurred by it in pursuance of the purposes of this Act and, with the previous sanction of the Central Government, to the payment of a contribution towards the maintenance of any international committee established in furtherance of the said purposes in or by tea producing countries generally

Power to make rules

23 The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette make rules—

(a) prescribing all matters requiring to be prescribed for purposes of the Schedule

(b) regulating the grant of permits for the carriage of tea to the French and Portuguese Settlements

THE TEA DISTRICTS EMIGRANT LABOUR ACT, 1932.

(ACT NO XXII OF 1932)

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 8th October, 1932)

An Act to amend the law relating to emigrant labourers in the tea districts of Assam

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to emigrant labourers in the tea districts of Assam, It is hereby enacted as follows which regulates emigration to mainly to regulate the rec been possible for some years and in consequence of this and other changes the land is entirely unsuited to present conditions Attempts were made by amending Acts in 1908 1915 and 1927 to adopt the Act to meet altering condi tions substantial parts of it have been repealed and large numbers of rules have been framed in the endeavour to use the Act to regulate the recruitment of emigrants who are subject to no indenture These changes have proved inadequate and they have made the law extremely confused Large parts of the surviving provisions of the Act have become completely ineffective and those provisions which are operative are open to weighty criti cisms

2 In 1926 the Government of India addressed the Local Governments mainly con cerned suggesting that the time might have come for the abolition of all control over trial an drafted

ber 1928 By the time criticisms of it had been received the Royal Commission on Labour had been appointed and a decision was deferred until they had reported They collected a large amount of evidence on the subject and devoted chapter XX of their report to a discussion of it As a result they recommended the replacement of the existing legisla tion by a new enactment The Bill follows the scheme prepared by the commission whose recommendation have been varied in respect of minor details and supplemented where necessary

3 The first object of the Bill is to make it possible on the one hand to exercise dispense with all control This ideal has recently been endorsed by both the Royal Commission on Agriculture and the Royal Commission on Labour It is desirable therefore that the provisions relating to control should be sufficiently elastic to allow of their complete or partial relaxation as and where this is required and sufficiently wide to deal with any possible recrudescence of recruiting abuses The Bill proposes that Local Governments should be able subject to the control of the Government of India to impose control over the forwarding of assisted emigrants (clause 16 and Chapter III generally) or over both the recruitment and their forwarding (clauses 16 and 26 and Chapters III and IV generally) as occasion may dictate Under the former system assisted emigrants will ordinarily be forwarded through licensed local agents in the recruiting districts (clauses 17 18) by prescribed routes (clause 19) on which provision for food shelter etc, must be made by employers and medical super vision can be exercised (clauses 20 34 36 and 37 (4)) Only employers who make the right to be repatriated from Assam (Chapter II) with the dependants (clause 9) at the employer's expense (clause 12) Ordinarily his right will accrue after three years proposal to appoint a Controller of Immigrant Labour with some staff and possibly a Deputy Controller (clause 2). The charges will be met by the tea industry through a cess of somewhat similar character to that raised under the present Act for the Assam Labour Board (clause 5). The controller is intended to be an officer subject to the Government of India and responsible for—

- (c) supervising conditions in the recruiting provinces where his powers will be limited to inspection and advice (clauses 4, 17 (3) executive action being entrusted to the local authorities (Chapters III and IV))

He should thus be able to secure the proper co-ordination of the whole system and to advise regarding possible relaxations of control under the Act if required. It is intended that with the appointment of the controller, the Assam Labour Board which has since 1915 exercised some supervision, without executive authority, in the recruiting provinces should be abolished.

6 Apart from the main changes proposed in the law and explained above, the Bill involves a number of minor alterations in the present position.

- (4) The bill is not limited in its application to certain provinces [clause 1 (2)] So to limit it would involve the limitation of repatriation rights to emigrants from these provinces while its general extension does not render obligatory the extension of control to areas at present uncontrolled.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement

1 (1) This Act may be called the Tea Districts Emigrant Labour Act, 1932.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including the Santhal Parganas

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]* appoint

Notes — We consider that it is preferable at once to include the Santhal Parganas which is a recruiting area of some importance. With reference to sub clause (3) we are anxious that the Act should be put into operation as soon as possible. We are satisfied with the assurance given by the Honourable Member for Industries and Labour that Government will expedite as far as possible the bringing into force of the Act "—Report of the Select Committee

Definitions

2 In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "tea district" means any of the following districts in the province of Assam, namely:—

Lakhimpur, Sibsagar, Nowgong, Darrang, Kamrup, Golpara, Cachar and Sylhet, and the Balipara Frontier Tract,

(b) "tea estate" means an estate, situated in the tea districts, any part of which is used or is intended to be used for the cultivation or manufacture of tea or for any purpose connected therewith,

(c) "recruiting province" means any province other than Assam,

(d) "adult" means a person who has completed his sixteenth year, and "child" means a person who is not an adult,

(e) a "labourer" means an adult working on wages not exceeding fifty rupees a month, but does not include a clerk or domestic servant, or a mechanic carpenter, mason, bricklayer or other artisan,

(f) an "assisted emigrant" means an adult who, after, the commencement of this Act, has left his home in any recruiting province or in any Indian State is proceeding through any part of British India to any place in Assam to work as a labourer on a tea estate and has received assistance from any person but does not include any person who at any time within the two preceding years has worked as a labourer on a tea estate,

(g) "assistance" means the gift or offer of any money, goods or ticket entitling to conveyance to any person as an inducement to such person to proceed to Assam to work as a labourer on a tea estate, and "assisted" and "with assistance" when used with reference to any person mean that such person has received assistance,

(h) an "emigrant labourer" means a person who has last entered Assam as an assisted emigrant and is employed on a tea estate, and includes any person who having accompanied an assisted emigrant to Assam as a child dependent on him, has become an adult and is so employed, but does not include any person who, at any time after his last entry into Assam and after he has become an adult has taken employment not on a tea estate,

(i) the "family" of any person includes the following if living with him, namely,—

(i) in the case of a male,—his wife and any child and aged or incapacitated relative dependent on him,

(ii) in the case of a married woman,—her husband and any child and aged or incapacitated relative dependent on her or on her husband, and

(iii) in the case of any other woman,—any child and aged or incapacitated relative dependent on her, and in the case of an emigrant labourer, includes any person who having accompanied him to Assam as a child dependent on him, has become an adult and is living with him,

(j) "employing interest" means any employer of labourers or any group or association of such employers, and

(k) "prescribed" means prescribed by the rules made by the [Central Government] *

Notes—Section 2 (1)—We have inserted the Islipara frontier tract among the tea districts as we understand there is at least one tea garden in that tract.

(1) We have somewhat extended the scope of this definition. The words omitted seemed to us likely to give rise to difficulty in interpretation.

(2) We have revised this definition to avoid the danger of the whole period of the sixteenth year of a person being excluded in the case of both an adult and a child.

(3) We have recast this definition in the interest of clarity.

(4) and (5)—A separate definition has been provided for assistance which is used in the Bill as revised both with reference to emigrants as defined hereunder the title 'assisted emigrants' and other persons such as those referred to in clauses 31 and 35 who do not come within the definition now provided for 'assisted emigrant'. The definition of 'assisted emigrant' has been widened to cover persons who have already worked on tea estates in Assam provided that they have been absent from Assam for more than two years.

(6) The omission in this definition is intended to insure that a person who takes up other employment on a tea garden such as that of a domestic servant or mechanic does not thereby lose his status as an emigrant labourer. The other alteration in the definition are consequential upon the change made in (1) and (2).

(7) The omission of the word 'emigrant' is intended to avoid the difficulty arising from the fact that 'emigrant labour' is a technical term with special meaning in this Act so that until persons had emigrated under the Act to tea gardens there might be no employing interests.—Report of the Select Committee

Appointment and status of Controller and Deputy Controllers

3 (1) The [Central Government]* may appoint a person to be Controller of Emigrant Labour, to exercise the powers and discharge the duties conferred and imposed upon the Controller by or under this Act.

(2) The [Central Government]* may also appoint one or more Deputy Controllers of Emigrant Labour, who shall exercise such of the powers and discharge such of the duties of the Controller as the [Central Government]* may determine.

(3) The controller may, from time to time and subject to the control of the [Central Government],* make a distribution of work as between himself and the Deputy Controllers.

(4) The Controller and Deputy Controllers shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

Notes—

Powers of the Controller

4 The Controller shall have power—

(a) to enter—

(i) all open places on a tea estate,

(ii) any enclosed place on a tea estate where he knows or has reason to believe emigrant labourers are working or are accommodated

(iii) any office of a tea estate,

(iv) any office or depot maintained by a labour recruiting agency, in Assam or in a recruiting province,

(v) any train, vessel or vehicle which he knows or has reason to believe is being used for the conveyance of assisted emigrants,

(b) to inspect, in any office or depot mentioned in sub-clauses (iii) and (iv) of clause (a), any register or other document required to be kept under this Act,

(c) to carry out in any place mentioned in clause (a) any

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937.

which he may deem to be expedient for carrying out the purposes of this Act, and

(d) to do any other reasonable act which may be expedient in the discharge of his duties.

Notes — We have omitted words in sub clause (a) which appear to us unnecessary. The other changes are aimed at meeting a criticism made for the draft Bill by the High Court of Lahore and the Punjab Government — Report of the Select Committee

5 (1) In order to meet expenditure incurred in connection with the Controller, the Deputy Controllers and their staff, or under this Act an annual cess shall be levied, to be called the Emigrant Labour Cess

(2) It shall be paid in respect of the entry into Assam of each assisted emigrant and shall be payable by the employing interest on whose behalf he was recruited

(3) It shall be levied at such rate, not exceeding nine rupees, for each emigrant as the [Central Government]* may by notification in the [official Gazette]* determine for the year of levy

(4) The proceeds of the cess shall be credited to a fund to be called the Emigrant Labour Fund, to be administered by the [Central Government]*

Notes — We have altered the provisions regarding the cess to make the cess payable in respect of each assisted emigrant as now defined. The number of such assisted emigrants will be larger than the number of emigrants and we are advised that the maximum rate now to facilitate administration we have provided entry of the emigrant — Report of the Select Committee

(a) prescribing the agency which shall collect the Emigrant Labour Cess,

(b) prescribing the returns to be submitted to such agency by employers of emigrant labourers, and by persons who recruit or forward emigrant labourers and the form and date of such returns,

(c) regulating the procedure of the collecting agency,

(d) prescribing the mode of payment of the cess,

(e) determining the date when any sum payable as cess shall be an arrear

(f) declaring that an arrear of cess may be recovered as an arrear of land revenue and prescribing the procedure to be followed to secure such recovery and

(g) generally, to secure the equitable collection of the cess

REPATRIATION

7 Every emigrant labourer, on the expiry of three years from the date of his entry into Assam, shall have the right of repatriation as against the employer employing him at such expiry

General right of repatriation after three years in Assam

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

8 (1) Any emigrant labourer who, before the expiry of three years from his entry into Assam, is dismissed by his employer otherwise than for wilful and serious misconduct, shall have the right of repatriation against such employer

(2) Where any emigrant labourer is dismissed by his employer before the expiry of three years from his entry into Assam, and his employer refuses or fails to repatriate him, the labourer may apply to the Controller, and the Controller, after such inquiry as he may think fit and after giving the employer an opportunity to be heard, may declare that the labourer has the right of repatriation against such employer

9 (1) Where an emigrant labourer other than a married woman living with her husband and having no child living with her dies within three years of his entry into Assam, the family of such labourer shall be entitled to be repatriated by the employer last employing him

(2) Where such deceased labourer leaves a widow, she shall be deemed to be an emigrant labourer in whom a right of repatriation has arisen

(3) Where there is no such widow, the Controller shall have all powers necessary to enforce the rights of the family under this section, and may take such action as he may deem to be expedient in their interests

Notes.—The amendment is designed to secure that on the death of a married woman leaving a husband and children on the garden the family will be able to secure repatriation.—Report of the Select Committee

10 (1) An emigrant labourer may, before the expiry of three years from his entry into Assam, apply to the Controller for a declaration of his right to repatriation on any of the following grounds, namely,—

(a) that his state of health makes it imperative that he should leave Assam, or

(b) that his employer has failed to provide him with work suited to his capacity, at the normal rate of wages for that class of work, or

(c) that his employer has unjustly withheld any portion of any wages due to him, or

(d) any other sufficient cause

(2) An emigrant labourer may, before the expiry of one year from his entry into Assam, apply to the Controller for a declaration of his right to repatriation on any of the following grounds, namely,—

(a) that he was recruited by coercion, undue influence, fraud or misrepresentation, or

(b) that he was recruited otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the

(3) The Controller, after such inquiry as he may think fit and after giving the employer an opportunity to be heard, may declare that an emigrant labourer applying under clause (d) has a right of repatriation against his employer

section (1) may be made by the Controller only and not by any other officer exercising the powers of the Controller by or under this Act

Notes—‘Section 15 (1) (6)—The amendment is aimed at preventing a labourer from being compelled to work on less than the ordinary wages. Clause (d)—We consider that it is not possible to provide specifically for all the grounds which might warrant repatriation and that cases of serious hardship may arise which do not satisfy the criteria given

Select Committee

11 Where any employer of an emigrant labourer, or any agent of such employer in authority over such labourer, is convicted of any offence committed against such labourer and punishable under Chapter XVI of the Indian Penal Code* with imprisonment for one year or upwards, the convicting Court or the Appellate Court or the High Court when exercising its powers of revision may declare that such labourer has a right of repatriation against such employer

12 (1) When an emigrant labourer has a right of repatriation against any employer, the employer or his agent shall defray the cost of the return journey of the emigrant labourer and his family from the station nearest the employer's tea estate to the home of the labourer and shall provide subsistence allowances on the prescribed scale for such labourer and his family for the time requisite for him and his family to travel from such estate to his home

Provided that where the emigrant labourer is a married woman living with her husband who is also an emigrant labourer, her right of repatriation shall extend only to herself and married woman living with her husband is entitled to be treated as a member of his family notwithstanding that she is herself an emigrant labourer

(2) In the event of any dispute regarding the cost of the return journey or subsistence allowances, the question shall be referred for decision to the Controller

Notes—‘We have revised the clause to ensure to the emigrant labourer the cost of his journey to his home instead of to the station nearest to the place where he was recruited’—Report of the Select Committee

13 (1) Within fifteen days from the date on which a right of repatriation arises to an emigrant labourer, or within such shorter period as the authority declaring such right may determine, the employer concerned shall, subject to any agreement under section 14 make all necessary arrangements for the homeward journey of the labourer and his family, and shall despatch them on their journey

Provided that an employer shall not be required to make such arrangements for or any payment in respect of any adult person who does not wish to leave Assam

(2) Where an employer fails to comply with the provisions of sub-section (1), the right of repatriation of the emigrant labourer concerned shall not be affected but the employer shall be liable to pay to the labourer one rupee for each day on which he is in default

Provided that on application made to him by either party the Controller may direct that the labourer shall be paid at a lower rate than one rupee a day or at a higher rate not exceeding two rupees a day and may also determine the number of days being a reasonable number regard being had to all the circumstances of the case for which the payment shall be made

14 (1) An emigrant labourer may by agreement with his employer postpone his exercise of the right of repatriation, or may waive it conditionally or unconditionally, but no such agreement shall be valid unless it is in writing and in the prescribed form and has been made not more than one month before the right of repatriation arises

Provided that the [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]* make rules requiring that in any area such agreement shall be made in the prescribed manner before a prescribed authority and that the prescribed authority if satisfied that the labourer understands the terms of his agreement and his rights in regard to the agreement rules come into force no such agreement shall be made and ratified

(2) When an emigrant labourer having a right to repatriation fails without reasonable cause to proceed on his homeward journey at the time arranged by his employer the employer may notify the Controller of such failure and the Controller after such inquiry as he may think fit and after giving the labourer an opportunity to be heard, may declare that the labourer has forfeited his right of repatriation, and such labourer shall not be entitled to repatriation again as against any employer, save by an order of the Court under section 11

15 (1) Where the Controller, on information obtained from any source and after such inquiry as he may think fit and after giving the employer concerned an opportunity to be heard, is of opinion that an emigrant labourer is entitled to repatriation under any of the provisions of this Chapter or is entitled to the payment of any sum of money under the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 13 the Controller may direct the employer concerned to despatch such labourer and his family or to pay him the sum of money within such period as the Controller may fix.

(2) If the employer fails to comply with such direction, the Controller may repatriate the labourer and his family or pay him

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

sum of money out of any funds at the Controller's disposal, and shall recover the costs incurred from the employer

(3) For the purposes of such recovery the Controller may certify the costs to be recovered to the Collector, who shall recover the amount and may recover it as an arrear of land revenue

(4) The Controller shall have similar powers in regard to any person in Assam who he knows or has reason to believe is a member of the family of a repatriated emigrant labourer who should have been repatriated along with such labourer

Notes —Section 15 (2)—“We consider that in the interests of an Emigrant Labour Fund and of employers in general there should be an obligation on the Collector to recover cost incurred under this section from the employer who is at fault”—Report of the Select Committee

CONTROLLED EMIGRATION AREAS

16 [(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare any area within a recruiting Province to be a controlled emigration area and thereupon the provisions of this Chapter shall apply to that area

Power to declare controlled emigration area

Provided that the Central Government may, by the same or any subsequent notification, declare that any of the provisions of this Chapter shall not apply in that area, or shall apply subject to such general or special relaxations as may be specified]*

(2) A notification under sub-section (1) shall be expressed to take effect from a date not earlier than two months from the date of its publication, and during the said two months licences may be granted under section 17 and such licences shall be dated as being granted on the date on which the notification takes effect and shall not be valid until that date

17. (1) The [Central Government]*, or any District Magistrate empowered by it in this behalf, may grant a licence to any person to act as local forwarding agent in any part of a controlled emigration area, on behalf of an employer or employers of labourers

Power to grant licences to local forwarding agents

(2) Such licences shall be granted only on the application of an employing interest

(3) No such application shall be entertained unless the Controller has certified that the employing interest making the application has made proper provision, in accordance with section 20 and rules made under section 21, for the forwarding accommodation and feeding of assisted emigrants on their journey to the tea estates on which they are to be employed

(4) A local forwarding agent may be granted separate licences on applications by separate employing interests

18 (1) Whoever arranges with any person in a controlled emigration area that such person shall proceed to Assam with assistance, shall take or send such person, along with the members of his family who are to accompany him to Assam, to the depot of a local forwarding agent licensed for the area in which the arrangement was made unless the arrangement was made at such a depot

(2) Whoever arranges with any person in an Indian State that such person shall proceed to Assam with assistance and brings or sends such person and any of the members of his family into any controlled emigration area, shall take or send such person and members to the depot of a local forwarding agent licensed for that area

(3) At every such depot proper arrangements shall be made for the accommodation and feeding of assisted emigrants and their families

Notes — We have revised this clause so that it now covers not only assisted emigrants but also persons who because they have been in Assam within the two preceding years do not come within the class of assisted emigrants. For purposes of check in the interest of these persons themselves it is desirable that they should be produced at the depots of forwarding agents when on their way to Assam. It is not contemplated that they should be subject to the provisions of the Act relating to assisted emigrants in other respects. — Report of the Select Committee

19 An assisted emigrant and his family shall be forwarded to Assam from the depot of a local forwarding agent by such agent and only by such routes and in such manner as may be prescribed by rules made under section 37, and shall be accompanied on their journey by a competent person deputed by the local forwarding agent

20 Every employing interest which recruits labour in a controlled emigration area shall maintain or have the right to use depots at reasonable intervals on the prescribed routes by which it forwards assisted emigrants to Assam, for the accommodation and feeding of assisted emigrants and their families

(a) prescribing the form and particulars of licences to be granted to local forwarding agents and the annual fees not exceeding ten rupees which may be levied from persons holding such licences,

(b) prescribing returns relating to assisted emigrants and their families which shall be made by local forwarding agents and the registers and the form thereof which shall be maintained by such agents,

(c) prescribing the scales of diet which shall be provided for assisted emigrants and their families at depots

(d) prescribing the accommodation which shall be provided for assisted emigrants and their families at depots and the sanitary and medical arrangements at such depots

(e) providing for detention, for a period not exceeding 14 days at depots of local forwarding agents of women unaccompanied their husbands who propose to proceed to Assam as assisted emigrants, life and work on tea estates and the methods in which it shall be supplied,

(g) providing for any other matter which in the opinion of the [Central Government]* may be required to give effect to the provisions of this Chapter

(2) In making rules under clause (b), clause (c), clause (f) or clause (g) of sub section (1) the [Central Government]* may provide that a contravention thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees

Notes—Sub clause (b)— Our amendment indicates that the returns to be kept shall relate only to the special class of assisted emigrants dealt with by the Bill

Sub clause (c)— We have confined the scope of this sub clause to women who are unaccompanied by their husbands and are proceeding as assisted emigrants

Sub clause (f)— This sub clause has been provided as an insurance against assisted emigrants being left in ignorance of the conditions of life and work to which they are going —Report of the Select Committee

22 (1) The Civil Surgeon the District Magistrate or the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, or any Magistrate Inspection of depots vessels and vehicles or Police-officer not below the rank of Inspector, deputed by the District Magistrate or the Sub-Divisional Magistrate may enter a local forwarding agent's depot, or any depot maintained by an employing interest on a prescribed route to Assam, and inspect the accommodation feeding arrangements, and sanitary arrangements provided for assisted emigrants and their families and all registers and other documents required to be maintained or kept by or under this Act and shall record the results of such inspection in a book to be kept in such depot for the purpose

(2) The Civil Surgeon or such Magistrate or person deputed may also enter and inspect any vessel, train or vehicle on which assisted emigrants are travelling, or on which he has reason to believe that any assisted emigrant is travelling whether along a prescribed route or not

Notes— We consider that the Civil Surgeon should also have powers under this clause and we think it desirable that the results of all inspections made should be recorded —Report of the Select Committee

23 If the [Central Government]* is satisfied that an employing interest recruiting assisted emigrants in a controlled area is not making proper provision for the forwarding accommodation or feeding of such emigrants and their families on their journey to Assam [the Central Government may]* direct all District Magistrates concerned to cancel or suspend all licences under section 17 held by local forwarding agents on behalf of such employing interest

Provided that the [Central Government]* shall not [direct the cancellation of any]* licences under this section until he has given the employing interest concerned an opportunity to submit its explanation

24 (1) The [Central Government]* may cancel wholly or in part any licence granted to a local forwarding agent, and a District Magistrate may cancel wholly or in part any licence granted by him to a local forwarding agent,—

(a) if in the opinion of the [Central Government]* or of the District Magistrate, as the case may be, such agent has been guilty of misconduct or wilful default or negligence in the discharge of the duties imposed upon him by or under this Act or

(b) if the employing interest, on whose application the licence was granted, has applied to the [Central Government]* or to the District Magistrate, as the case may be, for the cancellation of the licence, or

(c) if in the opinion of the [Central Government]* or of the District Magistrate, as the case may be, the employer on whose behalf the licence was granted is guilty of misconduct, or wilful default or negligence in the discharge of duties imposed upon him by or under this Act

Provided that no licence shall be cancelled under clause (a) until the holder thereof has or under clause (c) until the holder thereof and the employer concerned have had an opportunity to show cause against the cancellation

Provided further that a cancellation under clause (c) shall, where the agent is licensed to act on behalf of more than one employer, operate only to prevent the agent from acting on behalf of the employer held guilty

(2) A local forwarding agent whose licence has been cancelled by a District Magistrate under clause (a) of sub section (1) or any employing interest on whose behalf he acts, may within three months from the date of the District Magistrate's order appeal to the [Central Government]* whose decision shall be final

25 Where any person who is required to be taken or sent to a local forwarding agent's depot in any district under section 18 leaves that district on his journey to Assam without being so taken or sent or, being an assisted emigrant proceeds to Assam otherwise than in accordance with section 19, or by any route other than a route prescribed under section 37 any person who abets him in so leaving the district or in so proceeding to Assam, shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees or with both

RESTRICTED RECRUITING AREAS

26 [(1) The Central Government may by notification in the official Gazette, declare any controlled emigration area or any part of a controlled emigration area within a recruiting Province to be a restricted recruiting area and thereupon the provisions of this Chapter shall apply to that area

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

Provided that the Central Government may, by the same or any subsequent notification, declare that any of the provisions of this Chapter shall not apply in relation to that area, or shall apply subject to such general or special relaxations as may be specified]*

(2) A notification under sub-section (1) shall be expressed to take effect from a date not earlier than two months from the date of its publication, and during the said two months licences may be granted under section 27 or certificates may be granted and endorsements made under section 28, and such licences, certificates and endorsements shall be dated as being granted or made on the date on which the notification takes effect and shall not be valid until that date

Notes — Having regard to the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Labour we consider that this Chapter should not come into force without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council — Report of the Select Committee

27. (1) Subject to rules made under sub-section (2) and sub-section (3), the District Magistrate may grant a licence to any person to act as recruiter in the whole or any part of his district

(2) The [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]* make rules, prescribing the qualifications for persons who may be granted licences under this section

(3) [The Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette],* make rules [as respects any restricted recruiting area]†—

(a) regulating the procedure of the District Magistrate in granting such licences,

(b) prescribing the form and particulars of such licences and the fees, not exceeding ten rupees, to be paid therefor

Notes — We consider that the rules to be made under sub-section (2) should be made by Governor General in Council rather than by the Local Government as it is preferable that there should be some uniformity in the matter — Report of the Select Committee

28 (1) Subject to rules made under sub-section (2), the owner or manager of a tea estate may grant a certificate to any person employed on such estate as a labourer or in a position of supervision or management empowering him to recruit labour for such estate in the whole or any part of a restricted recruiting area, and such person shall thereupon be entitled to recruit labour for such estate as a garden-sardar in the area specified

Provided that [the Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]* make rules [as respects any restricted recruiting area]† directing that certificates of garden-sardars or of specified classes of garden sardars shall not be valid in any district in any such area until they have been endorsed as valid for that district by the District Magistrate or a Magistrate authorised by the District Magistrate in this behalf

(2) The [Central Government]* may make rules [for Assam]†

* Substituted by G. I. Order of 1937

† Inserted by G. I. Order of 1937

(a) regulating the procedure of owners and managers in granting and withdrawing such certificates

(b) prescribing the form and particulars of such certificates

29 The District Magistrate may for reasons to be recorded by him cancel or suspend the licence of a recruiter on the ground of his misconduct or wilful neglect or default in the discharge of the duties imposed on him by or under this Act

Provided that no licence shall be cancelled under this section until the holder thereof has had an opportunity of showing cause against the cancellation

30 (1) The District Magistrate of any district in respect of any part of which a garden sardar holds a certificate may cancel the certificate if he is satisfied that the garden-sardar has contravened any of the provisions of this Act or of the rules made thereunder

(2) A District Magistrate cancelling a certificate under sub-section (1) shall record his reasons, and shall send intimation of his action to the District Magistrate of every other district in respect of any part of which the certificate was valid and to the person who granted the certificate

Notes — We consider that the reasons for refusing to endorse a certificate as valid or for cancelling or suspending a licence under sections 28, 29 and 30 should be recorded in writing — Report of the Select Committee

31 Whoever, not being a licensed recruiter holding a licence under section 27, or a garden-sardar holding a valid certificate under section 28 or a local forwarding agent holding a licence under section 17 in any part of a restricted recruiting area gives or offers any money or goods to any person, or defrays or offers to defray any travelling expenses of any person, as an inducement to such person to proceed to Assam as an assisted emigrant shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both

CHAPTER V SUPPLEMENTAL.

32 (1) No person shall in any way assist a child to proceed from any recruiting province to Assam to work in any capacity on a tea estate unless such child is accompanied by a parent or other adult relative on whom he is dependent and no person shall so assist a married woman who is living with her husband unless she is so proceeding with the consent of her husband

(2) Any person who knowingly contravenes the provisions of this section shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both

Notes — We have made a provision preventing a married woman from being recruited without the consent of her husband — Report of the Select Committee

33 (1) Where it appears to the Controller that any person proceeding

Power to detain and return sick persons

ing to a tea garden with assistance or any member of the family of such person, is suffering from an infectious or contagious disease, or is not in a fit state of health to proceed on his journey, the Controller may—

(a) detain such person and his family,

(b) send the sufferer for medical treatment to a hospital or dispensary or other suitable place, and

(c) cause all necessary arrangements to be made for the accommodation and feeding of the other members of the party so detained, and all arrangements for such detention and treatment shall be made by and at the cost of the employing interest on whose behalf such person was recruited

(2) Where it appears that a sufferer detained under sub section (1) is not likely to be in a fit state of health to proceed on his journey within a reasonable time, the Controller may direct that he and the other members of his party detained with him shall be returned to the home of the person proceeding with assistance by and at the cost of the employing interest on whose behalf such person was recruited

Power to return person improperly recruited

34 Where it appears to the Controller after such inquiry as he thinks fit to make that any person proceeding to a tea estate with assistance—

(a) has been recruited by coercion, undue influence fraud or misrepresentation, or

(b) has been recruited or forwarded otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the rules made thereunder, the Controller may direct that such person and his family shall if such person so desires be returned to his home by and at the cost of the employing interest on whose behalf he was recruited

35 (1) If an employing interest fails to make arrangements to Power to enforce the provisions of sections 33 and 34

the satisfaction of the Controller for the detention or treatment of any person detained under sub section (1) of section 33 the Controller may himself make such arrangements and defray the cost out of any funds at his disposal

(2) In making a direction under sub section (2) of section 33 or under section 34 the Controller may fix a period within which such person and family shall be forwarded by the employing interest concerned and shall send a copy of his direction to the employing interest concerned, and to the nearest agent, if any, of such employing interest in the province where such person then is

(3) If the employing interest fails to comply with the direction within the time fixed, the Controller may cause such person and his family to be returned to his home and defray the costs out of any funds at the Controller's disposal

(4) The Controller shall recover any costs incurred by him under this section from the employing interest concerned, and for the purposes of such recovery may certify the costs to be recovered to the Collector of any district in which a tea estate belonging to the employing interest concerned or to any member thereof, is situated, and the Collector shall recover the amount and may recover it as an arrear of land revenue

(5) Any costs so certified may, where the employing interest concerned is a group or association of employers, be recovered from any one of such employers

Notes — We have amended sections 33, 31 and 35 so as to extend them to the wider class to which they apply. The amendments are also made in the sub-clause of section 35. —Report of the Select Committee

Magistrates and medical officers who may exercise the powers of the Controller

36 (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 10, any District Magistrate in Assam may exercise in respect of his district any power which the Controller by or under this Act could exercise in such district

(2) The Controller may transfer any proceeding under Chapter II pending before him to the District Magistrate having jurisdiction under sub-section (1) to dispose of it

(3) [The Central Government may invest a District Magistrate or Sub-Divisional Magistrate in any recruiting Province and a Sub-Divisional Magistrate in Assam]* with any of the powers of the Controller under section 4 or section 33 or section 34 or section 35 in respect of his district or sub-division as the case may be

(4) The [Central Government]* may invest any medical officer not below the rank of Assistant Surgeon with any of the powers of the Controller under section 33 and section 35

Section 36 (1) — A reference has been inserted to section 10 in view of the proviso added therein to sub-section (3). In sub-section (4) we have further defined the officers who may be invested with powers under this sub-section. —Report of the Select Committee

PRIVILEGES AND POWERS OF THE GOVERNMENT

Exclusive privilege in respect of telegraphs, and power to grant licences

4 (1) Within [British India]‡ the [Central Government]§ shall have the exclusive privilege of establishing, maintaining and working telegraphs

Provided that the [Central Government]§ may grant a licence on such conditions and in consideration of such payments as he thinks fit, to any person to establish maintain or work a telegraph within any part of [British India]‡

¶[Provided further that the 'Central Government' § may, by rules made under this Act and published in the "official Gazette"¶ permit, subject to such restrictions and conditions as he thinks fit, the establishment, maintenance and working—

(a) of wireless telegraphs on ships within "Indian"‡ territorial waters, "and on aircraft within or above 'British India'‡, or 'India'‡ or 'Indian'‡ territorial waters,  and

(b) of telegraphs other than wireless telegraphs within any part of "British India" ‡

(2) The "Central Government" § may, by notification in the "official Gazette," ¶ delegate to the telegraph authority all or any of its powers under the first proviso to sub section (1)

The exercise by the telegraph authority of any power so delegated shall be subject to such restrictions and conditions as the 'Central Government' § may by the notification, think fit to impose]

Notes—In England the State has always claimed certain rights of control over telegraphs for the public service Malsbury Vol 27 p 354 Such licence should be very strictly construed National Telephone Co Ltd v Tunbridge Wells Corporation (1901) 17 T L R 459 C 1 see also South Eastern Railway v National Telephone Co Ltd (1908), 2 Ch 50

* Inserted by Act 14 of 1914

5 (1) On the occurrence of any public emergency, or in the interest of the public safety, the [Central Government or a Provincial Government]* and to order interception of messages or any officer specially authorised in this behalf by the [Central or Provincial Government]*, may—

(a) take temporary possession of any telegraph established, maintained, or worked by any person licensed under this Act, or

(b) order that any message or class of messages to or from any person, or class of persons or relating to any particular subject, brought for transmission by, or transmitted or received by, any telegraph, shall not be transmitted, or shall be intercepted or detained, or shall be disclosed to [the Government making the order]† or an officer thereof mentioned in the order

(2) If any doubt arises as to the existence of a public emergency, or whether any act done under sub-section (1) was in the interest of the public safety, a certificate [of the Central or, as the case may be, the Provincial Government] shall be conclusive proof on the point to the Government of India or to the public emergency and no further evidence

6 Any Railway Company, on being required so to do by the [Central Government]* shall permit the Government to establish and maintain a telegraph upon any part of the land of the Company, and shall give every reasonable facility for working the same

7 (1) The [Central Government]* may, from time to time, by notification in the [official Gazette]§ make rules consistent with this Act for the conduct of all or any telegraphs established, maintained or worked by the Government or by persons licensed under this Act

(2) Rules under this section may provide for all or any of the following, among other matters, that is to say —

(a) the rates at which, and the other conditions and restrictions subject to which, messages shall be transmitted,

(b) the precautions to be taken for preventing the improper interception or disclosure of messages,

(c) the period for which, and the conditions subject to which, telegrams and other documents belonging to, or being in the custody of telegraph officers shall be preserved, and

(d) the fees to be charged for searching for telegrams or other documents, in the custody of any telegraph officer

(3) When making rules for the conduct of any telegraph established maintained or worked by any person licensed under this Act, the [Central Government]* may, by the rules, prescribe fines for any breach of the same

Provided that the fines so prescribed shall not exceed the following limits, namely —

(i) When the person licensed under this Act is punishable for the breach, one thousand rupees, and in the case of a continuing breach a further fine of two hundred rupees for every day after the first during the whole or any part of which the breach continues,

(ii) when a servant of the person so licensed, or any other person, is punishable for the breach, one fourth of the amounts specified in clause (i)

8 The [Central Government]* may, at any time, revoke any licence granted under section 4, on the breach of any of the conditions therein contained, or in default of payment of any consideration payable thereunder

Revocation of licences

Notes — Licence can be revoked under two conditions viz (1) when there is a breach of any of the condition of the licence and (2) where licensee makes a default as regards payment of any consideration payable under the licence

9 The [Crown]† shall not be responsible for any loss or damage which may occur in consequence of any telegraph officer failing in his duty with respect to the receipt transmission or delivery of any message, and no such officer shall be responsible for any such loss or damage unless he causes the same negligently, maliciously or fraudulently

Government not responsible for loss or damage

POWERS TO PLACE TELEGRAPH LINES AND POSTS

10 The telegraph authority may from time to time, place and maintain a telegraph line under, over, along or across, and posts in or upon, any immoveable property

Power for telegraph authority to place and maintain telegraph lines and posts

Provided that—

(a) the telegraph authority shall not exercise the powers conferred by this section except for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government, or to be so established or maintained

(b) the Government shall not acquire any right other than that of user only in the property under over, along, across in or upon which the telegraph authority places any telegraph line or posts, and

(c) except as hereinafter provided, the telegraph authority shall not exercise those powers in respect of any property vested in or under the control or management of any local authority, without the permission of that authority, and

(d) in the exercise of the powers conferred by this section, the telegraph authority shall do as little damage as possible, and, when it has exercised those powers in respect of any property other than that referred to in clause (c), shall pay full compensation to all persons interested for any damage sustained by them by reason of the exercise of those powers

11. The telegraph authority may, at any time, for the purpose of examining, repairing, altering or removing any telegraph line or post, enter on the property under, over, along, across, in, or upon which the line or post has been placed
- Power to enter on property in order to repair or remove telegraph lines or posts.

Provisions applicable to Property vested in or under the Control or Management of Local Authorities

- 12 Any permission given by a local authority under section 10, clause (c), may be given subject to such reasonable conditions as that authority thinks fit to impose, as to the payment of any expenses to which the authority will necessarily be put in consequence of the exercise of the powers conferred by that section, or as to the time or mode of execution of any work, or as to any other thing connected with or relative to any work undertaken by the telegraph authority under those powers.
- Power to local authority to give permission under section 10 clause (c) subject to conditions

- 13 When, under the foregoing provisions of this Act, a telegraph line or post has been placed by the telegraph authority under, over, along across, in or upon any property vested in or under the control or management of a local authority, and the local authority, having regard to circumstances which have arisen since the telegraph line or post was so placed, considers it expedient that it should be removed, or that its position should be altered, the local authority may require the telegraph authority to remove it or alter its position, as the case may be
- Power for local authority to require removal or alteration of telegraph line or post

- 14 The telegraph authority may, for the purpose of exercising the power conferred upon it by this Act in respect of any property vested in or under the control or management of a local authority, alter the position thereunder on any pipe (not being a main) for the supply of gas or water, or of any drain (not being a main drain)
- Power to alter position of gas or water pipes or drains

(a) when the telegraph authority desires to alter the position of any such pipe or drain, it shall give reasonable notice of its intention to do so, specifying the time at which it will begin to do so, to the local authority, and, when the pipe or drain is not under the control of the local authority, to the person under whose control the pipe or drain is,

(b) a local authority or person receiving notice under clause (a) may send a person to superintend the work, and the telegraph authority shall execute the work to the reasonable satisfaction of the person so sent

15 (1) If any dispute arises between the telegraph authority and a local authority in consequence of the local authority refusing the permission referred to in section 10, clause (c), or prescribing any condition under section 12, or in consequence of the telegraph authority omitting to comply with a requisition made under section 13, or otherwise in respect of the exercise of the powers conferred by this Act, it shall be determined by such officer as the [Central Government]* may appoint either generally or specially in this behalf.

(2) An appeal from the determination of the officer so appointed shall lie to the [Central Government],* and the order of the [Central Government]* shall be final.

Provisions applicable to other Property

Exercise of powers conferred by section 10 and disputes as to compensation, in case of property other than that of a local authority

16 (1) If the exercise of the powers mentioned in section 10 in respect of property referred to in clause (d) of that section is resisted or obstructed, the District Magistrate may, in his discretion, order that the telegraph authority shall be permitted to exercise them.

(2) If, after the making of an order under sub-section (1), any person resists the exercise of those powers, or, having control over the property, does not give all facilities for their being exercised, he shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 188 of the Indian Penal Code.

(3) If any dispute arises concerning the sufficiency of the compensation to be paid under section 10 clause (d), it shall, on application for that purpose by either of the disputing parties to the District Judge within whose jurisdiction the property is situate, be determined by him.

(4) If any dispute arises as to the persons entitled to receive compensation or as to the proportions in which the persons interested are entitled to share in it the telegraph authority may pay into the Court of the District Judge such amount as he deems sufficient, or, where all the disputing parties have in writing admitted the amount tendered to be sufficient or the amount has been determined under sub-section (3), that amount, and the District Judge, after giving notice to the parties and hearing such of them as desire to be heard, shall determine the persons entitled to receive the compensation, or, as the case may be, the proportions in which the persons interested are entitled to share in it.

(5) Every determination of a dispute by a District Judge under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) shall be final.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall affect the right of any person to recover by suit the whole or any part of any compensation paid by the telegraph authority from the person who has received the same.

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. Order 1937. In Burma for these.

17 (1) When, under the foregoing provisions of this Act a telegraph line or post has been placed by the telegraph authority under, over, along across, in or upon any property, not being property vested in or under the control or management of a local authority, and any person entitled to do so desires to deal with that property in such a manner as to render it necessary or convenient that the telegraph line or post should be removed to another part thereof or to a higher or lower level or altered in form he may require the telegraph authority to remove or alter the line or post accordingly

Removal or alteration of telegraph line or post on property other than that of a local authority

Provided that if compensation has been paid under section 10 clause (d), he shall, when making the requisition, tender to the telegraph authority the amount requisite to defray the expense of the removal or alteration, or half of the amount paid as compensation, whichever may be the smaller sum

(2) If the telegraph authority omits to comply with the requisition, the person making it may apply to the District Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the property is situate to order the removal or alteration

(3) A District Magistrate receiving an application under sub section (2) may, in his discretion reject the same or make an order absolutely or subject to conditions for the removal of the telegraph line or post to any other part of the property or to a higher or lower level or for the alteration of its form and the order so made shall be final

Provisions applicable to all Property

18 (1) If any tree standing or lying near a telegraph line interrupts, or is likely to interrupt, telegraphic communication, a Magistrate of the first or second class may, on the application of the telegraph authority, cause the tree to be removed or dealt with in such other way as he deems fit

(2) When disposing of an application under sub section (1) the Magistrate shall, in the case of any tree in existence before the telegraph line was placed award to the persons interested in the tree such compensation as he thinks reasonable and the award shall be final

Notes—Vide the English Telegraph (Construction) Act 1908 s 8 Edw VII c 33 s 5 (1), (3)

19 Every telegraph line or post placed before the passing of this Act under, over, along across, in or upon any property, for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the [Central Government],* shall be deemed to have been placed in exercise of the powers conferred by, and after observance of all the requirements of, this Act

19A† (1) Any person desiring to deal in the legal exercise of a right with any property in such a manner as is likely to cause damage to a telegraph line or post which has been duly placed in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or to interrupt or interfere

Persons exercising legal rights likely to damage telegraph or interfere with telegraphic communication to give notice

* In British India the words within brackets have been substituted by G. I. Order of 1937. In Burma for the words read the word Government the G. I. Order of 1937

(a) senior officers, holding commissions‡ with British designation of rank, and

(b) junior officers, holding commissions‡ with [Indian designation]§ of rank

(2) An officer shall be deemed to be enrolled in the [Indian Territorial Force]† so long as he holds a commission in that Force

Notes —The junior officers mentioned in this clause will correspond to the present ranks of Indian officers in the regular Indian Army, namely, Subadars, Jamadars, etc. The senior officers will correspond to the British officers of the Indian Army, namely, Lieutenants, Captains, etc. —Statement of Objects and Reasons

5 (1) Any British subject or any subject of a State in [India]§ may offer himself for enrolment in the [Indian Territorial Force],† and any such person who satisfies the prescribed conditions may be enrolled in the prescribed manner for such period, not exceeding six years, as may be prescribed.

"Provided that no European British subject shall be enrolled in any corps or unit of the [Indian Territorial Force]† other than a University Corps"

(2) An applicant for enrolment may apply to be enrolled for service in any particular branch, corps or unit constituted for the [Province "or town or group of towns,"*]|| within which he for the time being resides

†(3) The [Central Government] may by notification in the [official Gazette]†† declare in respect of any State in India the Province in which persons residing in that State may be enrolled, and persons so residing shall thereupon be deemed for all purposes of this Act to reside in that Province"

Notes —"The amendment which permits any member of a University College, who is a British subject, to be enrolled in the University Training Corps follows the specific recommendation of the committee to that effect —Statement of Objects and Reasons Under the new proviso to section 5, some European British subjects shall become eligible for enrolment in the University Corps, and we have, therefore, inserted a new clause (2) in the Bill amending the long title and preamble to this Act so as to bring them into accord with this change. THE INDIAN TREASURE-TROVE ACT, 1878.

(ACT NO VI OF 1878)

(Received the Governor-General's assent on the 13th February, 1878)

An Act to amend the Law relating to Treasure-trove

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to Preamble Treasure-trove, It is hereby enacted as follows —

Preliminary

Short title [1 This Act may be called the Indian Treasure-trove Act 1878

Extent It extends to the whole of British India *]†

3 In this Act—

Interpretation clause

'Treasure' treasure means anything of any value hidden in the soil or in anything affixed thereto

'Collector' means (1) any revenue-officer in independent charge Collector of a district and (2) any officer appointed by the [Provincial Government] ‡ to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act §

When any person is entitled, under any reservation in an instru-Owner ment of transfer of any land or thing affixed thereto to treasure in such land or thing, he shall for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the owner of such land or thing

* Certain words after this having been repealed by Act 10 of 1914 have been omitted

† In Burma for section (1) read (1) This Act may be called the Treasure-trove Act

‡ In Burma for section (2) read (2) This Act may be called the Treasure-trove

§ In Burma for section (3) read (3) This Act may be called the Treasure-trove under t

Procedure on finding Treasure

4 Whenever any treasure exceeding in amount or value ten rupees is found the finder shall, as soon as practicable give to the Collector notice in writing—

(a) of the nature and amount or approximate value of such treasure

(b) of the place in which it was found

(c) of the date of the finding, and either deposit the treasure in the nearest Government Treasury, or give the Collector such security as the Collector thinks fit to produce the treasure at such time and place as he may from time to time require

Finders—Where coolies while engaged by the employers discovered in the presence of their employers and several others a box which when opened before them revealed treasure of value and the box was removed by one of the employers who secretly disposed of them and the coolies were prosecuted under s 20 Held that the coolies were finders within the meaning of this section 27 M L J 477

Notification requiring claimants to appear

5 On receiving a notice under section 4, the Collector shall after making such inquiry (if any) as he thinks fit, take the following steps (namely) —

(a) he shall publish a notification in such manner as the [Provincial Government]* from time to time prescribes in this behalf, to the effect that on a certain date (mentioning it) certain treasure (mentioning its nature amount and approximate value) was found in a certain place (mentioning it), and requiring all persons claiming the treasure or any part thereof, to appear personally or by agent before the Collector on a day and at a place therein mentioned, such day not being earlier than four months, or later than six months after the date of the publication of such notification,

(b) when the place in which the treasure appears to the Collector to have been found was at the date of the finding in the possession of some person other than the finder, the Collector shall also serve on such person a special notice in writing to the same effect

6 Any person having any right to such treasure or any part thereof as owner of the place in which it was found or otherwise, and not appearing as required by the notification issued under section 5, shall forfeit such right

Matters to be enquired into and determined by the Collector

7 On the day notified under section 5 the Collector shall cause the treasure to be produced before him, and shall enquire as to and determine,—

(a) the person by whom the place in which, and the circumstances under which such treasure was found, and

(b) as far as is possible, the person by whom, and the circumstances under which, such treasure was hidden

* In Tel. 1 In 1 v the word is with in brackets 1 v 1 on a substitute 1 v C 1 Order of 1937 In Burma for these words read the word Govern r 1 v 1 v C 1 Order of 1937

8 If, upon an inquiry made under section 7, the Collector sees reason to believe that the treasure was hidden within one hundred years before the date of the finding by a person appearing as required by the said notification and claiming such treasure, or by some other person under whom such person claims, the Collector shall make an order adjourning the hearing of the case for such period as he deems sufficient, to allow of a suit being instituted in the Civil Court by the claimant to establish his right

When treasure may be declared ownerless

9 If, upon such inquiry the Collector sees no reason to believe that the treasure was so hidden, or if, where a period is fixed under section 8, no suit is instituted as aforesaid within such period to the knowledge of the Collector, or if such suit is instituted within such period and the plaintiff's claim is finally rejected, the Collector may declare the treasure to be ownerless

Appeal against such declaration

Any person aggrieved by a declaration made under this section may appeal against the same within two months from the date thereof to the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority

Subject to such appeal, every such declaration shall be final and conclusive

10 When a declaration has been made in respect of any treasure under section 9, such treasure shall, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, either be delivered to the finder thereof, or be divided between him and the owner the place in which it has been found in manner hereinafter provided

11 When a declaration has been made in respect of any treasure as aforesaid and no person other than the finder of such treasure has appeared as required by the notification published under section 5 and claimed a share of the treasure as owner of the place in which it has been found, the Collector shall deliver such treasure to the finder thereof

12 When a declaration has been made as aforesaid in respect of any treasure, and only one person other than the finder of such treasure has so appeared and claimed, and the claim of such person is not disputed by the finder, the Collector shall proceed to divide the treasure between the finder and the person so claiming according to the following rule (namely) —

If the finder and the person so claiming have not entered into any agreement then in force as to the disposal of the treasure, three-fourths of the treasure shall be allotted to such finder and the residue to such person. If such finder and such person have entered into any such agreement, the treasure shall be disposed of in accordance therewith

Provided that the Collector may, in any case, if he thinks fit, instead of dividing any treasure as directed by this section,—

(a) allot to either party the whole or more than his share of such treasure, on such party paying to the Collector for the other party such sum of money as the Collector may fix as the equivalent of the share of such other party, or of the excess so allotted, as the case may be, or

(b) sell such treasure or any portion thereof by public auction and divide the sale-proceeds between the parties according to the rule hereinbefore prescribed

Provided also that, when the Collector has by his declaration under section 9 rejected any claim made under this Act by any person other than the said finder or person claiming as owner of the place in which the treasure was found, such division shall not be made until after the expiration of two months without an appeal having been presented under section 9 by the person whose claim has been so rejected, or, when an appeal has been so presented, after such appeal has been dismissed

When the Collector has made a division under this section, he shall deliver to the parties the portions of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which they are respectively entitled under such division

13 When a declaration has been made as aforesaid in respect of any treasure, and two or more persons have appeared as aforesaid and each of them claimed as owner of the place where such treasure was found, or the right of any person who has so appeared and claimed is disputed by the finder of such treasure, the Collector shall retain such treasure and shall make an order staying his proceedings with a view to the matter being enquired into and determined by a Civil Court

14 Any person who has so appeared and claimed may, within one month from the date of such order, institute a suit in the Civil Court to obtain a decree declaring his right, and in every such suit the finder of the treasure and all persons disputing such claim before the Collector shall be made defendants

15 If any such suit is instituted and the plaintiff's claim is finally established therein, the Collector shall subject to the provisions of section 12, divide the treasure between him and the finder.

If no such suit is instituted as aforesaid, or if the claims of the plaintiffs in all such suits are finally rejected, the Collector shall deliver the treasure to the finder.

16 The Collector may, at any time after making a declaration under section 9, and before delivering or dividing the treasure as hereinbefore provided, declare by writing under his hand his intention to acquire on behalf of the Government the treasure, or any specified portion thereof, by payment to the persons entitled thereto of a sum equal to the value of the materials of such treasure or portion together with one-fifth of such value, and may place such sum in deposit in his treasury to the credit of such persons; and thereupon such treasure or portion shall be deemed to be the property of Government, and the money so deposited shall be dealt with, as far as may be, as if it were such treasure or portion

17. No decision passed or act done by the Collector under this Act shall be called in question by any Civil Court, and no suit or other proceeding shall lie against him for anything done in good faith in exercise of the powers hereby conferred

Decision of Collector final, and no suit to lie against him for acts done bona fide

18 A Collector making any inquiry under this Act may exercise any power conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure* on a Civil Court for the trial of suits

Collector to exercise powers of Civil Court

19 The [Provincial Government]† may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Act to regulate proceedings hereunder

Power to make rules

Such rules shall, on being published in the [official Gazette],‡ have the force of law

Penalties

20 If the finder of any treasure fails to give the notice, or does not either make the deposit or give the security, required by section 4 or alters or attempts to alter such treasure so as to conceal its identity, the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled shall vest in Her Majesty,

Penalty on finder failing to give notice, etc and he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both

Notes—A third class magistrate has no jurisdiction to try an offence under this section 2 Weir 23 15 A L J 796

21 If the owner of the place in which any treasure is found abets, within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code,§ any offence under section 20, the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled, shall vest in Her Majesty, Penalty on owner abetting offence under section 20.

and he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both

[1 This Act may be called the Indian Weights and Measures of Capacity Act, 1871 and extends to the whole of British India]†

Short title
Local extent

II—Standards

2 The primary standard of weight shall be called a seer, and shall be a weight of metal in the possession of the [Central Government]‡ equal, when weighed in a vacuum to the weight known in France as the Kilogramme de Archives

Standard of weight

* In Burma the words within brackets have been omitted by G B Order of 1937

† In Burma for section 1 read the following section 1 —

1 This Act may be called the Weights and Measures of Capacity Act ‡ Substituted by the C P Order of 1937

Units of weights and measures of capacity 3 The units of weight and of measures of capacity, shall be—

for measures of capacity, a measure containing one such seer of water at its maximum density, weighed in a vacuum

4 The [appropriate Government]* may, from time to time, by notification in the [official Gazette]† declare the magnitude and denominations of the weights and measures of capacity other than the said units to be authorised under this Act

Provided that every such weight or measure of capacity shall be an integral multiple or integral sub multiple of one of the units aforesaid

The [appropriate Government]* may, in like manner revoke such notification

Unless it be otherwise ordered in any such notification, the subdivisions of all such weights and measures of capacity shall be expressed in decimal parts

5 The [appropriate Government]* may, from time to time, by notification in the [official Gazette],† define the limits of districts for the purposes of this Act

The [appropriate Government]* may from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, define the limits of sub districts for the purposes of this Act

6 The [appropriate Government]* may provide, for such districts as it thinks fit, proper primary standards and sets of the said authorised weights and measures of capacity

Such standards shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed the standards for such districts

7 The [appropriate Government]* may provide, for such sub-districts as it thinks fit, copies of such of the said authorised weights and measures of capacity as shall be necessary to serve as local standards in such sub-districts

Such local standards shall be deemed correct, until they are proved to be otherwise

III—Use of new Weights and Measures of Capacity

8 Whenever the [appropriate Government]* considers that proper standard weights and measures of capacity have been made available for the verification of the weights and measures of capacity to be used by any Government

office or municipal body or railway company, the [appropriate Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette],† direct that, after a date to be fixed therein, all or any of the weights and measures of capacity authorised as aforesaid shall be used in dealings and contracts by such office, body or company, and may, in like manner, from time to time, alter or revoke such direction

9 After the date fixed in any notification under section eight, all dealings and contracts had and made by the officers, bodies or companies, mentioned in such notification, for any work to be done or goods to be sold or delivered by weight or measure of capacity, shall, in the absence of a special agreement to the contrary, be deemed to be had and made according to the weights or measures of capacity directed in such notification to be used by such offices, bodies or companies

IV—Wardens

10 The [appropriate Government],* shall appoint Wardens for the custody of the primary and local standards and sets of authorised weights and measures of capacity hereinbefore mentioned

The [appropriate Government]* may, at any time, suspend or remove any such Warden and appoint another

11 The [appropriate Government]* may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Act for regulating the following matters:—

- (a) The appointment of Wardens,
- (b) The guidance of Wardens in all matters connected with the performance of their duties,
- (c) The provision, replacement, custody and use of the standards,
- (d) The method of verifying local standards and weights, weighing machines and measures of capacity authorised under this Act, and balances, and of certifying such verification provided that such verification shall not be required to be made oftener than once in two years,
- (e) The errors which may be tolerated in weights, weighing machines, and measures of capacity authorised under this Act, and in balances,
- (f) The shapes, proportions and dimensions to be given to weights, weighing machines and measures of capacity authorised under this Act, and to balances, and the materials of which they may be made,
- (g) Marking weights and measures of capacity authorised under this Act with their several denominations,
- (h) The conditions under which Government offices, municipal bodies and railway companies shall be subject to inspection and verification of the weights, weighing machines and measures of capacity authorised under this Act, and of the balances used by them,
- (i) The fees to be paid for verifying, correcting and certifying the verification of weights, weighing machines and measures of capacity authorised under this Act, and of balances

Publication of rules 12 Such rules shall be published in the [official Gazette] *

And the [appropriate Government]† may, by notification in the [official Gazette] * declare that, from and after a day to be named therein, all or any of the said rules shall come into force in respect of any Government office, municipal body or railway company and thereupon, to the extent specified in such notification, such rules or rule shall have the force of law

13 All officers of Government, municipal officers and officers and servants of railway companies shall comply with such rules so far as they concern them and pay such fees as the said rules shall prescribe

14 The Warden may deface, or render incapable of use, or refuse to verify, correct or mark, anything brought to him for verification or correction which appears to him unfit for verification or correction

15 Any of the powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act on a Warden may be exercised and performed by any other officer whom the [appropriate Government]† may, from time to time, appoint

16 Whoever knowingly counterfeits any mark used by a Warden under section eleven, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine

17 The [appropriate Government]† may, from time to time, prepare tables of the equivalents of weights and measures of capacity, other than those authorised under this Act, in terms of the weights and measures of capacity so authorised, and the equivalents so stated after notification in the [official Gazette] * shall be deemed the true equivalents

THE WHIPPING ACT, 1909

PASSED BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL

(Received the Governor-General's assent on the 22nd March, 1909)

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the punishment of whipping

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the punishment of whipping It is hereby enacted as follows —

Short title and extent 1 (1) This Act may be called the Whipping Act, 1909 and

*[(2) It extends to the whole of British India, inclusive of British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas]

Scope and construction of the Act — The special laws contemplated in ss 40 and 41

Whipping Act is a highly penal enactment it must be construed in the sense most favourable to the subject Ibid

Application of the Act — This Act applies to offences under the Penal Code only U B R (1897 1901) Vol 1 392 The Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure must be read as if the Whipping Act formed a part of the Penal Code from the date of the enactment of Act VI of 1861 (the Whipping Act 1861) and s 46 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (1861) is applicable to all offences and punishments as prescribed by the Penal Code in its present and amended form 15 W R Cr 80-7 B L R (F B) 165

Whipping added to punishments described in Act XLV, 1860

2 In addition to the punishments described in section 53 of the Indian Penal Code,† offenders are also liable to the punishment of whipping

Offences punishable with whipping in lieu of other punishment

3 Whoever commits any of the following offences, namely —

(a) theft as defined in section 378 of the Indian Penal Code† other than theft by a clerk or servant of property in possession of his master

* In Burma sub section (2) has been omitted by C B Order of 1937 † Act XLV of 1860

(b) theft in a building, tent or vessel as defined in section 380 of the said Code,

(c) theft after preparation for causing death or hurt as defined in section 382 of the said Code*,

(d) lurking house-trespass or house breaking as defined in sections 443 and 445 of the said Code, in order to the committing of any offence punishable with whipping under this section

(e) lurking house trespass by night or house breaking by night, as defined in sections 444 and 446 of the said Code, in order to the committing of any offence punishable with whipping under this section may be punished with whipping in lieu of any punishment to which he may for such offence be liable under the said Code

Scope—This section refers to the commission of the offences not to attempt to commit offences U B R (1892 93) Vol I 332 L B R (1872 92) 393 7 L B R 63 12 C P L R 1 Cr In the case of adults on a first conviction or in the case of juvenile offenders whether for a first or any other offence whipping can be only in lieu of any other punishment W R 1864 Cr 88 3 B H C Cr 38 A sentence of fine or imprisonment in addition to whipping under this section is illegal U B R (1897 1901) Vol I 891 Rat Un Cr C 561 16 B 357 In lieu of punishing an offender with imprisonment and fine a Court can punish him with whipping alone But it cannot add thereto a sentence of fine also 25 Cr L J 1185=82 Ind Cas 491-20 L W 881=1925 Mad 183

The word punishment as used in this section means the total of punishments awardable for the offence otherwise it would be possible to substitute a whipping for the fine and to inflict imprisonment in addition 11 C P L R 13 Cr In this section which contains no mention of s 53 of I P Code the word punishment is used in a different sense from the word punishments in the preceding section and may be interpreted to mean the total punishment awardable i.e., in a case under s 379 I P C imprisonment and whipping So, if the sentence of whipping is inflicted under this section no other punishment as prescribed by the Penal Code either imprisonment or fine or both can be legally inflicted 16 B 357

Under the section a sentence of whipping may be passed in lieu of any punishment stripes cannot be added to a sentence of imprisonment and fine 1 Luck C 688

Offences punishable with whipping in lieu of or in addition to other punishment

4 Whoever—

(a) abets, commits or attempts to commit rape as defined in section 375 of the Indian Penal Code, *

(b) compels or induces any person by fear of bodily injury, to submit to an unnatural offence as defined in section 377 of the said Code,

(c) voluntarily causes hurt in committing or attempting to commit robbery as defined in section 390 of the said Code

(d) commits dacoity as defined in section 391 of the said Code, may be punished with whipping in lieu of or in addition to any other punishment to which he may for such offence, abetment or attempt be liable under the said Code

Notes—This Act is not a special law 22 Ind Cas 117

Under this section of the Whipping Act a sentence of whipping may be imposed where in the commission of a robbery hurt is caused. It should be inflicted in cases of offence well as

Clause (6) — Ide A I R 1932 Sind 143

5 any juvenile offender who abets, commits or attempts to commit—
Juvenile offenders when punishable with whipping

(a) any offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code * except offences specified in Chapter VI and in sections 153A and 505 of that Code and offences punishable with death, or

(b) any offence punishable under any other law with imprisonment which the [Provincial Government]† may, by notification in the [official Gazette]‡ specify in this behalf, may be punished with whipping in lieu of any other punishment to which he may for such offence, abetment or attempt, be liable

Explanation — In this section the expression 'juvenile offender' means an offender whom the Court after making such inquiry (if any) as may be deemed necessary, shall find to be under sixteen years of age, the finding of the Court in all cases being final and conclusive

Scope — Section 5 does not supersede s 4 but is applicable alternately with ss 3 and 4. 13 P L T 573 A I R 1932 Pat 331 In this section whipping is in lieu of punishment A I R 1934 All 976

Exp'nation — A juvenile offender is accused is final under the explanation out no other punishment can be awarded L J 539 The word Court includes an Appellate Court 27 A L J 221

THE INDIAN WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY ACT, 1933. (ACT NO XVII OF 1933)

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 11th September, 1933)

An Act to regulate the possession of wireless telegraphy apparatus

[WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the possession of wireless telegraphy apparatus in British India, It is hereby enacted as follows —]*

Notes—An important source of revenue to the Indian State Broadcasting Service is the fees on licences for wireless apparatus. These licences are issued under the Indian Telegraph Act which however only gives power to control establishment maintenance and working of such apparatus in British India. The detection of unlicensed apparatus and the successful prosecution of the offenders is therefore difficult in practice as it is first necessary to locate unlicensed apparatus and then to prove that it has actually been established maintained and worked. It is believed that the revenue lost at present owing

(1) "wireless communication" means the making, transmitting or receiving of telegraphic, telephonic or other communications by means of electricity or magnetism without the use of wires or other continuous electrical conductors between the transmitting and the receiving apparatus,

(2) "wireless telegraphy apparatus" means any apparatus appliance, instrument or material used or capable of use in wireless communication, and includes any article determined by rule made under section 10 to be wireless telegraphy apparatus, but does not include any such apparatus, appliance instrument or material commonly used for other electrical purposes, unless it has been specially designed or adapted for wireless communication or forms part of some apparatus, appliance, instrument or material specially so designed or adapted nor any article determined by rule made under section 10 not to be wireless telegraphy apparatus, and

(3) 'prescribed' means prescribed by rules made under section 10

Notes—The definition of 'wireless telegraphy apparatus' provides for the inclusion in that term of articles specifically declared by rule to be wireless telegraphy apparatus—Notes on Clauses

Prohibition of possession of wireless telegraphy apparatus without licence

3. Save as provided by section 4 no person shall possess wireless telegraphy apparatus except under and in accordance with a licence issued under this Act

Notes—Clause 3 prohibits the possessions without licence of wireless telegraphy apparatus or its use—Notes on Clauses

4 The [Central Government]‡ may by rules made under this Act exempt any person or any class of persons from the provisions of this Act either generally or subject to prescribed conditions, or in respect of specified wireless telegraphy apparatus

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 20th March, 1903)

AN Act to provide for imposing restrictions upon the use and enjoyment of land in the vicinity of works of defence in order that such land may be kept free from buildings and other obstructions and for determining the amount of compensation to be made on account of such imposition

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for imposing restrictions upon the use and enjoyment of land in the vicinity of works of defence in order that such land may be kept free from buildings and obstructions, and for determining the amount of compensation to be made on account of such impositions; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PRELIMINARY.

(i) the following persons shall be deemed "entitled to act" as and to the extent hereinafter provided, that is to say — trustees for other persons beneficially interested shall be deemed the persons entitled to act with reference to any case, and that to the same extent as the persons beneficially interested could have acted if free from disability a married woman in cases to which the English law is applicable, shall be deemed the person so entitled to act and, whether of full age or not, to the same extent as if she were unmarried and of full age and the guardians of minors and the committees or managers of lunatics or idiots shall be deemed respectively the persons so entitled to act, to the same extent as the minors, lunatics or idiots themselves, if free from disability, could have acted

Provided—

(i) no person shall be deemed "entitled to act" whose interest in the subject-matter is shown to the satisfaction of the Collector or Court to be adverse to the interest of the person interested for whom he would otherwise be entitled to act,

(ii) in every case the person interested may appear by a next friend or in default of his appearance by a next friend, the Collector or Court, as the case may be shall appoint a guardian for the case to act on his behalf in the conduct thereof

(iii) the provisions of Chapter XXXI, of the Code of Civil Procedure* shall mutatis mutandis apply in the case of persons interested appearing before a Collector or Court by a next friend or by a guardian for the case in proceedings under this Act and

(iv) no person "entitled to act" shall be competent to receive the compensation money payable to the person for whom he is entitled to act, unless he would have been competent to alienate the land upon the use and enjoyment of which restrictions are to be imposed and received and give a good discharge for the purchase money on a voluntary sale

IMPOSITION OF RESTRICTIONS

3 (1) Whenever it appears to the [Central Government]† that it is necessary to impose restrictions upon the use and enjoyment of land in the vicinity of any work of defence or of any site intended to be used or to be acquired for any such work, in order that such land may be kept free from buildings and other obstructions a declaration shall be made to that effect [under the

(2) The powers conferred by sub-section (1) shall not be exercised,—

(a) save as otherwise provided by sub-section (3), before the making of the award hereinafter referred to in section 12, nor

(b) save as otherwise provided by sub-section (4), after the expiration of six months from the making of the said award, or any shorter period on the expiration of which the officer exercising such powers gives notice to the Collector that there will be no further exercise of them

(3) In case of emergency, the [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette],† declare that all or any powers conferred by sub-section (1) may be exercised at any time within six months after the publication of the notice referred to in section 3, sub-section (2), and such powers may be exercised accordingly, and the said notification shall be conclusive proof of emergency

(4) Nothing in sub-section (2) shall be deemed to preclude any such officer or his servants or workmen from exercising at any time the said powers for the purpose of removing wholly or in part, any building or other obstruction maintained, created added to, altered, planted, stacked stored or otherwise accumulated in contravention of this Act or of any rule or order made thereunder, or of any condition prescribed in accordance therewith

7 From and after the publication of the notice mentioned in section 3, sub-section (2), such of the following restrictions as the [Central Government]* may in its discretion declare therein shall attach with reference to such land, namely —

(a) Within an outer boundary which, except so far as is otherwise provided in section 39, sub-section (4), may extend to a distance of two thousand yards from the crest of the outer parapet of the work,—

(1) no variation shall be made in the ground-level, and no building wall, bank or other construction above the ground shall be maintained, erected, added to, or altered otherwise than with the written approval of the "General Officer Commanding the District,"‡ and on such conditions as he may prescribe.

(ii) no wood, earth, stone, brick, gravel sand or other material shall be stacked stored or otherwise accumulated

8 As soon as may be, after the publication of the declaration aforesaid, the Collector shall cause the land to be marked out and measured, and shall also prepare a register and a detailed plan, which shall be on a scale not smaller than six inches to the mile, showing accurately every building, tree and other obstruction

9 (1) At any time before the expiration of—

(a) the period of eighteen months from the publication of the declaration referred to in section 3, or

(b) such other period not exceeding three years from the said publication as the [Central Government]* may, by notification in the [official Gazette]† direct in this behalf, the Collector shall cause public notice to be given at convenient places on or near the land, stating the effect of the said declaration and that claims to compensation for all interests in such land affected by anything done or ordered in pursuance of such declaration may be made to him

Provided that, where anything has been done in exercise of the powers conferred, in case of emergency, by section 6, sub-section (3), the notice prescribed by this section shall be given as soon as may be thereafter

(2) Such notice shall state the particulars of any damage ordered to be done or, in the case referred to in section 6, sub-section (3), done in exercise of any of the powers conferred by the said section, and the particulars of any restrictions attaching to the land under section 7, and shall require all persons interested in the land to appear personally or by agent before the Collector at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of publication of the notice), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for damage to such interests and their objections (if any) to the measurements made under section 8. The Collector may in any case require such statement to be made in writing and signed by the party or his agent

(3) The Collector shall also serve notice to the same effect on the occupier (if any) of such land and on all such persons known or believed to be interested therein, or to be entitled to act for persons so interested, as reside or have agents authorised to receive service on their behalf, within the revenue district in which the land is situate

(4) In case any person so interested resides elsewhere and has no such agent, the notice shall be sent to him by post in a letter addressed to him at his last known residence, address or place of business

Matters to be considered and neglected

16 In determining the amount of compensation, the Collector shall be guided by the provisions contained in sections 23 and 24

17 Whenever the officer exercising the powers conferred by section 6, considers it necessary that anything in respect of which any person is or may be entitled to compensation, but of which no notice has been given or compensation awarded, under sections 9 and 12 respectively, should be done in pursuance of the said powers, the Collector shall cause supplementary notice to be given as nearly as may be, in the manner prescribed by section 9 and subject to the limit of time imposed by sub-section (1) of that section, and the provisions of sections 10 to 16 shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to any further inquiry and award which may be held or made in consequence of such supplementary notice

REFERENCE TO COURT AND PROCEDURE THEREON

18 (1) Any person interested who has not accepted the award may, by written application to the Collector, require that the matter be referred by the Collector for the determination of the Court whether his objection be to the measurement of the land, the amount of the compensation, the persons to whom it is payable, or the apportionment of the compensation among the persons interested

Reference to Court

Provided that every such application shall be made,—

(a) if the person making it was present or represented before the Collector at the time when he made his award, within six weeks from the date of the Collector's award,

(b) in other cases, within six weeks of the receipt of the notice from the Collector under section 13 sub-section (2), or within six months from the date of the Collector's award whichever period shall first expire

(2) The application shall state the grounds on which objection to the award is taken

19 (1) In making the reference the Collector shall state, for the information of the Court, in writing under his hand —

Collector's statement to the Court

(a) the situation and extent of the land with particulars of any damage caused under section 6 or of restrictions imposed under section 7,

(b) the names of the persons whom he has reason to interested in such land ,

* Act XIV of 1882, now Act V of 1903

(c) the amount of compensation awarded under section 12, and,

(d) if the objection be to the amount of the compensation the grounds on which the amount of compensation was determined

(2) To the said statement shall be attached a schedule giving the particulars of the notices served upon, and of the statements in writing made or delivered by the parties interested respectively

20 The Court shall thereupon cause a notice specifying the day on which the Court will proceed to determine the objection, and directing their appearance before the Court on that day, to be served on the following persons, namely —

(a) the applicant,

(b) all persons interested in the objection except such (if any) of them as have consented without protest to receive payment of the compensation awarded, and,

(c) if the objection is in regard to the area of the land, the nature of the obstructions or the amount of the compensation, the Collector

21 The scope of the inquiry in every such proceeding shall be restricted to a consideration of the interests of the persons affected by the objection

22 Every such proceeding shall take place in open Court, and all persons entitled to practise in any Civil Court [in the Province]* shall be entitled to appear, plead and act, as the case may be, in such proceeding

23 (1) In determining the amount of compensation to be awarded for damage caused, or to be caused or for restrictions imposed under this Act, the Court shall take into consideration—

(a) the actual decrease in market-value of the land owing to the publication of the declaration relating thereto under section 3 and any damage caused or to be caused under section 6,

(b) the damage sustained by the person interested, by reason of the removal of any standing crops in the exercise of any power conferred by section 6,

(c) the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested, by reason of ceasing to be able to use such land conjointly with his other land,

(d) the damage (if any) sustained by the person interested by anything done or ordered under sections 6 and 7 injuriously affecting his other property, moveable or immoveable in any other manner, or his earnings, and

(e) if, in consequence of the imposition of restrictions, the person interested is compelled to change his residence or place of business, the reasonable expenses (if any) incidental to such change

(2) In addition to the amount representing the actual decrease in the market-value of the land as above provided, the Court shall in every case award a further sum of fifteen per centum on such amount

* In Burma for the words within brackets read British Burma, vide G B Order of 1907

24 In determining the amount of compension to be awarded for damage caused, or to be caused or for restrictions imposed under this Act, the Court shall not take into consideration—

Matters not to be considered in determining compensation

(a) the degree of urgency which has led to the damage or the imposition of restrictions

(b) any disinclination of the person interested to submit to damage or restrictions

(c) any damage sustained by him, which, if caused by a private person, would not render such person liable to a suit

(d) any increase to the value of the other land of the person interested, accruing or likely to accrue from anything done under this Act or

(e) any outlay or improvements on, or disposal of the land commenced, made or effected without the sanction of the Collector after the date of the publication of the declaration under section 3

25 (1) When the applicant has made a claim to compensation, pursuant to any notice given under section 9, the amount awarded to him by the Court shall not exceed the amount so claimed or be less than the amount awarded by the Collector under section 12

(2) When the applicant has refused to make such claim or has omitted without sufficient reason (to be allowed by the Judge) to make such claim, the amount awarded by the Court shall in no case exceed the amount awarded by the Collector

(3) When the applicant has omitted for a sufficient reason (to be allowed by the Judge) to make such claim the amount awarded to him by the Court shall not be less than and may exceed, the amount awarded by the Collector

26 Every award under this Part shall be in writing signed by the Judge and shall specify the amount awarded under section 23, sub-section (1), clause (a) and also the amounts (if any) respectively awarded under each of the other clauses of the same sub section, together with the grounds of awarding each of the said amounts

Form of awards

27 (1) Every such award shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the proceedings under this Part, and by what persons and in what proportion they are to be paid

Costs

(2) When the award of the Collector is not upheld the costs shall ordinarily be paid by the Collector, unless the Court is of opinion that the claim of the applicant was so extravagant or that he was so negligent in putting his case before the Collector that some deduction from his costs should be made, or that he should pay a of the Collector's costs

28 If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court, the Collector ought to have awarded as is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation the Court may be directed to direct that the Collector shall pay

Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation on such excess at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of his award to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

APPORTIONMENT OF COMPENSATION.

29 Where there are several persons interested, if such persons agree in the apportionment of the compensation, the particulars of such apportionment shall be specified in the award, and as between such persons the award shall be conclusive evidence of the correctness of the apportionment

30 When the amount of compensation has been settled under section 12, if any dispute arises as to the apportionment of the same or any part thereof, or as to the persons to whom the same or any part thereof is payable, the Collector may refer such dispute to the decision of the Court

PAYMENT.

31 (1) On making an award under section 12 the Collector shall tender payment of the compensation awarded by him to the persons interested entitled thereto according to the award, and shall pay it to them unless prevented by some one or more of the contingencies mentioned in sub-section (2)

(2) If they do not consent to receive it, or if there is no person competent to alienate the land, or if there is any dispute as to the title to receive the compensation or as to the apportionment of it, the Collector shall deposit the amount of the compensation in the Court to which a reference under section 18 would be submitted.

Provided, first, that any person admitted to be interested may receive such payment under protest as to the sufficiency of the amount

Provided, secondly, that no person who has received the amount otherwise than under protest shall be entitled to make any application under section 18

Provided, thirdly, that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of any person, who may receive the whole or any part of any compensation awarded under this Act, to pay the same to the person lawfully entitled thereto

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the Collector may, with the sanction of the [Central Government,]* instead of awarding a money compensation in respect of any land, make any arrangement with a person having a limited interest in such land, either by the grant of other lands in exchange, or by the remission of land revenue on the same or on other lands held under the same title, or in such other way as may be equitable having regard to the interests of the parties concerned

(4) Nothing in sub-section (3) shall be construed to interfere with or limit the power of the Collector to enter into any arrangement with any person interested in the land and competent to contract in respect thereof

32 (1) If any money is deposited in Court under section 31, sub-section (2), and it appears that the land in respect of which the same was awarded belonged to any person who had no power to alienate the same, the Court shall order the money to be invested—

Investment of money deposited in respect of lands belonging to persons incompetent to alienate

(a) in the purchase of other lands to be held under the like title and conditions of ownership as the land in respect of which such money was deposited is held, or,

(b) if such purchase cannot be effected forthwith, then in such Government or other approved securities as it thinks fit, and shall direct the payment of the interest or other proceeds arising from such investment to the person or persons who would for the time being have been entitled to the possession of the said land and such moneys shall remain so deposited and invested until the same are applied—

(i) in the purchase of such other lands as aforesaid, or

(ii) in payment to any person or persons becoming absolutely entitled thereto

(2) In all cases of moneys deposited to which this section applies, the Court shall order the cost of the following matters including therein all reasonable charges and expenses incident thereto, to be paid by the Collector, namely —

(a) the costs of such investments as aforesaid,

(b) the costs of the orders for the payment of the interest or other proceeds of the securities in which such moneys are for the time being invested, and for the payment out of Court of the principal of such moneys and the costs of all proceedings relating thereto, except such as may be occasioned by litigation between adverse claimants

33 If any money is deposited in Court under this Act for any cause other than that mentioned in section 32, the Court may, on the application of any party interested or claiming an interest in such money, order the same to be invested in such Government or other approved securities as it thinks fit, and may direct the interest or other proceeds of any such investment to be accumulated and paid in such manner as will, in its opinion, give the parties interested therein the same benefit therefrom as they might have had from the land in respect of which such money was deposited or as near thereto as may be

Investment of money deposited in other cases

34 When the amount of any compensation awarded under this Act is not paid or deposited within fifteen days of making the award, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded with interest thereon at
